

Farmers Institute Held at Salem, Nebraska.

Salem, Feb. 13.—To Falls City Tribune.—The Salem Farmers institute met in the opera house here yesterday. Notwithstanding the fact that one of the worst blizzards of the winter prevails, both during the afternoon, and the evening session the attendance was good and the meeting was a success in every way. Mr. C. H. Hinman of the State experiment station in a very entertaining way discussed "The Dairy cow and her Management; The hand Separator; The Management of alfalfa to make a good stand and to retain the same. The superior value of alfalfa as a feed product over all other known to science as a balanced ration, for the Dairy cow and beef steer, and the pig and as a fertilizer of thin or worn out soil. In the discussion of this subject the fact was developed that alfalfa hay has more feeding value ton for ton than either wheat bran or shorts. For the different kinds of stock enumerated above; but for the horse timothy slightly mixed with clover, has more feeding value than alfalfa. The very interesting statement was made by Mr. Hinman that the soil and climate condition west of us were such that their alfalfa hay having more protein thereby had more feeding value but that our soils in Southeast Nebraska producing very much more of the hay per acre which more than compensated for the shortage of protein in the alfalfa line. The fact was also emphasized that the lands of southeast Nebraska have a general utility value in the production of corn not surpassed any where in the known world, considering their worth the fact that all the cereals and the other grasses grow equally well [here with other locations, makes an interesting problem for the investor who can still find lands in this southeast corner of Nebraska for less money than $100 per acre. Mr. Hinman and also Mr. Aperson who discussed the good road problem recommended the King method used in Missouri; both emphasized the importance of a good drainage system for the low lands in Southeast Nebraska.

Mr. Mohler of Falls City gave a very interesting talk on Horticulture.

Yours truly

R. E. Grinstead.

P. S.—There were liberal premiums given by our business men for seed corn, wheat, oats, butter, eggs, bread, cakes and apples.

Pneumonia and Consumption

Consumption Threatened

C. Unger, 211 Maple St., Champaign, Ill., writes: "I was troubled with a hacking cough for a year and I thought I had consumption. I tried a great many remedies and I was under the care of physicians for several months. I used one bottle of FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR. It cured me, and I have not been troubled since."

Cured Hemorrhages of the Lungs

A. M. Ake, Wood, Ind., writes: "Several years since my lungs were so badly affected that I had many hemorrhages. I took treatment with several physicians without any benefit. I then started to take FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR, and my lungs are now as sound as a bullet. I recommend it in advanced stages of lung trouble."
