Attest W. E. DORRINGTON,
J. L. CLEAVER, Chairman,
Secretary.

Falls City has had all the street fair it wants for many moons. Our people sat around all day Sunday listening to the silence.

Rev. Haskins is determined to put down gambling in this city. He is a man of strong conviction and unquestioned courage, and we predict unqualified success for his efforts.

The peace envoys of Russia and Japan are with us and the contest between rats, birds, nests and rice on the one part and beef and fish on the other is about to commence. The odds at this writing are in favor of rats etc.

There may be sections of this great and glorious nation where the summer climate is more enjoyable than it is in southeastern Nebraska, but if there is any section that can show a finer brand of weather, than we have had for the past three weeks we would like to know its location on the map.

While the worthy Journal has performed yeoman service in assisting the President to destroy the beef trust we cannot help but think there are a few violations of the law close at home that might claim the attention of so pure a paper even if by so doing a political friend and patron of the paper might be offended. It is easy to commend Folk and Jerome and Roosevelt for cleaning their dooryards but how about cleaning our own?

A GOOD SCHEME.

It was a good scheme to open the court house yard to the crowd last week. Hundreds sought the grateful shelter of the trees to rest. During the most of every afternoon and evening tired children were sleeping on the grass while fathers and mothers watched the hurrying crowd at their sides. Why not continue this custom? Why not put seats in the yard for the accommodation and comfort of the country people who visit Falls City? John Hinton, whose heart is as big as his body, is very favorable to the scheme. His idea is to tear out the unsightly iron fence, put a stone curbing around the entire yard and make it not only a place of beauty but one of comfort as well. The people own the square and they should be privileged to use it.

The gentle showers that have fallen this week are simply further proofs that the Lord loveth Richardson county.

"You people!" "On the higher line!" Enjoy yourselves at crazy house!" The sensational electric theater in just one minute "Take a throw at the monkey!" "Buy an ice cream sandwich" and similar admonitions are no more among us.

We have seen men "in the cold gray dawn of the morning after," but Sunday morning was the first time that we ever saw a city street that looked like the result of a prolonged debauch. Did you notice Stone street after the street fair had folded its tents and stolen away?

The contest for supreme judge is going to be a spirited one. S. P. Davidson, C. B. Letton, John Ames, Judge Duffy and N. D. Jackson seem to be the leading candidates. Each of these gentlemen are well qualified for the position, but Judge Letton seems to have the call in this end of the state.

The great crops on the Nemaha bottoms this year emphasize the need of some adequate system of drainage to prevent the periodical overflow of the river. There is corn maturing in the valley of the river that will produce eighty bushels to the acre and will add thousands of dollars to the wealth of the county. Year after year hundreds of thousands of acres of the richest soil in the world have been going to waste because of overflows, and will continue to do so until some system adequate to overcome the evil is provided. Mr. Grinstead's idea has proved its feasibility in other sections and we believe would do so here.

Where was the humane society last week when the boys were throwing at the monkey? Some pin headed individual put a little monkey on a canvas floor for other pin headed individuals to throw at, three throws for a nickel; if the ball hit the monkey a cigar was the prize. All day Friday and Saturday the money cowered at the end of his chain in an agony of fright; at times he would lie down with his little head on his arms and cry, actually cry, with fear. If a ball would hit him, a shout would go up from the congregated crowd at his antics. It was great sport, this torture of an inoffensive little animal, great sport for brutes who walk like men. But one wonders where the humane society makes its headquarters.

We are in receipt of a copy of the August number of The Open Court. A scientific magazine published by the eminent scientist, Dr. Paul Carus. Among other good things in this number is an article on "Some Mediumistic Phenomena" by David P. Abbott. Mr. Abbott takes up the work of Dr. Schlossenger, the so called medium who created a sensation in this city a few years ago, and discusses it from the standpoint of the scientist and the magician. The article is cleverly written and is very interesting.

Maxims and Proverbs
Relating to the Virtue of Saving

Who's saving at twenty,
At forty has plenty.
By saving something every week you begin each week
richer.
Who saves something every week, has 52 increases of fortune
a year.
He'll ne'er be slave
Who learns to save.
By once saving a dollar each month, Carnegie can now
spend millions a month.
He who saves, ceases to serve.
Buy what thou hast no need of
and ere long thou shalt sell
the necessities.
Saving in youth
Pays Poverty's tooth.
