A Valuable Tree.

The park committee of central park in New York City was perfecting the electrical system of the park and in doing so, it was learned that a venerable tree would have to be destroyed or the entire system would have to be changed at an additional cost of $15,000. They changed the system and saved the tree.

Better Bottom Roads.

The Auburn commercial club has called in a government expert to ascertain the best and least expensive way in which to perfect their bottom roads. The expert reported after a careful examination, and the club is preparing to follow his advice.
Something might be done along the same line here with profit.

School Board Meet.

The school board met on Monday evening and elected the following teachers, Miss Saylor, second grade, Harlan street; Miss Boose, assistant at Harlan; Mable Whitaker, assistant at Central; Miss Naylor, first grade Central; Mable Greenwald, third grade, Central; and Elizabeth Brecht, 4th grade Central. The board then adjourned to meet at the call of the president, V. G.
Lyford.

The following excellent little poem was written by a Falls City man who is too modest to permit the use of his name.

CHANGE.

The muted question with mankind Is, why and where and how This mighty change is brought about,
Is this eternity now, Away with those dark forebodings of dread,
The Atheists creed cast o'er thy mind; Awake and rejoice for death and the dead, Are the new birth of babes in scenes more refined.
He created; He ordained the grand change.
This second birth out of our crystalline state.
And wafts our spirits to eternal range, Approaching, —never reaching,— the grand ultimate.

Judge W. H. Kelligar has been left $13,500 in the settlement of his father's will. The property amounted to $27,000 and was equally divided between the judge and his only brother, Thomas Kelligar. Seven thousand dollars of this sum is in real estate and $20,000 in personal property.

Z. W. Jones of Salem was a visitor here on Friday.

F. O. Martin of Rulo spent Saturday in this city.

Pearl Martin of Rulo was in this city on Saturday.

Last Friday Jacob Bollenbach and wife were down from Dawson on business.

Miss Olive Harris of Stella was the guest last Thursday of Miss Sallie Schoenheit.

The Tribune has been so busy with job work that the paper is a little short this week.

We are in receipt of the Arizona Register which speaks of Judge Tucker in his new position in the highest terms.

Mrs. R. D. Messler left Tuesday morning for Craig Mo., where she will spend some visiting with friends.

Otis E. Sloan and family who have been visiting relatives here for sometime left Tuesday for for their home in Wyoming.

George Riechers was up from Falls City visiting over Sunday with his mother and other rela-

The ladies of the Christian church will give a reproduction of the "Pike". All the leading attractions will be given. Don't fail to attend.

And nothing is being done towards a lawn contest. The great success of last year should be sufficient inducement to try again.

Mrs. Charles Fisher and little daughter of Illinois are visiting the Maddox family. They will be joined by Mr. Fisher about the middle of June.

church will give a reproduction of the "Pike" as seen at the Louisiana Purchase Exposition the 15th of June. Wait for the attractions.

Falls City will present a very pretty appearance June 1st if the merchants will take as much interest in decorating their stores for the many strangers who will attend the congressional convention, as they did for the Elks last Saturday.

Miss Mary Murphy of Falls City who has been sewing here the past few weeks, was called home Monday by a message announcing the serious illness of her sister. The Murphy home near Falls City was in the pathway of the cyclone that struck that section Saturday afternoon, destroying all the outbuildings and unroofing the house. On account of the exposure, Miss Murphy, who was a victim of inflammatory rheumatism at the time of the storm, suffered an attack of pneumonia, and for a time her condition was grave, but we are glad to learn that hopes are now entertained for her recovery.—Dawson Newsboy.

LEFTHANDEDNESS NOT BAD

Nature Has Compensations for the Person with Awkward Motions—Ambidexterity Is Desirable.

It is safe to assume that originally there was uniformity in the constitution of the human body, and that in the course of its development a difference in both halves of it is often provoked by circumstances of growth. So, in fact, lefthandedness appears especially in children, which means that among them an earlier development of the right hemisphere of the brain takes place, for it is well known that either half of the body is under the influence of the opposite half of the brain in consequence of the crossing of the nerves in the brain.

Usually, however, in the course of further growth the equilibrium of both hands seems to be restored, and then, while the individual grows more accustomed to the new condition, changes to pronounced righthandedness and therefore to real preponderance of the right arm.

Many left-handed persons make just and keen complaint against the consequences of the fact that they are such, for they suffer much undeserved disparagement for the supposedly abnormal gift of their youth. Only recently do alert investigators seem to have found that it is absurd and unwise to belittle that peculiarity, and that in many kinds of activity the ability of the left hand is profitable to its possessor.

Evidently a workman would tire less quickly if he would use both hands alternately. In consonance with this opinion certain trade schools now require pupils to use the saw, plane and hammer with the left hand also, and steadily seek to impress the young men and women with the large importance of equal skill for both hands.

In Japan, for instance, children begin at an early year to learn to write and draw with both hands, and to this fact various critics ascribe the superiority of Japanese art in certain directions.

In European schools, too, this practice has begun; the pupils are taught to draw circles and other forms on the blackboard first with one hand and then with the other, while leaving the arm unsupported to develop the muscles of the left arm also. Practice in writing with both hands should also be customary, a slight injury to the right hand, as is well known, often rendering the writer incapable of work. The same may be said of sewing and other domestic work.

The most frequent appearance of left-handedness in the female sex is peculiar. Generally women can use the left hand almost as skillfully as they can use the right.
