If this town keeps on growing, it won't be long until it can break into the "third city" class.

The weeds in some of the streets need attention. The pretty lawns will show us to much better advantage if the streets are kept clear of weeds.

The question as to what we shall do with our ex-presidents has never been satisfactorily answered. We suggest that they be compelled by law to take vice presidential nominations.

The exposition is being held at St. Louis to commemorate the Louisiana purchase. We sometimes doubt the propriety of commemorating the event when we remember that Colorado is a part of the Louisiana purchase.

Richardson county decomocrats will feel much relieved after the national convention. The county ticket can then be selected because the bosses will know from which branch of the party to draft the victims for the sacrifice.

The Missouri Pacific Railway company has placed signs at every crossing warning pedestrians that trespassers will be prosecuted. And they probably would not be, but should such trespassers be injured by the train the company would get behind its signs and in the eyes of the law would not be liable for damages.

When the Fourth of July comes wouldn't you like to be a boy and attend an old fashioned country picnic celebration where every thing was safe and sane?

Why all this talk about the location of the republican committee headquarters? Republican headquarters are to be found in every city and village and in every cornfield in Nebraska this year.

The Sunday school convention brought to town this week many bright and enthusiastic young people who are engaged in a great and good work. The influence of the Sunday school is very great and the people are glad to have had this band of workers meet here.

There are men who would not be capable of properly assessing a vacant lot on the river front in Rulo who have a great deal to say about the manner of assessing railroads. Just by way of diversion, we would like to see the valuation they would place on the Burlington property in Nebraska.

Some men in Falls City should have their ears examined by a competent specialist. It is evident that they are hard of hearing. They stand around on the streets every day and complain about hard times and no work and all the time Kansas is crying for harvest hands. It is only a few miles from Falls City to the Kansas line.

We visited Auburn last week and with one of the residents fell to comparing the good points of our respective towns. We were getting the best of the argument when the Auburnite played his trump card by saying, "Oh, well, we may have no waterworks, no public library, no brewery, no big flour mill, no business college, or electric fan system, but our electric lights burn all night."

The people of this city and vicinity have plenty to look forward to during the remainder of this year. The Barnum & Bailey circus is coming; the Salem chautauqua will afford an outing for many; the fraternal picnic will be the biggest event of its kind to be held in south-east Nebraska this summer; after all these will come the big political rallies with torchlight processions and spread eagle oratory.

The railroads report that the freight business is on the increase and attribute the fact to good crop prospects. The railroads are pretty good barometers by which crop conditions are indicated. The average man reads flood reports and other discouraging things and imagines that he sees at least seven years of famine ahead. The railway people keep in touch with the situation all over the country and can come pretty near telling what is in store for the farmer as far as crops are concerned.

Rev. Dr. Gonsaulus the eminent Chicago divine, has lived a life of usefulness and won for himself honor and renown by his scholarly attainments and by his eloquence. But now he has spoiled it all by a lot of fool remarks about the Declaration of Independence. He says that the framers of that immortal document labored under intense mental excitement and overestimated the situation when they said that all men were created free and equal. If all men had been free and equal there had been no occasion for a Declaration of Independence, and there is no doubt in the mind of any rational American citizen that such an emergency did exist on July 4th, 1776. They knew what they were doing when they put the word "created" in the declaration. It appears to us as though the reverend gentleman's logic (or his theology) were a little at fault—but then sensationalism is seldom logical.

Sued by his Doctor.

"A doctor here has sued me for $15.50 which I claimed was excessive for a case of cholera morbus," says R. White of Coachella Cal. "At the trial he praised his medical skill and medicine. I asked him if it was not Chamberlains Colic Cholera and Diarrhaea remedy he used as I had good reason to believe it was, and he would not say under oath that it was not." No doctor could use a better remedy than this in a case cholera morbus, it never fails. Sold by A. G. Wanner.
