

At the Court House.

The board of supervisors convened Tuesday with all members present. Most of the time has been consumed in the allowance of bills and the consideration of tax matters. The bills for the last term of court together with the grand jury expense will make a large total. The bonds of road overseers for the various districts have been approved. The county clerk has had little time for anything outside of his duties in connection with the board.

Judge Wilhite has had only routine business with the exception of a complaint filed by Mr. James against Brice Hatten for running a joint in Nims City. Several bottles of suspicious color and size were found in the establishment by the sheriff. The preliminary was held Wednesday, at which the defendant waived examination and was bound over to the district court in the sum of $200, which bond he furnished.

Real estate taxes becoming delinquent in May has brought a large number of the farmers to the treasurer's office consequently Mr. Zook and his efficient force have been busily engaged in receiving money and delivering receipts.

Sheriff Hossack sold the Tony Kutler city property under foreclosure Wednesday. The South-eastern Nebraska Building and Loan association bid it in for $540.

Recorder Reiger and Fred Seabold have been busy with the filing of real estate transfers and mortgages.

District Clerk Chas. Loree is just recovering from his work during last weeks session of court and has been taking things a little easy.

The tiling in the court house running from Tanners office to the north door had become so badly loosened that the board has Mr. James Jellison at work tearing it up preparatory to replacing it on a new bed of cement.

Mormon Proselytes.

A quartette of nicely dressed and neat looking young men have been holding meetings on Stone street for the past week in the interest of the mormon church. To listen to their professions it would seem that the only way to reach the Kingdom is through the teachings of this church. A crusty old bachelor stated to one of them that if any man in this world deserved to go to Heaven, it was the man who had to contend with a dozen wives on earth. We have heard of no converts following the meetings.

Eugene A. Tucker Likes the West.

Hon. Eugene A. Tucker, the appointee for the Fifth judicial district, arrived here this morning from Phoenix, accompanied by his wife, and will remain until tomorrow, when he leaves for Nogales, where he opens court on Monday.

"I like Arizona very well," said he today to the reporter, who had been presented by Hon. George R. Davis, "and I have enjoyed myself immensely since my arrival in the territory. I came out over the Santa Fe stopped at Phoenix for several days, where I sat on the bench with Judge Kent on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, then came down to Maricopa where owing to a delayed train I made several friends and then proceeded to Yuma, where Judge Cambell kindly invited me to occupy the bench with him.

"While there I found two old friends the Dorringtons, John W. and George both of whom I have known for years. The former is the owner of the Arizona Sentinel and frequently comes back to my part of the county; but so does George, for that matter.

My wife is the only member of my family who will be out here. I have a son, who is a practicing physician in Illinois and a daughter who is a bankers wife in Humboldt, Neb., by the name of Gist, but, of course they will remain where they are, although they may visit us after we get located properly.

"I understand that the session at Nogales will last about three weeks after which I shall go to Globe for the opening of the United States court on May 15. After that there will be a short term of the District court at Solomonville and then I shall go back to Globe for another session of the United States court, which will begin in June.

"In fact, it appears that it may be a long time before I finally see my happy home—that is, before I am located at any one place but I would like to say that I have certainly been royally treated by the people of this territory so far, and I cannot express my thanks.

Judge Tucker does not believe the pictures that have been circulated here, being of the short stocky order, and of the pleasant looking type. He might easily pass for a brother of the rather celebrated Theron Stevens, who is on the Colorado bench, and who was the chief arbiter of the strike troubles in Te'uride lately.—Tucson (Arizona) Citizen.

W. E. Dorrington is our kind a man. Instead of sulking in his tent after election, he took the petition to secure the stub trains and worked like a trojan in securing the necessary signatures. Falls City never called upon W. E. Dorrington in vain.

Singular Coincidence in the Lives of Twin Brothers in England—Romance in Old Age.

One of the strangest of coincidences on record is chronicled in an old English publication giving reminiscences of odd happenings in that country. Two country squires named Leaman, of Ivy-bridge—"two thin, delicate-looking old men, twin brothers, 72 years old, with white hair, very gentle and courteous in manner, red cutaway coats, white cords, black boots, caps and gloves." When past 60 years of age, one night after hunting one of them said to the other:

"I have been thinking neither of us can have much longer to live in this world, and it will be a terrible thing for the survivor to have to remain here alone. Don't you think one of us ought to marry?"

"Yes," was the reply. "I have thought so for a long time."

"Well, do you know of any lady?"

"Yes, I do. Is there anyone you fancy?"

On comparing notes it appeared they had both selected the same woman, the manager of a hotel at Okehampton.

"Well," said one, "we have lived together all these years without a wry word, and it's a pity we should fall out at our time of life." So they tossed up which should marry her. The winner rode down to Okehampton next morning and was accepted. All three lived together and the wife nursed both brothers in their last illness and was left their money.

Frank Blakeney and Frank Nims of Nims City were in town Wednesday to attend the preliminary hearing of Brice Hatten.

Mrs. Ross Jackson was up from Rulo today.
