

Aftermath.

Without intending to prolong a post mortem to inordinate length we feel a few words regarding the remarkable race made by Mr. Dorrington will not be out of place at this time.

The citizens convention was so largely attended that the court room was inadequate to hold the crowd. We have heard the number estimated at five hundred. Through some misunderstanding which has never been satisfactorily explained, Mr. Leyda was nominated without expressed opposition. Notwithstanding the many men who voted for the citizens candidate solely because they were members of this convention, notwithstanding the News and the Journal both worked over time for Leyda; notwithstanding Mr. Leyda had the democrats behind him as well as the bolting element of the republican party; notwithstanding Mr. Lichty received 62 votes most of which would ordinarily have gone to Dorrington, Mr. Dorrington received 303 votes to Mr. Leyda's 372. Dorrington carried the second ward and a change of 35 votes would have elected him. There has never been a better fight against odds, than that put up by Dorrington.

To The Advertiser.

We may be mistaken, but we think The Tribune has the largest rural route circulation out of this city. We are so confident of this fact that we will gladly show our subscription list on routes 1, 2, 3, 4, and five to any prospective advertiser. If we have not the largest list of subscription on these routes and that fact can be proved, we will receipt the bill of any advertiser for a page ad., for four weeks. That's fair, isn't it? If you think this a bluff, call it.

Local and Personal.

"The first sweet violets of early spring" reared their modest little heads Sunday.

What about a base ball team this year? Is there to be nothing doing?

Will Bell, formerly of Falls City has been at the bedside of his brother Ed for several days.

The meat markets will be open Sunday morning from 5 to 9 for the rest of the summer.

Edwin Falloon has removed his office from its old location to rooms over George Holt's shoe store.

It costs money to run a news paper. This may be news to some of our delinquent subscribers. If you owe, pay up.

The first straw berries to show in Falls City were sold Saturday by George Dietsch at twenty-five cents a box.

Jack snipes are in, and the local sports are beating the bushes in squaas. Thirty-three birds is the largest bag of which the reporter has heard.

One thing the new mayor should do is to deny the right to the owners of stallions and jacks to make a parade ground out of stone street.

The crack of the trap shooters guns can be heard every evening. The boys are shooting in great form and are capable of scoring with the best in the business.

A young man was caught drinking a glass of beer by his father one warm day last week and reprimanded. "Why do you drink that stuff?" asked the parent. "Oh, it is a warm day and I drank it to keep cool," replied the boy. "But didn't you tell me last winter that you drank beer to keep warm?" persisted the father. "Yes" replied the boy. "Well" said the old gentleman, "isn't that a little inconsistent?" "No" returned the youth, "that just shows what a good all around drink beer is."

The merchant who does not advertise is as worthless to a community as the farmer who trades with the mail order house. Each wants his full share of what is to be had, but is unwilling to bear his share of the expense by which the desirable things are to be secured.

Reavis and Abbey have recieved their spring goods from Chicago, and were unable to wait on their trade Saturday because of the rush. This firm buys in car load lots and has the finest stock now on hand that has ever been shown in the county.

Mrs. B. I. Reavis entertained the kensington club at her home Thursday afternoon of last week. The visitors were Mrs. Mike Sweeney of Sioux City, Misses Anna Dorrington and Bessie Davis, Mesdames C. F. Reavis, T. J. Gist and D. D. Reavis.

In speaking to a prominent prohib the day after election, the remark was made; "well, the Lord wasn't with you yesterday". "No" he replied, "the Lord spent the day in Dawson". (Dawson went dry).

Ed May returned Saturday of last week from a few day visit at his Kansas farm.

If you want all the news all the time, try taking The Tribune.

How about that job printing—about ready for us to do it for you?

Mrs. Mike Sweeney and infant of Sioux City are visiting with Major and Mrs. Keeling.

Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Miller will remove to their 800 acres Kansas farm in a few days.

The April sale at Lyford's is attracting wide spread attention. Mr. Lyford is one of the most successful dry goods men in the state.

Rev. H. B. Smith of the Episcopal church is conducting Thursday evening services in Hiawatha during the lenten season.

Ed Noyes who played ball with the Highland ball team last summer is showing up well with the St. Joseph league team this year.

An observing young man remarked the other day, that it was as hard to get a widow over the second summer as it was a baby.

Fred Cleveland did one of the biggest days in clothing Saturday of his mercantile career. The goods and the prices are an irresistible combination.

The Easter windows of D. W. Sowles are unusually attractive. The north window is especially beautiful and is attracting much favorable attention.

A Christian Science healer of Kansas City is treating a small pox patient by absent treatment. That's the only way we would consent to treat small pox.

Mack Hoover was a business visitor Saturday. Mack is out after a rural route from Salem and is very likely to get it before he lets up.

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS of FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR

On account of the great merit and popularity of FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR for Coughs, Colds, and Lung Trouble, several manufacturers are advertising imitations with similar sounding names with the view of profiting by the favorably known reputation of FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR.
