The passage of the biennial election law will give the people of the first district a better opportunity to select a congressman. There will be no other election to attract attention from the congressional candidates.—Humboldt Enterprise.

AN EASTER ANTHEM.

Quartette—All hail, all hail, 'tis Easter morn.

Tenor—"Tis Easter morn.

Basso—"Tis Easter morn.

Soprano—I see, I see a stunning hat.

Alto and Tenor—She sees, she sees, a stunning hat.

Bsso—What's that? What's that? A stunning hat?

Soprano—O, O, and there's another.

It's just a perfect dream you know.

Bedecked with violets and blue bow.

It cost her fifty at the least.

She had it shipped from way back east.

Quartette—She it shipped from way back east.

Alto—Great Scott, great Scott just look at that.

Who has the nerve to wear that hat?

It's Mrs Smith. Well I declare, Who'd ever think she'd dye her hair?

Soprano—Dye her hair, her hair, her hair.

Tenor—Dye her hair, her hair, her hair.

Basso—Dye her hair, her hair her hair; her hair.

Quartette—H-e-r, h-a-i-r.—Hastings Tribune.

GRADE TO BE CUT DOWN.

The surveyors say that if no other part of the line is touched that the heavy grade between Baker and Padonia will be cut down on Missouri Pacific. Extensive track improvements between Atchison and Omaha are contemplated by the Missouri Pacific. C. A. Chandler, civil engineer, and his assistant, Jack Aiken, are up north of Auburn running levels, and engineer Lucy, from Osawatomie, with four men, is working south from Hiawatha. The purpose of the work is to make estimates on the cost of reducing the grades. M. L. Byers, Missouri Pacific engineer of maintenance of way, was interviewed at Lincoln on the followingrumors, and had no information to impart concerning any of them: That the Missouri Pacific will rebuild its Platte river bridges; that it will rebuild its stations in Nebraska; that it will finish placing heavy steel on the Nebraska lines; that bridges and culvert permanent work once started will finished; that a big cutoff and grade eliminating line near Falls City will be built; that the Missouri Pacific railroad will spend two or three millions on the line north of Atchison in the next two year.—Hiawatha World.

Something Wrong.

Not long since there was an examination among the applicants for rural route. Among them was Captian Grinstead who recieved a mark of 93. Not withstanding this he was not appointed. The law is very plain that old soldiers are to receive the preference on such appointments, and if they receive a mark of 65 shall be appointed. There are very few men whose war records equal that of Capt. Grinstead, and the Tribune hopes the mistake incident to the failure to give him this appointment will be speedily remedied.

Club Shoot.

The club shoot for the Peters cup was held Friday afternoon of last week. Several preliminary shoots were held in which Himmelreich, Holt, Davis, Frederick and Oswald excelled. The shoot for the cup will be held each week and is open to all members of the club. The score at the shoot was as follows: Norris 23, Oswald 21, Frederick 19, Kellar 18, Reavis 18, Davis 17, Himmelrich 15 and Holt 10. The cup therefore goes to Jake Norris until next week, when the boys will do their utmost to win it back. Jake Norris' score of 23 out of 25 is equal to the average made by Veach and Clayton in their late match.

The familiar face of Ben Miles was seen on our street Friday and Saturday of last week. Ben says they are all singing the same song in Dawson, "Nobody knows how dry I am."

A number of Rulo's prominent citizens were before the board of supervisors Thursday of last week asking for the moving of a bridge. Among them we noted George Kirk, D. Van Valkenburg, Jas. Hasford and Mr. Edgecomb. The board declined to remove the bridge on the grounds of expense.

Clarence Smith returned Friday from California where he has spent the winter. He says Will Wherry and family are well pleased with their new home and that Mr. Wherry is doing well.

Allan D. May came down from Humboldt Saturday and spent Sunday with relatives in this city. He was accompanied home by his wife and baby who spent the past week with relatives here.

Myra Shranger late of Humboldt desires her Tribune changed to Mrs. H. B. Shellenbaer and that it be sent to Stamford, Neb.

This we will do and with the paper we send our heartiest congratulations and best wishes for herself and husband.

John D. Griffith of Verdon was transacting business in Falls City on Friday of last week.
