The fraternal union met Monday evening and talked over further plans for the picnic.

A. P. Thompson, Dale Wagner and Guy T. Thompson of Morrill were Falls City visitors Saturday.

W. D. Easley came up from Kansas City, Monday to be present at the Odd Fellows celebration.

Earl Frakes is assisting Wm. McPherson in providing for the comfort of the guests at the City hotel.

There are lots of odd fellows but we never realized until Tuesday that there are so many men who belonged to the Independent Order of Odd Fellows.

After next Monday it will be Mayor Barton, if you please. The mayor-elect has developed the proper amount of dignity and will wear it all on Monday evening.

S. H. Harvey is having the street sprinkler fitted up with a new and improved sprinkling device. This device insures an even distribution of water and prevents wetting the crossings.

The fraternal union has called its next meeting at the G. A. R. hall on Monday, May 2, 1904 at 8:00 p. m. It is desired that all representatives come out and assist us in the work.—J.H. Kleber Secretary.

Arrangements will undoubtedly be made for a series of band concerts this summer. The people have learned to look forward each week to band concert night and there is general desire for another series this summer.

Whenever occasion demands special window displays, Falls city merchants can be counted upon to meet the emergency. We have some real artists in that line, a fact that is attested by the excellence of the displays of last Tuesday.

About Good Roads.

People living along the line between Ohio and Falls City precincts have been doing some great work in the matter of securing better roads. The men who have done this work are residents of Ohio precinct, when they reached the line they kept on with the good work, grading into Falls City precinct as far as the Sam Lichty place northwest of town. They have not only put in good shape their own road but a long stretch of road in a neighboring precinct. It would be a fine thing if this road could be properly graded and put in fine condition clear to the city limits of Falls City. The actual work would probably cost $25 and the residents of Falls City precinct could well afford to contribute this amount in order to have the good work continued. Good road building is a matter of reciprocity. Precinct lines must be obliterated and each precinct stand ready to take up the work where a neighbor has left off.

Died.

D. Shellenberger died at his home a half mile west of Stella. He came to this vicinity twenty-one years ago and settled on his farm on the hill west and overlooking Stella, and during all that time had been a sufferer from an asthmatic and bronchial trouble. He leaves a wife and seven children to mourn his loss. All are living at or near the home place, with the exception of Maurice, who is post master at Locoridge, Okla.

James Hill died at his residence three miles west of Stella. Mr. Hill was nearly 72 years of age, and nineteen months ago was up a tree gathering apples when a limb broke letting him fall to the ground when he suffered an injury to the spine which left him partially paralyzed and from which attending physicians said he could live but a short time. However, his rugged constitution was such that he lived a helpless cripple during the last year and a half. He leaves a wife and several children.

The Indians Won.

The base ball game between the Falls City team and the Nebraska Indians was played under adverse circumstances. The heavy rain had put the diamond in bad shape and the continued threatening weather had its bad effect on the size of the crowd. The game was as good as could have been expected under the circumstances. The Indians were in the best of training, while the home boys have not yet worked up to their best condition. The game resulted in a score of 13 to 0 in favor of the Indians.
