REPUBLICAN TICKET.

For Members of the Legislature.
R. E. GRINSTEAD, Salem
GEORGE SMITH, Dawson
W. H. HOGREFE, Stella

For County Attorney.
W. H. MORROW, Shubert

The republican county ticket is all right.

From all reports republicanism has also experienced a new birth in Gage county.

Some men go about looking for trouble with one eye, while with the other they are looking for a high tree to climb in case they find the trouble.

It only remains for the republicans of Pawnee county to endorse Judge Tucker. His name will go on the ballot as the republican candidate for float senator and his election is assured. He is the man for the place and the place is waiting for the man.

By the manly stand he took in the senatorial contest, J. R. Cain, jr., has made a host of friends. What the party needs is more of this kind of men; men who are unselfish and who can make a self-sacrifice for the good of the party. The reward that is due such a man will not be long withheld.

The last issue of the Journal gave to the republican party the following belated "fatherly" advice: "It is the duty of every party man to go to a caucus. If the honest men of a party stay at home and let the dollar fellows run the caucus they must not kick when bad men are nominated." From this we can only infer that the Journal considers that the honest men stayed away from the caucuses and the result was the nomination of bad men.

Under the somewhat ambiguous heading, "Ingenuity of a Journal Inside Man," the Journal publishes last week thirty-six inches of plate as original matter. These plates were bought of the American Press Association of Omaha and cost probably twenty five cents a column. Plate matter is all right in its place but the ethics of the profession demand that it be treated as such. By the way there were fifteen and a half columns of plate in last week's Journal, to say nothing of patent medicine advertising.

OUR TICKET.

Now that the county convention is over the republicans have just reason to rejoice in the results that it brought about. Its enthusiasm, its unity of purpose and its harmony are indeed gratifying. But there is another source of gratification, and that is the excellence of the ticket selected. No matter how united a party may be, or how enthusiastic and harmonious, if it nominates weak or incompetent men, it has at the outset materially lessened its chances for success. This mistake the republicans of Richardson county have carefully avoided. Consider the legislative ticket.

W. H. Hogrefe is a man eminently qualified to represent Richardson county in the legislature. He comes before the people as a candidate for re-election, and his record in the last legislature is one that is satisfactory to the people of this county regardless of party. He has ability, good judgment and he has experience. It has been amply proven that the people of this county made no mistake when they first sent Mr. Hogrefe to the legislature and as a logical consequence they can make no mistake when they send him again.

George Smith of Grant precinct was another happy choice on the part of the convention. Mr. Smith is an old resident of this county and is thoroughly conversant with its interests and its needs. He is a man of conservative judgment and possesses the stamina and moral courage to enable him to take an aggressive and forcible part in the deliberations of the legislature. Mr. Smith is a man of clean personal character and in every way qualified for the office.

R. E. Grinstead is another good man for representative. Mr. Grinstead is a good citizen. He has lived in this county for many years and is widely known as an honorable and upright man. He is also known to be a man who can think for himself, and one who has the courage of his convictions. Mr. Grinstead has made a special study of the drainage question as applied to Richardson county lowlands, and his knowledge of the situation, and his eagerness to remedy existing evils, will make it possible for him to be of great service to his constituents.

Our candidate for county attorney was also wisely chosen. W. H. Morrow is not only a competent attorney, but he is a clean, reputable man. We believe that he will prove perfectly capable of prosecuting in the name of the people. We believe that he was sincere when he told the convention that if elected, he would not use the power of his office, to shield a guilty friend or to persecute an innocent foe. He will be elected on his merits both as an attorney and as a man.

Viewed from every stand point the ticket is a good one and one that all republicans can be proud to support.

IN REPLY.

The Journal having misquoted my recent remarks to the Richardson county teachers association. I wish to state that I did not say that I had personally investigated any subscription list. What I did say was that from my knowledge of existing conditions, and to the best of my belief, no paper published in Richardson county circulates more than a thousand copies within the county. I was very particular to state that there are papers having a total circulation of more than one thousand, and that I referred only to circulation within the county. I did not say that I had personally counted the names on any list. ALLAN D. MAY.

I hereby certify that I heard the remarks of Mr. May and the above statement is correct as I remember it.

COUGHED ALL NIGHT.

But Quickly Cured by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

"A few mornings ago Mr. J. G. Smitherman, a good citizen of this place came to the store for a cough medicine," says Dr. C. N. Parnell of Maplesville, Ala. "He was so hoarse that he could hardly talk and said he had coughed all the night before. I sold him a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and told him that if it did not relieve him he might bring the bottle back and get his money. I saw him the next morning carrying the bottle to the store where he works, and he told me it did him more good than any medicine he ever used." For sale by A. G. Wanner. 9-4
