—There are more way cars in pool than there have been at any time during the past five years.

—Harrison Russell, N. Redstrom and Ed Schaible are recently passed brakemen who will soon go on duty.
—Tuesday's No. 10, detoured by way of Oxford and Red Cloud to Hastings, arriving there at 5 o'clock next morning.
—On Tuesday every man on the board in the trainmaster's office was working with the exception of three who were disabled.
—Supt Flynn and Trainmaster Johnson came in from their vigil on the St. Francis branch, Wednesday noon on No. 13. All were well sunburned from exposure to the snow-reflected sunlight.
—Floods following the snow are now giving the company some inconvenience and delay. No. 13 was almost two hours late, Tuesday morning, the result of flood troubles between Red Cloud and Wymore. At Holbrook, same day, the water was up to the rails while at Arapahoe the water reached the bridge stringers of the bridge over the creek at that place.
—At 5 o'clock Tuesday morning men with a four-horse team pulling forty-two sacks of mail left Dresden on the Rock Island bound for Oberlin, eighteen miles away. At noon they had gone about half way. They then got four fresh and powerful horses from a farmer. The melting snow, however, made the roads so bad, that much of the way was made across prairie and pasture land, taking down fences when necessary. After 8 o'clock that evening they dragged into Oberlin, horses and men equally exhausted. They had taken 15 hours to go the eighteen miles. Many of the Oberlin people waited till late in the night to get delayed papers and letters. The coal and feed supply is about exhausted.
