Famous Jubilee Singers.

One of the most entertaining programs ever given in the penitentiary chapel was that of the famous Winchell Jubilee Singers, who delighted the many hundreds of outside visitors and the inmates on Sunday. This organization of seven colored vocalists, every one an artist, have developed the inherent musical quality peculiar to their race to such a degree that their fame is lasting. Beginning with an original chant of the Lord's prayer, their program ranged the gamut of musical composition. The peculiar melodies of plantation, the exhortative negro camp meeting songs, were the special favorites.—Columbus (Ohio) Dispatch, Jan. 9, 1905.
