Robert C. Glenn, Plaintiff,

vs.
 Arville A. Glenn, Theresa G. Wortham, Simeon Wortham, The State Bank of Du Bois, Du Bois, Nebraska, M. W. Musselman, J. V. Ratiken, The unknown heirs of J. P. Lore, deceased and The International Harvester Company, Defendants.

To M. W. Musselman, The unknown heirs of J. P. Lore, deceased, and the International Harvester Company, non-resident defendants:

You and each of you will take notice that the plaintiff, Robert C. Glenn, did on the 14th day of April, 1905, file his petition in the district court of Richardson county, Nebraska, wherein he prays for the foreclosure of certain mortgages therein described, against Lots 3, 4, 5, 6, 19, 20, 21 and 22, in Block 89, and Lots 21, 22, 23 and 24, in Block 90, all in the city of Falls City, Richardson county, Nebraska, all of which mortgages had been theretofore executed by Addison N. Glenn and Arville A. Glenn to parties named therein and of which this plaintiff is present owner and holder. Which mortgages were given to secure various sums of money aggregating $7840.64, together with accumulations of interest, unpaid, amounting to about $3,000.00, and containing a prayer for the foreclosure of the several mortgages mentioned, and that an account be taken of the amount due and unpaid on the same, and a decree by the court requiring payment thereof within a short day, or in default, that the mortgaged premises above described be sold as on execution to satisfy the same and the costs of this litigation.

And you are further notified, that defendant, M. W. Musselman and J. V. Ratiken claim some kind of lien on said premises by a judgement in the District court, and you are hereby notified that the prayer in said petition is that said judgment be held subject to the mortgages owned by the plaintiff, and requires you to set up the nature and status of said claim, or the same will be declared null and void and held for naught. And the unknown heirs of J. P. Lore deceased, whose names and residences are shown to the court to be unknown to the plaintiff by proper affidavit, and upon the order of his honor, Judge Babcock, being advised of said fact, this publication against said unknown heirs is made, as shown by order of the court granted in said cause and filed of record therein.

Unknown heirs of J. P. Lore, deceased, are therefore notified that according to the prayer of said petition, the judgement held by their ancestor, J. P. Lore, is alleged to be dormant and subject to the lien on the real estate owned by Addison N. Glenn in his life time and of which he died seized. And that unless said unknown heirs shall plead, answer or demur to this petition, as is hereinafter required, said judgment of J. P. Lore, deceased, in the District court of Richardson county, State of Nebraska, against the said deceased, Addison N. Glenn, will be held for naught, and decree entered accordingly.

And the said non-resident defendant, The International Harvester Company, is also alleged in said petition for foreclosure, to be the holder of some kind of judgment against the said Addison N. Glenn, which is alleged in said petition to be no longer a lien on the real estate described in said petition, and unless the said unknown non-resident defendants and each and all of them plead, answer or demur to said petition on or before the 5th day of June, 1905, the same will be taken as true and the decree therein prayed will be entered accordingly.

Saturday night about eleven o'clock our people were awakened by the sound of the fire bell. The flames were discovered to be in the home of Mr. Thompson, two doors south of Shields grocery store. The fire department responded promptly and the flames were soon extinguished. A lamp being turned over in one of the upstairs rooms caused the fire. The damage to bedding and furniture was quite heavy.

A. E. Souders, of Auburn, in speaking to a reporter the other day, spoke very feelingly of his old friends in this city and of the pleasant years hespent here. Mr. Souders is justly proud of his nineteen year old son, Guy, who is doing so well in the Chamber of Commerce bank in Kansas City. Guy will be remembered by many of our people as a frail little fellow in knee breeches.
