ANTI-PASS LEGISLATION

It is with distinct dissatisfaction that we record the defeat of the anti-pass bills. The bills were introduced to prevent any public officers from accepting favors in the way of transportation from a railway company. There is no valid reason why such legislation should not be enacted. There is every reason why it should become a part of our law. Judges are constantly hearing cases and deciding disputed questions of property rights between individuals and railroad corporations. There is no community of interest between the judge and the individuals. There is a subconscious bond between the court and the corporation because of the fact that the judge has his pocket bulging with the railroad company's generosity. Every judge in the state is saved several hundred dollars annually because of these favors. Would such a court be justified in receiving from the individual litigant an equal favor in the way of money?

The state board of equalization and assessment passes upon corporate property. By what moral right can they accept favors from the corporations that come before them for judgment?

The railroads say that passes are distributed as a matter of courtesy. If so why has the railroad lobby been fighting all winter for the privilege of being courteous? If any reader should be elected Judge today, he would receive annual passes from every railroad in the state before he was forty eight hours older.

There will be no anti-pass legislation this winter.

The legislature has killed the bills.

The lobby made us "do so" is the excuse.

BROWN VS WHITE

After Japan has whipped Russia, and is in possession of the fruits of her great victory, what then?

Occupying Manchuria with an army of half a million veterans, who will dispute the possession of the territory with her?

If she has designs on other territory, who will contest the matter with her? Suppose she should covet the Philippines, what position is the United States in to defend its own? Japan is becoming arrogant. Her newspapers are now saying the contest is a fight between the brown man and the white. The Japanese officers are even now stirring up the avarice and cupidity of the Chinese people. These two races have more than six hundred million inhabitants. The Brown man has been a sleeping giant for centuries. He shows signs of breaking his rest. Should he awake what then? No two different races can rule together. One is always the master—one the servant. A struggle between the brown man and the white would be a mighty contest, and one that the civilized world cannot afford.

NO CIRCULARS.

A rumor that Mr. Dorrington's friends were to issue circulars attacking the citizens candidate, has been industriously circulated for the past week. The Tribune is authorized to emphatically deny the truth of such a story. Mr. Dorrington is too high minded a gentleman to descend to this character of politics. Neither has he a friend in this campaign who would countenance such disreputable methods.

It is the tree with the finest fruit that has stones thrown at it.

W. E. Dorrington for Mayor means, "A square deal—that's all".

The Journal advises the young men to keep out of politics. The Journal has been out for some time and knows.

The Journal having disposed of the beef trust, now finds time to devote to Jack Crook and C. F. Reavis.

We don't know who said it, but it was the truth when he said, "it doesn't make any difference where you stand, the question is which way are you going?"

Today is your day. Yesterday never was—tomorrow never will be. This is the only day of which you are sure,—what will you do with it?

The local campaign grows warm. Each passing day discloses Dorrington's strength increasing. It will not be unanimous, but for all practical purposes it might as well be.

Falls City lost one of its most representative and useful citizens in the death of E. E. Metz. He has been identified with its interest for many years, and his loss will bring a keen realization of how much he has contributed to the interest and welfare of our city.

Though it may be the expression of a depraved taste, we would still say, that if the Innes band were going to play in Falls City we would insist on the "Honey-suckle and the bee" as an encore. We have heard the band play this piece and it is worth while.

Young Men Young Women

Did it ever occur to you that to be successful means work, self denial and systematic saving. The level headed young man or woman commences early in life to lay aside a portion of his or her earnings every week

Slippery Stuff.

Money is Slippery Stuff and when you carry it about your person it goes so easily and often for things that are of no material benefit.

The Falls City State Bank

Urges all young people to deposit their earnings in the bank and check it out when needed—it will wean many a one from habits of extravagance. It gives you a new ambition and a desire to save up money. Commence right now—no matter how small the amount. This bank welcomes any account from a Dollar and upwards and has a plan by which you may receive a little interest.

If Interested Let Us Talk it Over With You.

If W. E. Dorrington ever wronged a fellow man, we have never heard of it. He has always been the friend of every man, woman and child in this city, not alone now when he is a candidate, but at all times and under all circumstances.

No collateral matter will be allowed to influence the result of the municipal election. The fact that the Martins are unfriendly to Crook, Reavis, VanDusen et al tends in no wise to prove Mr. Leyda the more competent man for mayor. The question is one looking to the welfare of the city. It is a contest between William E. Dorrington and W.S. Leyda. The Journal will not be able to confuse the issue by venting its spleen on other men, who do not view the situation as that paper does. We do not criticize the Martins for supporting the citizens ticket. If report is true, it was made up in the Journal office one Sunday. Every man should be loyal to his own. The voters of this city will support the man whose past indicates the brightest future. It is a business not a personal matter. This being true, there can be no question as to the result.

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

The great success of this preparation in the relief and cure of bowel complaints has brought it into almost universal use. It never fails, and when reduced with water and sweetened is pleasant to take. It is equally valuable for children and adults. For sale at Kerrs Drug Store.
