

M. McHoover of Salem attended the Hitchcock cattle sale held Saturday at the Chapman feed yards.

The Heart and Hand club met Friday evening with Maggie McMahan. The evening was socially spent in various amusements and light refreshments were served by the hostess.

Ed Roberts, who has been employed as foreman on the Falls City Journal for some time, resigned his position Saturday night to move out upon Wesley Miller's farm north of town. But before going he came in and ordered The Tribune sent to his address.

The Atchison Globe tells of a young man who asked an Atchison girl what evening he could call to which she replied "Why I will have nothing on tonight, you might call then." She is still wondering why he blushed and excused himself from calling.

Where are the charitable organizations this year? There are poor families in this town who would appreciate a little assistance about Thanksgiving. You will enjoy your holiday more if you add a little to the happiness of some unfortunate family. We know a little boy who looks forward to Thanksgiving with the keenest enjoyment; not because of vacation or turkey or anything pertaining to his personal welfare but because he is permitted to have three of the poorest little boys he can find take dinner with him. Is there a little boy or girl in your home. Give them a lesson in charity by pursuing this plan and see how happy it will make their day—and yours.

A Runaway accident.

Monday morning Ed King, a traveling man, made his advent into town in an automobile and pulled up to make a call on C. H. Norris. The Norris delivery team was hitched in front of the store and the auto frightened them and they broke their hitch strap and ran away, going south to Luzerne and then turned north; in front of the Bracken residence, they broke loose from the wagon and made for the barn. The tongue and some other parts of the wagon were broken to the extent of $8 or $10, which was the extent of the damage.—Table Rock Argus.

Thurston McCoy Brought Home Injured.

Thurston McCoy who was so seriously injured in St. Joseph last week was brought to his home in this city Sunday. Thurston was in the employ of messenger company and while riding his bicycle was struck by a trolley car and thrown against the curbing. He was unconscious for more than five hours during which time his condition was considered very serious. At this writing he is rapidly recovering, most of his suffering being caused by his dislocated knee.

To Vaccinate Farm Lands

"Have you had your farm vaccinated?" This will soon be a common question asked by Missouri farmers, says a country exchange. Of all the strange discoveries of these strange times the inoculation of a clover field would seem seem to be the strangest. A scientist connected with the United States department of agriculture has discovered a way of putting into the soil the nitrogen of the air. Wornout soils are soils which have lost their nitrogen. Ordinary fertilizing as one method of restoring it. But a certain class of plants, peas, beans, clover, alfalfa and the like—also restore nitrogen to the soil, as farmers have long known. A German scientist some time ago discovered that these plants took nitrogen directly from the air by means of bacteria which flourish upon their roots and which absorb nitrogen from the air and convert it into plant food. Dr. Moore, the scientist referred to, has discovered a way of cultivating these bacteria and increasing their appetite for nitrogen. The department of agriculture has begun a system of distributing these bacteria to farmers. They, in turn, soak the weed which they desire to plant with a solution which swarms with these bacteria. The process is applied only to plants of the class mentioned but its results are simply marvelous. And so it is "something more than a joke when farmers ask each other the question quoted above. It is a sign of modern scientific methods which are being applied to agriculture.—Kansas City Journal.

FROM SOUTH AFRICA.

New Way of Using Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

Mr. Arthur Chapman writing from Durban, Natal, South Africa, says: "As a proof that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is a cure suitable for old and young, I pen you the following: A neighbor of mine had a child just over two months old. It had a very bad cough and the parents did not know what to give it. I suggested that if they would get a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and put some upon the dummy teat the baby was sucking it would no doubt cure the child. This they did and brought about a quick relief and cured the baby." This remedy is for sale by A. G. Wanner.

Dr. Kerr was a Kansas City visitor the latter part of last week.

Ollie Fisher of St. Joseph is visiting with friends in this city.

COLDS THAT HANG ON

So frequently settle on the lungs and result in Pneumonia or Consumption. Do not take chances on a cold wearing away or take something that only half cures it, leaving the seeds of serious throat and lung trouble.
