We are in receipt of a copy of The Daily Observer, published at Cameron, Mo., and find therein an announcement of the marriage of Lou E. Schaeffer to Lucile Olive Morehead of Columbia, Mo. Mr. Schaeffer is now foreman on the Observer, but formerly published the Reporter at Rulo. He is a fine young man and a good printer and we congratulate both he and his bride.

The country is full of movers and camping outfits may be seen on most any road. An outfit camped north of town, near Henry Meyer's place the other night and raised so much disturbance that somebody telephoned for the sheriff. When the officer arrived however, everything was quiet and no arrests were made.

Pool Grinstead, editor of the Wathena, Kan., Times, was in town Tuesday. Grinstead and Cy Leland have buried the hatchet and are now fast friends. Libel suits have been declared out of order and editorial life in Wathena is not as strenuous as it used to be.

Both the Nemaha and the Mud-dy were out of their banks again the first of the week. As some crops had been planted on the lowlands considerable damage resulted. The ponds and ditches were again stocked with fish and many fine specimens have been caught.

The new mill will soon be in operation. The mill itself has been finished for some time, but work on the power house has been delayed from various causes. This work is now in progress and will soon be completed.

Mrs. Robert Norton who has been visiting in this city returned to her home in Colorado Springs Tuesday. She was accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Barbara Custer who will spend the summer at that place.

George Freyburghouse and family have removed from Los Angeles, Cal., to this city and occupy a cottage in the Crook & Towle addition.

Reba Eversole entertained the members of the H. S. M. club in a charming manner on last Saturday evening.

Our Market Letter.

Kansas City, Mo., Monday, June 6, 1904.—Smaller cattle receipts last week at all points helped to benefit the already good prices prevailing. The principal advance was made on Monday, but outside of Wednesday, the market each day was strong and some higher. As is usually the case, the high prices brought out good cattle, and in this way new tops were made nearly every day in one class or another. Beef steers sold at $6.05 Friday, and new records for the year were made during the week by heifers, at $5.35; heifers and steers mixed $5.50; Western fed steers at $5.60 and heavy cows at $4.60. Feeders made a moderate gain, as a result of improving fat steer prices, but stockers and stock calves were dull and some lower. Good feeders bring $4.00 to $4.70, and best stockers sell at $4.00 to $4.60. Veal calves were unchanged, and still sell below $5.00 for the best. Only 4,000 cattle arrived here today, and buyers were out early, making an active market, with prices 5 to 15 cents above Friday's close. $6.10 was paid for beef steers today.

The hog market advanced 5 to 10 cents last week as a result of light receipts. Packers still cling to the idea that they will secure their droves at $4.25 before the close of June, but unless receipts increase materially, it does not look as though their plans would work out. It is admitted, however, that when grass hogs begin coming they will be sharply discriminated against. Market is a shade lower today, with a top of $4.67½; bulk of sales $4.50 to $4.60, and weights below 200 lbs. up to $4.50.

Most of the sheep now coming are Texas muttons, which kind lost 10 to 15 cents last week. Natives and Westerns were strong and sold a little higher than previously. Woolled Colorado lambs bring $7.25 for choice ones; spring lambs $6.50 to $7.00; clipped lambs up to $6.00 wethers and yearlings at $5.50 to $5.75 and some extra choice ewes brought $5.35 during the week. Market is strong, and somewhat higher.
