

LOCAL LORE

 Lambert Slagle of Davenport is visiting with his uncle, Benj. Slagle and wife.
 What a blessing it would be if all the pessimists were dumb and all the knockers dead.
 By the way, would a woman wear a peek-a-boo waist if this were an Adamless world.
 Frank Schneider of Preston was the guest of Falls City friends the past Saturday.
 Mrs. Frank Clark and daughter, Maud, of Verdon visited with Falls City friends Tuesday.
 It is estimated that ice will cost the average family about six dollars per month next summer.
 This is the season when the young man's thoughts lightly turn to love, and the speckled hen hides her eggs under the barn.
 Here is a new problem: "A man has two sons, to one of whom he gives 19 cents and to the other 6 cents. What time is it?" The answer is a quarter to two.
 This is the first winter since 77-78 that Falls City has failed to harvest ice. The winter of 1877-78 was even milder than this one has been. Geo. Abbott has a book record which discloses the fact that farmers were plowing in February of that year and planted their corn in April.
 Nearly every member of the stub train crew lives in the car. A reporter heard the brakeman on the Omaha stub bragging to some Auburn people the other day that he hadn't been off the right of way since the trains made Falls City. He is badly dissatisfied with the change and some fear is expressed that he may take the matter up with George Gould and have the trains taken away from us.
 An old time Falls City man returned last week after an absence of several years. He was surprised and delighted with the many improvements in the town, but remarked with pleasure on the old landmarks that were still here. He said when he looked at the old Methodist church, now an implement store, the old Episcopal church and the old school house, and upon being told that the school was still running for boys, he seemed so much like a boy that he could hardly believe he had been away so

A Jay got a jag from a jug, And a lamp post he started to hug; A cop said "Oh, Joy! I'll just harvest that boy And run the Jay with the jag in the jug." —K. C. Times.
 Dr. Gandy was down from Humboldt Sunday.
 George Wahl was the guest of Preston friends Sunday eve.
 T. Montgomery returned to Hiawatha the first of the week.
 John Taylor of Dawson was a Friday guest at the City hotel.
 Thos. Wilkinson of Humboldt was a Friday visitor in our city.
 D. D. Goolsby paid this office a very pleasant call last Friday.
 Jno. Hartman of Rulo has added his name to our list of subscribers.
 Otto Hahn was one of our many pleasant callers during the week.
 W. J. McCray of Stella was a business visitor at this place last Friday.
 W. D. Easley came up from Kansas City the latter part of last week.
 S. L. Freiburg was over from Sabetha on business affairs the past Saturday.
 Now, honest injun, what do you think of The Tribune at a dollar a year?
 Chas. F. Zoeller of Preston spent Saturday among friends at this county seat.
 Robert Ebel on route 3 remembered The Tribune in a financial way during the week.
 Vera Lord, who has been visiting Verdon friends, returned to her home in this city Tuesday.
 The ad of Reavis & Abbey in this issue will interest those wishing to get good value for their money.
 John S. Nixon was over from Hamlin, Kan., on Tuesday and was a pleasant caller at these quarters.
 Ed May returned to Salem on Monday morning and Mrs. May will spend a few days here with relatives.
 F. C. Brecht on route 1 showed his heart to be in the right beat by ordering The Tribune for a year last Saturday.
 Ludwig Hilgenfeld returned from an extended visit with relatives at McPherson, Kan., Tuesday. Mr. Hilgenfeld celebrated his return by contributing to the financial welfare of the printer.
 The Journal says it always gives value received for the money paid to it. Anybody that can see a dollar and half's worth in that sheet has an imagination that is something fierce.
 John Holland leaves Sunday to open the season at first base with the Indianapolis ball team. Mr. Holland has made many friends during his stay with us the past winter who are not only hoping but believing as well that he will more than make good.
 Will and Lydia Wolthausen of Yates Center, Kan., write that although they are well pleased with their new home, still they often think of the old Nebraska home and friends. So The Tribune will now keep them posted on Falls City affairs during the year.
 We are looking for the Journal to support the prohibition ticket before the end of the campaign. That they will do it on high moral grounds there is no doubt, but that the question of patronage will be the real incentive is known to everybody who knows what will happen with public printing if Leyda is elected.
 Jas. C. Chambers of Gravity, Iowa, has an ad on page 3 regarding his excellent herd of Aberdeen Angus cattle. Mr. Chambers is an old breeder and it has been his aim to top his herd with nothing but the best. Read this ad and if you do not find what you want, mentioned therein, write Mr. Chambers and he will put you right along the lines of Aberdeen-Angus breeding.

 Mrs. Margaret Norton and daughter of Colorado Springs, Colo., are here for a two weeks visit with her mother, Mrs. Custer.
 Mrs. W. H. Crook and daughter-in-law, Mrs. Will Crook, left Tuesday for Hot Springs, Ark., for the benefit of the latter's health, who suffers quite frequently from rheumatism.
 Walter Battreall and family of Muncie, Indiana, who have been visiting with his parents, V. W. Battreall and wife, left the first of the week for St. Joseph. They are just returning from an eight months visit in California for the benefit of Mrs. Battreall's health.
 Mrs. J. Harris spent Wednesday with Salem friends.
 Every purchase made of a catalogue house is a nail driven in the coffin of your local merchants.
 Mrs. Sam Stewart of Reserve visited her mother, Mrs. J. M. DeWald, of this city several days this week.
 Rev. H. B. Smith was accorded the honor of delivering the Lenten ordination sermon at Trinity Cathedral in Omaha last Sunday morning. This is a distinction greatly prized by the rectors throughout the state. Father Smith acquitted himself with such credit that the reporter, who had the good fortune to be present, couldn't resist butting in when at the conclusion of the sermon a lady who sat adjoining told her daughter that it was a splendid address by volunteering the information that the speaker was from "our town."

 The gospel evangelistic meetings began at the First Christian church on last Lordsday and are still in progress. Considerable interest is being aroused in the city and good sized audiences have been in attendance at each of the services thus far. The large chorus under the direction of Prof. Givens, is doing splendid work and the audiences are delighted with his solos at each service. The minister of the church is preaching some very convincing scriptural sermons which are instructing the older members of the church as well as to the new converts. There have been four additions to the church thus far in the meetings.
 The Journal speaks somewhat slightly of the supplements run by The Tribune and the News in the interest of local merchants and antagonistic to the catalogue houses. The reason the Journal declined to run it was because there was nothing in it for the gang. The supplement was a good thing and will tend to assist the merchants in fighting these mail order houses. This fact is of no consequence to the Journal, however, whose sole creed is personal profit. There is such a thing as town pride and home patriotism. There is such a thing as a desire to promote the welfare of the entire business community even at a sacrifice to one's own interest. These things are not known to those institutions which is always looking for the best of it as is the Journal.
