COMPARES GIRLS AND BOYS

Though Woman Has More Roundabout Way, Her Conclusions Are Conceded to Be About Right.

In the American Magazine, Ida M. Tarbell, writing an interesting article on women, has the following to say about young women and young men:

"In the first two or three years after entering college, a young woman will almost invariably appear superior to the men of her age, more grown up, more interested, surer of herself, reader. Later you will find her on the whole less inclined to experiment with her gifts, to feel her wings, to make unexpected dashes into life. It begins to look as if he were the experimenter, she the conservative. And by the time she is a senior, look out! The chances are she will have less interest from now on with man's business and more with her own! In any case she will rarely develop as rapidly in his field from this point as he is doing.

"He becomes assertive, confident, dominating; the male taking a male's place. He discovers that his intellectual processes are more scientific than hers, therefore he concludes they are superior. He finds he can out-argue her, draw logical conclusions as she cannot. He can do anything with her but convince her, for she jumps the process, lands on her conclusion, and there she sits. Things are so because they are so. And the chances are she is right in spite of the irregular way she got there. Something superior to reason enters into her operations—an intuition of truth akin to inspiration. In early ages women unusually endowed with this quality of perception were honored as seers. Today they are recognized as counselors of prophetic wisdom. 'If I had taken my wife's advice!' How often one hears it."

BANK CLERKS POORLY PAID

Men Who Actually Handle Currency in Large Sums Receive Small Remuneration.

In talking with a bank clerk acquaintance not long ago the Office Window learned something of the inside of bank management. The bank where our informant had been employed for many years, it seems, had passed through two or three consolidations. With each consolidation our friend's position had been made less financially attractive, while the amount of work that was required in his particular department was necessarily much increased. In this bank any change in the salaries of any one of the hundred or more clerks must be approved and recommended to the bank management by the chief clerk, the tenure of whose office largely depends upon his ability to keep down bank operating expenses.

In the old days the president of this bank received $12,000 per annum. Today the president draws $35,000 a year and has two or three vice-presidents to aid him. These vice-presidents have annual salaries ranging between $6,000 and $7,000. As will be seen, the emoluments of the bank's officers have more than doubled with the increase in the banking business transacted by the institution, while the clerks have been obliged to meet the increased cost of living on salaries that are the same as or less than they were some years ago.

This case is perhaps fairly typical of modern banking methods. One clerk, with a wife and a yearly stipend of $750, not long ago had the misfortune to require an operation for appendicitis. The bill of the operating surgeon was for $150.

And yet banking positions are eagerly sought after.—New York Evening Mail.

SEED CORN TESTS MADE

Of Red Willow County Grown Corn With Marked Success.

A letter from William Hierskorn of Lebanon gives an interesting account of the result of a test made of corn raised by him in Red Willow county by the United States government.

Mr. Hierskorn sent the government laboratory at Washington, D. C., 900 kernels of his corn for the purpose of securing a test and the result was a GERMINATION per cent of 99.

Mr. E. Brown, the botanist in charge, in his letter to Mr. Hierskorn, states that the government had tested 1708 samples, this spring, from 17 different states, and this sample sent by Mr. Hierskorn was the highest per cent germination sent from any state, the tests made from the several states running from 90.3 per cent in Virginia out of 113 samples sent down to 56.8 per cent in 19 samples sent from North Dakota.

From all over Nebraska 100 samples had been sent to the laboratory and the average per cent of germination of these samples was 73.1, which was among the lowest averages among any of the states, only two states showing lower average and 14 states being larger than Nebraska.

The letter from Mr. Brown calls attention to the fact of the seriousness of the corn proposition all over America, and advises the germination test to be made of all seed corn. That single ear germination tests should be made in all cases where ear corn is to be used for seed. When it is necessary to use shelled corn of which single ear tests have not previously been made, the corn should be carefully mixed and a uniform sample tested for germination, and the rate of planting regulated on the basis of the germination tests so there will be a sufficient number of live kernels planted in each hill to give a full stand.

What Is New In Spring Attire.

Perhaps you have seen the smart hats that are being modelled in combinations of silk and straw. Has it occurred to you that whatever the price of them might be in the shops, it is a very simple matter to make one at a really trifling cost? Later in the season, similar hats will be made of linen or pique and they will look decidedly stylish and cool with cotton or linen suits or tailored dresses.

One of the favorite dress models for linen or the many neat and attractive cotton suitings, is the one fashioned of bedford cord in the illustration, and trimmed with braiding. It has a side-closing waist, with the fashionable deep panel collar. The sleeves are the popular set-in kind in full length, which may be cut off for elbow length. The skirt has the advantage of being six-gored, which is so well liked by all. It may be designed with or without the panel at the back and front.

A fetching frock for a garden party or an informal evening affair would be second figure in the illustration, if it were designed of soft, silky, flowered crepe de chine or of the lustrous mousseline de soie. The quaint, pleasing collar, which extends gracefully over the shoulders into a position at the back, may be fashioned of the dainty shadow lace. Thus bringing into notice two most note-worthy and very stylish features of the day, the lace and the postilion.

Our hobby is good groceries—"The Best of Everything." A trial order will convince you. D. MAGNER, Phone 14.
