

NEBRASKA STATE NOTES.

Blair has an epidemic of scarlet fever.

The work of track laying on the Omaha & Southwestern electric line will begin April 1st.

Mrs. J. E. Robbins of Nebraska City by mistake poured ammonia in her ear in place of some medicine that she was using. The ear is in a serious condition and she will lose her hearing.

Wm. Jones of Papillion has been awarded $375 damages in a suit against the Missouri Pacific Railway Co. A railroad grade caused the plaintiffs land to be overflowed and his crops were ruined.

The Murphy lunch counter, near the depot at Table Rock was entered by a sneak thief about noon on Friday, the person in charge having stepped out for a few moments. The till was robbed of about $8.

John Harrigan of Fremont had a narrow escape from death. He was hunting on the Platte river, when he slipped through the ice and went under. His gun caught across the hole and after twenty minutes of labor he finally extricated himself.

The bank at Firth, Nebraska was entered by burglars Friday morning, who succeeded in wrecking the building and vault, but failed to force the safe open. The report of the explosion alarmed the citizens of the town. Fearing they would be captured the robbers fled in great haste without securing any booty.

Carl Strecht a 4-year-old son of Henry Strecht in the South ward of Edgar was run over by Mr. Strawsers corn sheller about noon Saturday. His head was so badly crushed that he died in a few minutes. The sheller was passing up the street and small boys were climbing on to ride. Little Carl lost his hold and fell under the wheels.

A Great Victory.

The republican party in Gage county has been going through about the same experience as has the party in this county. On last Saturday primaries were held there and the result was a crushing defeat for the bolters and renegades and the triumph of true republicanism. Commenting on this victory the Beatrice Express says:

The result of the republican primaries is an excellent example of what the people can do when they become thoroughly aroused to the existing conditions and begin to realize their meaning. "You can't fool all the people all the time." While we boast of our free American institution and the fact that every man is a sovereign, yet the fact is that we are usually so engrossed with our personal matters that we pay but little attention to public matters. The result is that matters of the most vital importance are allowed to go by default or fall into the hands of men more interested in their personal schemes than in the prosperity of the city or county. Nevertheless, the people will stand about so much and no more. When the limit is reached the bonds are broken and the men who have allowed themselves to be imposed upon and deceived rise in their wrath and make things right.

This is what happened in Gage county last Saturday. The republicans of the county have been so occupied in gathering in their share of the republican prosperity that they have paid but little attention to party business. A ring of self-seeking, scheming politicians, most of whom were democrats, laid their plans to capture the republican party and hold it as a captive. By devious ways and crooked paths they had led many of the voters of the county away from the straight and narrow road to patriotic republicanism. They had become so strong as to become defiant, but the long suffering voters at last became aroused to the situation and you know the result. It must not stop at this. The republican party must be controlled by the rank and file of the republican voters. Men who have professed the democratic faith, are welcome in the republican ranks, if they become converted, but the people of Gage county are now and ever will be opposed to any attempt of democratic politicians to control the old republican party. That is what the landslide of Saturday means.

Our Weekly Market Letter.

Kansas City Mo, Monday, Mar. 21st, 1904.—Cattle receipts here last week were 35,449, about 6,000 more than previous week, and 4,000 more than same week last year. All the markets had liberal supplies of cattle, and lower prices were the rule after Tuesday, market being steady first two days of the week. $5.35 was reached Tuesday for beef steers, which have heretofore stuck at the $5.22 mark. Best grades of beef steers lost 10 cents, and others were 25 cents lower. Cows and butcher stuff showed some weakness about Wednesday, but closed the week steady with the close of previous week. Good choice cows sold from $3.40 to $3.85 for car-load lots, and choice heifers brought up to $4.25. Stockers and feeders were 25 cents lower, but that still left them at a high figure, ranging from $3.25 to $4.25 with scattering sales up to $4.50. The decline on beef steers, when nearly everyone has been expecting an advance, scared off many buyers of fleshy feeders. The receipts today are 6,000 head but a liberal run at Chicago and 10 cents lower prices there makes the market slow here. Beef steers are plentiful and prices barely steady with close of last week. Cows and butcher stuff are scarce and steady. Stockers and feeders are steady as the spring like weather always benefits this trade at this season.

Hog receipts at Kansas City last week were 34,091, about 6,000 more than previous week, but 2,000 less than same week last year. After Tuesday the prices were lower each day, the week closed with a net loss of 20 cents. Market is lower again to-day and the best price is $5.15. with bulk of sales at $4.96 to $5.10. Light hogs sell relatively better than they did two weeks ago. Depression in provision market and lack of support is given as a reason for continued lower prices for hogs.

Sheep receipts last week were 23,734, practically the same as previous week; also same as corresponding week last year. Lambs made up large majority of receipts, and were mostly common quality. Best lambs and yearlings sold steady, but the common lambs were 15 to 25 cents lower. Ewes and wethers gained 10 to 15 cents during the week, owing to scarcity. Run today is 7,000 and the market is strong on everything except medium to common lambs which are very steady.

The largest bunch of fed cattle sold here today was marketed by J. S. Sneathen of Humboldt, Neb., consisting of four carloads of shortfed steers that brought $4.40.
