Boys' Acre Corn Contest.

The Nebraska State Board of Agriculture offer to the Nebraska boy under eighteen years of age, growing the largest yield of corn from one acre of Nebraska land during the year 1912, $25.00 the second $20; third $15; fourth $10; fifth to eighth $5 each; ninth to twelfth $4 each; and thirteenth to sixteenth $3 each; and to the boy growing the largest yield on an acre of land west of the east line of Boyd, Wheeler, Holt, Grady, Howard, Hall, Adams and Webster counties, $25 second $15; third and fourth $5 each; fifth and sixth $4 each; seventh to tenth $3 each; and twelfth to sixteenth $2 each.

The Lincoln Weekly Star duplicates the above awards, and an entry in one is good for an entry to both offerings.

The entire labor of preparing the ground, planting, cultivating and harvesting this acre of corn to be performed by the contestants who enter contest by recording his name in the office of W. R. Mellor, Secretary, Lincoln, not later than May 20, 1912.

Said acre to be measured, husked and weighed in the presence of two disinterested free-holders, residents of said county in which the acre of corn is located. Said committee to forward affidavit as to weight and requirements of specifications in this contest to the secretary of State Board of Agriculture, not later than December 1, 1912.

The contestant shall file with the secretary a full and detailed account of his method of performing the work, fertilizers used, if any, whether bottom, hill or table land and character or kind of soil on which the crop was grown; with an accurate account of the cost of production, rent of ground, cost of plowing, harrowing, disking, planting, cultivation, husking and every feature of expense in labor, seed, fertilizer, etc., based on the actual time that entered into the production of this acre of corn.

If requested, prize winners must forward a sample of ten ears of corn grown to W. R. Mellor, Secretary, Lincoln, Neb.

Note—Practically all corn in this state is raised in altitudes varying from 1000 to 2400 feet above sea level, therefore the division made through the state is as nearly as possible along the 1700 foot altitude line. In the contests carried on for several years past, only two premiums have gone west of this line.

Pitched McKeighan.

A man by the name of McKeighan of Indianola, who was delivering some horses to Ed McKilip, met with quite an accident out near Len Miller's Saturday night. His horse pitched him into a fence, rendering him unconscious. After remaining in a dazed condition for most of the night he walked into town. Not being able to locate a doctor, he stopped at Butts' restaurant and after a square meal decided he could go his way rejoicing without medical aid.—Cambridge Clarion.

Studebaker Harness

Strong horses and a heavy load call for strong harness--Studebaker harness

No need to worry about Studebaker harness. In the first place the leather that goes into it is the finest that can be procured for the purpose. Then the Studebaker standard of workmanship is very high. Even when nothing is left to chance, every finished part is carefully inspected, inch by inch, and the slightest defect condemns it. A harness that passes inspection in the Studebaker factory can be depended upon anywhere to give good service. Every Studebaker harness has the name "Studebaker" stamped on the traces.
