HELPFUL HINTS ON HAIR HEALTH.

Scalp and Hair Troubles Generally Caused by Carelessness.

Dandruff is a contagious disease caused by a microbe which also produces baldness. Never use a comb or brush belonging to some one else. No matter how clean the owner may be, these articles may be infected with microbes, which will infect your scalp. It is far easier to catch hair microbes than it is to get rid of them, and a single stroke of an infected comb or brush may well lead to baldness. Never try on anybody else's hat. Many a hat band is a resting place for microbes.

If you happen to be troubled with dandruff, itching scalp, falling hair or baldness, we have a remedy which we believe will completely relieve these troubles. We are so sure of this that we offer it to you with the understanding that it will cost you nothing for the trial if it does not produce the results we claim. This remedy is called Rexall "93" Hair Tonic. We honestly believe it to be the most scientific remedy for scalp and hair troubles, and we know of nothing else that equals it for effectiveness because of the results it has produced in thousands of cases.

Rexall "93" Hair Tonic is devised to banish dandruff, restore natural color when its loss has been brought about by disease, and make the hair naturally silky soft and glossy. It does this because it stimulates the hair follicles, destroys the germ matter, and brings about a free, healthy circulation of blood, which nourishes the hair roots, causing them to tighten and grow new hair. We want everybody who has any trouble with hair or scalp to know that we think that Rexall "93" Hair Tonic is the best hair tonic and restorative in existence, and no one should scoff at or doubt this statement until they have put our claims to a fair test, with the understanding that they pay us nothing for the remedy if it does not give full and complete satisfaction in every particular. Two sizes, 50 cents and $1.00. Remember, you can obtain Rexall Remedies in McCook only at our store—The Rexall Store. L. W. McConnell.

The Great Western Manure Spreader

Farmers who have dressed their winter wheat with manure advise us that it means an increase of from 5 to 10 bushels per acre, and equally good results are realized from top dressing alfalfa and other crops.

Now is the time to prepare to do this, by giving us your order for a "Great Western" or "Success" manure spreader.

Come in and let us give you prices and terms on the different sizes of spreaders and explain how the spreader pays for itself. We want to help you

Increase your yield by selling you the best spreader, supply you with a tool that will give Satisfactory and long years of service.

HE GOT THROUGH THE GATE

Resourceful Chicagoan Tampered With the Truth, but Made His Point, Just the Same.

"When all is said and done Chicago people can beat the world in resourcefulness," said an envious New Yorker. "An exile from that city wished to see his wife off on an eastern train that positively refuses admittance to the platform without a ticket. He accompanied his wife to the gate.

"Just wait around on the platform a few seconds," he said, "and I'll come through and help you arrange your luggage."

"You can't go through," said a guileless New York friend. "If you have anything to say you'd better say it now."

"That's all right," said the Chicago man. "I'll be there."

"Two minutes later he gashed up brandishing a baby's milk bottle in the face of the astonished gatekeeper.

"For heaven's sake, let me through," he said. "I put this in my pocket at the last minute and my wife has gone off and forgotten it. The baby will starve to death if she doesn't get it."

"The guileless New Yorker, who lacked sufficient wit to see his own wife and three small children off, gasped in sheer envy, while the childless Chicago man, using a milk bottle as a harmless weapon, fought his way through to the platform."

FOUND STEAM PIPE USEFUL

One Man Discovered That Its Original Purpose Was by No Means As It Was Good For.

"There are some of the conveniences of the modern household," said a man who has nearly all the comforts of home, "that may be put to uses for which they never were intended, in several months of the year, at any rate. There is in my dining room a nicely gilded steam pipe that runs from floor to ceiling, and it is hot to the touch. Heat has many uses, and the heat that exudes from that steam pipe has served me in unexpected ways. I once tried to open an ink bottle the cork of which, made of glass, was so tightly wedged in that no amount of force I could apply served to dislodge it. I held the bottle to that steam pipe for a few minutes, and the problem of physics working finely, that cork came out in a jiffy. But, better than that, one afternoon while reading a newspaper I experienced a sudden attack of lumbago, and, as all the folk were out and I had no other means at hand, I removed my coat and waistcoat and sidled up to that steam pipe and glued my back to the hot cylinder, and, the pain disappearing in a short while, I found the thing had all the beneficent virtues of a hot water bag."

Cure for Discontent.

Women are taught very wrongly about love. They are allowed to read love stories at a tender age and to form a totally false notion of love. They see themselves as charmers at a very early age. They begin trying to captivate, to charm, to ensnare the opposite sex before they are out of the nursery. They live and die—many, many of them—without ever in the least understanding the truth about love, or, in fact, about anything else.

Women are very envious by nature. There seems to be plenty of justification in this one way you look at it. Why should one woman have luxury, ease, travel, society and fine clothes, and another woman have only toil and loneliness and privation? This is a useless question. We cannot explain the inequalities of life, but there is an answer to the woman who asks this question. It is this: The more barren the field the greater the privilege of creation. You have a chance to see what you can find by way of joy and beauty; you have an opportunity to create your own atmosphere, and it can be a very lovely one if you learn the secret of making it so.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

Easy Way to Wash Windows.

"I have washed every window in my house myself, and all in one forenoon," said a young woman who is noted for knowing the easiest and quickest ways to do housework to a writer for the New York Sun. "And what's more, I did not use a drop of water. No slopping around with wet rags for me." "How do you manage it?" asked the friend. "Just this way," was the reply. "I buy a pint of denatured alcohol which will wash two dozen windows. Then I simply put a little on a cloth and rub the window briskly a moment. The dirt comes off in a twinkling and the windows are left clean and bright. It takes just one-half the time and is only one-quarter the work of the old soap and water way."

Too Tall to Be a Soldier.

Nothing could illustrate better the changes in the art of war wrought by the evolution of weapons than the melancholy news that "Artilleryman Arceau of the Fourth Regiment at Rochelle has been discharged on account of his height."

In the old days Arceau's prodigious stature would have scared the enemy, and poets would have chanted the glories of the age which could produce such redoubtable champions. Now, however, smokeless powder has changed all that. Invisibility is the first consideration on the field of battle nowadays, and an artilleryman of six feet nine might cause the discovery and massacre of a whole regiment.—Paris Figaro.

HOME OF JOHN PAUL JONES

House at Fredericksburg, Va., Recently Marked by a Tablet Erected by the D. A. R.

Fredericksburg, Va.—The only home that John Paul Jones had in America, which still stands in Fredericksburg, has recently been marked by a tablet erected by the Betty Washington Lewis chapter, D. A. R.

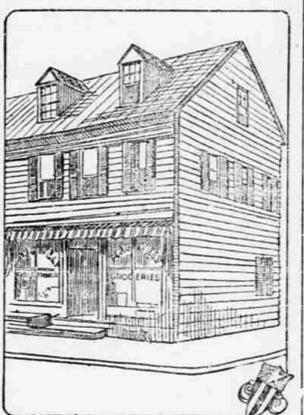

Jones was appointed a lieutenant in the continental navy while still a resident of Virginia. The famous American naval hero left here in 1775 when he received his appointment.

Judge John T. Goolrick and Mrs. Goolrick have probably done more than anybody else to keep the history of John Paul Jones.

Mrs. John T. Goolrick was recently presented with a gold maize cross in recognition of her patriotic services in securing the bronze tablet on the Jones house. Judge Goolrick has devoted himself for years to getting out a historical narrative of John Paul Jones and has proved beyond all doubt that John Paul Jones was a citizen of Virginia and a resident of Fredericksburg during the entire period of his abode in this country.

Judge Goolrick is the authority for the statement that William Paul, the only brother of the great commander, kept a store and a tailor shop in the Fredericksburg house; that John Paul first came here in 1769, remaining about four years, when he returned to Scotland. He also states that John Paul came here again in 1775 and that he was living in this house when he was appointed a lieutenant in the continental navy and that he added Jones to his name for the first time when he entered the navy.

YOUTHS MET TERRIBLE FATES

Rochester Boys Who Threw Nitroglycerine Cartridges Into a Bonfire.

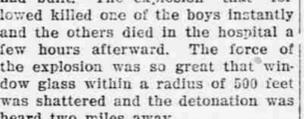

Rochester, N. Y.—The lives of three boys were blotted out in Rochester as the result of the foolhardy act of throwing nitroglycerine blasting cartridges into a bonfire which the lads had built. The explosion that followed killed one of the boys instantly and the others died in the hospital a few hours afterward. The force of the explosion was so great that window glass within a radius of 500 feet was shattered and the detonation was heard two miles away.

The three boys were John McGuire, fourteen years old; Archie Clark, thirteen, and William Perry, eight. All of the boys were related, two sisters of the McGuire lad being the mothers of his two companions. The boys were in the habit of gathering junk and in their expeditions came upon the cartridges. It is estimated that 400 of the cartridges were thrown into the bonfire by the boys. This accounts for the terrific force of the explosion. The bodies of the Clark and McGuire boys were hurled 50 feet away, landing on the ground. The body of the Perry lad was dismembered. The torso was carried over a high tree and landed in the branches of an apple tree, while the head was found on the roof of a back kitchen 100 feet in an opposite direction. Other parts of the body were scattered in different directions. The eyes of the Clark and McGuire boys were blown out and their bodies were mutilated frightfully. They died without regaining consciousness.

CRADLE OF 'YANKEE DOODLE'

Old Fort Cralo at Rensselaer, New York, Where the Famous Song Was Composed.

Rensselaer, N. Y.—Old Fort Cralo, at this place, is better known as the "Yankee Doodle House." It is situated on the east bank of the Hudson river, and was erected in 1772. It was in this building that the song, "Yankee Doodle," was composed. In the hall of this building an arrow-head is imbedded in the staircase. It is said to have been fired by an Indian when this building was used as a fort.
