

"When beaten to earth —well, well, what's that?
Come up with a smiling face.
It's nothing against you to fall down flat.
But to lie there—that's disgrace.
The harder you're thrown, why the higher you'll bounce,
Be proud of your blackened eye, It is't the fact that you're licked that counts,
It's how did you fight and why?
And though you be done to the death, what then!
If you battled the best you could,
If you played your part in the world of men,
Why the Critic will call it good.
Death comes with a crawl or comes with a pounce,
And whether he's slow or spry, It isn't the fact that you're dead that
counts,
But only how did you die?"

An Old Timer.

How many people in Falls City ever saw the great flint boulder in the field just north of Will Holt's and immediately east of the cemetery? It is said to be the largest rock of its kind in existence and has been examined and inspected by some of the most noted geologists in America.

Professor Barber of the state university says that it was deposited there by a glacier during the ice age, and has been in its present location for ages upon ages. If you want to see something venerable, go and look upon the wrinkled face of this old rock, the patriarch of its kind and the mightiest of its race.

Why Suffer From Rheumatism?

Why suffer from rheumatism when one application of Chamberlain's Pain Balm will relieve the pain? The quick relief which this liniment affords makes rest and sleep possible, and that alone is worth many times its cost.
Many who have used it hoping only for a short relief from suffering have been happily surprised to find that after awhile the relief became permanent. Mrs. V.
H. Leggett of Yum Yum, Tennessee, U. S. A. Writes, "I am a great sufferer from rheumatism, all over, from head to foot, and Chamberlain's Pain Balm is the only thing that will relieve the pain." For sale by Kerr's Drug Store.

Mail Wagon Signals.

The Kansas City Journal cordially endorses the suggestion that the rural free delivery wagons carry weather service signals. If the signals were made of metal and mounted on a short staff that would hold them above the top of the vehicle, they could be read for a half mile, as the metal flags would not need a breeze to display them.—W. E.
Blackburn.

A New Story.

A little girl was asked by the preacher why her father had not attended divine service last Sabbath. "He went down on the bottoms," replied the little miss.
"I am afraid that your papa does not fear the Lord," said the preacher. "Oh, yes he does," returned the little lady, "he took his gun with him."

It is not generally known, but nevertheless true that Walter Wellman, the great newspaper correspondent and explorer, was born near York in this state.
Rev. Dwight Newell Hillis, the great Brooklyn divine, was a Pawnee county boy.

An old widower in town has commenced to take notice. Nothing serious is anticipated, but you can never predict the finish when they take to dying the hair and wearing button hole bouquets.
