ATHLETICS.

The part athletic endeavor plays in modern education, is becoming more and more apparent. It is a universally acknowledged fact that the most liberal education contemplates the training of the mind and the body at the same time and at a ratio that will result in the highest development of both.

The result of the simultaneous training of the brain and brawn asserts itself in the best colleges and high schools in the land. The spectacle of a college-bred young man with a finely trained and strong mind and frail physique, is rapidly passing and it is indeed well that it is so. A strong physique is the bulwark of strong mentality, for in these strenuous times the man who lacks in physical vigor and in powers of endurance, is seriously handicapped, no matter how complete his education or how great his technical ability. It takes a strong man to meet the exigencies of modern business and professional life.

The field day meet at the high school on last Saturday showed what modern physical training is doing for the young men and the young women of our country schools. The successful contestant in an athletic event is as proud of his prowess as he is when he passes the final examination in the school room. It is an honest and righteous pride, for it testifies to his physical strength, something not to be valued lightly in this day and age.

We should judge from recent press reports that Mr. Cannon is a big gun among the Mormons.

Judge Parker would probably sleep better and enjoy a heartier appetite if Gorman were not so solid with the solid south.

The question of better wages for teachers is being vigorously discussed. This discussion may lead to the organization of a teachers' union and then how would you like to be on the school board?

It is to be presumed that Hearst has a meter attached to the spigot on his barrel and the meter will be read and the bills rendered latter.

Governor Mickey has issued his first pardon. In view of the governors past policy it is evident that the fortunate convict made a good showing.

We have known persons who were not able to get beyond the eighth grade of the public schools, who in after years tried to talk like a graduates of Harvard.

Our grandparents used to plant dandelion seed for "greens." The war that is now being waged on dandelion would indicate that appetite is not hereditary.

In the excitement caused by the war in the east and the Smoot investigation and the St. Louis exposition, the world seems to have lost sight of John Alexander Dowie.

At the African Methodist conference a bishop prayed that President Roosevelt may be re-elected. This is a good deal like praying that the sun may rise tomorrow morning.

The socialist party has nominated Eugene V. Debs for president. Mr. Debs can at least view the situation calmly. He will be neither greatly disappointed nor greatly elated over the result.

You do not hear of any democrats clamoring for places on the county ticket. The reason is obvious. The republicans have already held their convention and nominated Tucker, Morrow, Hogrefe, Smith and Grinstead. Nuf sed

When you hear a democrat howling about the evils of the new revenue law, remember that it is a nature of a democrat to holler before he is hurt. Most of them would rejoice to see the new revenue law prove a flat failure and work great hardships on the people because it might provide them with an issue.

The democrats of the District of Columbia will send an uninstructed delegation to the St. Louis convention. This is but courteous neutrality, for if they instructed for one candidate and another secured the nomination and were elected, he would not feel at home when he came to dwell among them at Washington.

The Russians believe that the Lord is on the side that has the heaviest artillery and so they took their big field guns to the front. When forced to retreat, the guns were too heavy to be taken along and so they were left behind and fell into the hands of the Japs. Accordingly the Lord must now be on the side of the Japs.

A street carnival company, doubtless through a blunder on the part of the manager, held forth in Auburn last week. It was the first time that there was ever anything doing in the town and wonderful tales of the snake eater and the balloon ascension will be handed down by the Auburnites from generation to generation.

There is nothing a man will envy so quickly as a neighbors pretty lawn. He will soon find himself imitating it and in this case, imitation is commendable. There is plenty of opportunity to increase the number of pretty lawns in Falls City and no wise man passes up an opportunity of any kind.

The early announcement that Fourth of July celebrations are to be held at certain towns, calls once more to mind Bryan's famous prophecy. But before smiling we should remember that when he so prophesied he was only the very young boy orator of the Platte and that now he is the editor of the Commoner and knows better.

The members of the Nebraska

National Guard have been ordered to observe the regulations regarding target practice. Innocent bystanders will please take notice

As the state convention draws nearer it becomes more and more evident that if the republicans of Nebraska are given an opportunity to voice their sentiments on the senatorial question, they will all with one accord arise to their feet and shout the name of Elmer J. Burkett.

We fear that those who are seeking to reorganize the democracy will find it necessary to begin at the bottom and work up. After the issue is determined and the platform formulated, it will be high time to select a candidate whose ideas conform to the issue and the platform. The trouble just now seems to be that those who would reorganize the party are seeking to find a candidate with a view to making the platform and the issue conform to his idea—a course that is politically illogical.
