A Genius.

There is a farmer living near Auburn who is certainly a genius. The railroad runs close to his farm, and knowing something of human nature, the man set a post close to the track and on it put a beer bottle, it furnished such an excellent target. The result is that the farmer hasn't had to buy any coal this winter and the prospects are that he will not have to visit the coal man so long as his bottle holds out.

Poultry Show.

The idea of a poultry show at Falls City next winter is a good one, and as a means to stimulate the production of more and better poultry it is well worth the support necessary to make it a success. The prices in the market of eggs and poultry of every kind loudly tell of lack of supply, also of good profits. As we have an abundance of feed, good shipping facilities, and hungry millions for a market let us have a poultry show, and give the public a chance to see the different breeds and learn of their merits. Now let the business men, and producers of poultry unite their efforts and make the show a success.—H. E. Lemmon.

Died.

James Safarik, father of Mrs. Frank Hynek of Humboldt died Saturday evening at the home of the latter in the south part of the city, the death being due largely to old age, the deceased being well along in the seventies. Mr. Safarik was a native of Bohemia, but had been in this country since early life. Funeral services were held Tuesday in charge of the local Romian society.

Albert Felderman, one of the well known farmers of Spiser precinct died at the age of 56 yrs from a stroke of paralysis. The deceased was a native of Switzerland and had been in this county over twenty years of the thirty which he had resided in this country.

Strange Death.

Funeral services were held Friday over the remains of James Herdlitchka, Jr the eight year old son of a farmer living a few miles north of Humboldt who died on Thursday, it is supposed as the result of swallowing a brass nail one day last summer. The case attracted considerable attention at the time, there being a wide difference of opinion as to whether or not the lad really swallowed the tack which he was holding in his mouth while attempting to open a bureau drawer. In the shock of the sudden opening of the drawer, the nail disappeared and the lad alleged he swallowed it. Close medical examination, however, even with the aid of the X-ray failed to reveal any trace of the nail and although the lad gradually failed in health nothing could be done for him. Finally about a month ago in a spell of coughing, the nail was expelled, it is supposed from the bronchial tube, in a badly rusted condition. The lungs seem to have been badly affected by the presence of the foreign substance and the lad continued to grow worse until death came.

Goes to Mexico.

Wilber Bullis, who resided in Humboldt during his boyhood days but who of recent years been doing railroad work, being in the employ of various roads, lately station agent for the Missouri Pacific at Alton, Kas., has been in Humboldt a day or two visiting his mother, Mrs. J. A. Murphy. He left Monday for Manzanillo, Mexico, where he will assume a clerical position under Colonel Smoot, the contractor who is putting in the Manzanillo harbor for the Mexican government, at a cost of about eight millions of dollars. The work will take about eight years and Mr. Bullis expects to remain during the entire period if every thing is satisfactory. His brother-in-law, Robert P. McKie, who is assisting Colonel Smoot, is also consul for this government at the Mexican port named.

L. C. NAUGER

Afraid of Strong Medicines.

Many people suffer for years from rheumatic pains, and prefer to do so rather than take the strong medicines usually given for rheumatism, not knowing that quick relief from pain may be had simply by applying Chamberlain's Pain Balm and without taking any medicine internally. Rev. Amos Parker of Magonolia, North Carolina, suffered for eight years with a lame hip, due to severe rheumatic pains. He has been permanently cured by the free application of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. For sale at Kerrs Drug Store.
