A Fine Display.

Very few people who have passed Reavis & Abbey's store this week, have failed to stop and take a look at the display windows. The attraction has been the magnificent display of mattings now on exhibition and a finer line is rarely shown even in the large cities. These mattings represent a special importation as well as some especially attractive domestic patterns. There is also variety of quality as well as quantity and the goods range from the inexpensive kinds to the high class goods that sell for more money. A man who is looking for matting and cannot find something to suit him in all this bewildering array, would surely be a hard man to please.

The latest political announcement is that of William P. Fergus of Falls City precinct for sheriff. He settled north of Humboldt where he lived until 1891 at which time he was elected sheriff of the county on the republican ticket and removed with his family to Falls City, in and near which city he has since lived. Mr. Fergus served two terms as sheriff and performed the duties of this office with marked ability and strict fidelity, making a reputation of one of the best sheriffs the county has ever had. He is now living on a farm in Falls City precinct, and has been living there following the avocation of a farmer for several years. Mr. Fergus will lay his claims before the county convention soon to be held in Stella, and should he be nominated would doubtless be chosen again for the position he has filled with such credit in the past.

A Question Of Ethics.

A bunch of representative citizens were holding an animated discussion Sunday morning on the propriety of a Judge holding a pretty girl in his lap. One of the crowd did not think, a Judge should be censured for such an offence to which Bob Cain agreed with some conditions. "I think he ought to adjourn court first," said Bob; "that is a job that should be done at 'chambers.'" To which Judge Wilhite agreed by saying, "that has always been my practice."

Burned by Gasoline.

Mrs. O. A. Cooper, wife of the well known grain dealer of Humboldt, met with a serious accident at her home at that place on Monday. Mrs. Cooper was attempting to burn some worm nests from the trees in an orchard adjoining her house and was using gasoline for the purpose. During the operation her clothing caught fire and when members of the family came in response to her calls for help, she was enveloped in flames. A blanket was thrown over her and the flames smothered, but not until she had been seriously burned. Physicians believe that she will recover, but it was a miraculous escape from death.

Peace Declared.

Russia and Japan have reached an agreement whereby a treaty insuring a just and enduring peace will be formulated. At the last moment Japan conceded the indemnity and territory demands, consenting to divide the island of Sakhalin and to return to Russia a 11 interned warships. The diplomatic victory is conceded to Russia though Japan secures everything for which the war has been waged. The world acknowledges the accomplishment of peace to be due to the courageous and determined stand of President Roosevelt. Cables from every crowned head of Europe have been received by the President, and the great newspapers of the world speak of his successful labor in terms of highest praise.

Japan has proved itself mighty in war and magnanimous to a defeated foe in the hour of victory. It has secured a place among the great powers of the world. The question as to whether she can maintain the position remains to be answered.

Team Ran Away.

One of the teams used in moving the business college furniture ran away Wednesday afternoon. The wagon had been loaded when the team took fright and ran from the Wahl building along the alley to the north until the wagon collided with a telephone pole and further progress was stopped. The wagon was loaded with chairs, desks and other furniture to which considerable damage was done.

Business College Moved.

On Wednesday the furniture and fixtures of the Falls City Business college were removed from the Wahl building on Wilson street between First and Second. "It seems like getting back home again," said Prof. Barrett to a Tribune reporter. "Here the greatest success of the college has been achieved, and the building seems charged with a sort of college atmosphere." When asked concerning the outlook for the coming year Prof. Barrett said, "The outlook is very promising. More young men and young women are coming to see the necessity of a business education, and the prevailing prosperity will enable more of them than ever before, to get such education."

The college building has been put in first class shape and all will be ready for business on the opening date, which is Monday September 11. It is altogether likely that the enrollment this year will be very large.

Holt Wins Prizes.

Will Holt who is making a tour of the state fairs in this section, with about twenty fine hogs, is making a great record in the way of prize winning. At the Missouri state fair at Sedalia, he captured ten premiums and at the Iowa state fair at Des Moines he won fifteen premiums out of seven teen entries. He will doubtless do as well at the fairs he is yet to visit. His Falls City friends will be glad to know of his success.
