Mr. S. R. Young, Agricultural & Horticultural Agent, assisted by practical and competent instructors, will be on hand and deliver free lectures on fruit and vegetable growing, poultry raising, corn breeding, alfalfa culture, stock breeding, forage crops and other kindred subjects, and the Industrial Exhibit Car will be open all day for the inspection of the public.
If the several "interests", that Leyda claims that he has fostered by his vigorous defence would think seriously for a moment they would see that his serious boycott and agitation was entirely uncalled for and could have been avoided by sensible, conservative action, instead of an effort at grand stand play.
The Company is at considerable expense in carrying on this line of work and it is the wish of Mr. C. S. Clark, Vice President, that all employees of the Company lend this department their hearty support and co operation in order that best possible results may be obtained.

How much of the city taxes was uselessly spent last year to "keep friendly" with two different newspapers and for shoveling side walks and grading streets and how many crossings could have been built with this "machine building" money?
Running the sixth time for Mayor and city Attorney! This would be credible if it came from the demand of the best citizen and taxpayers, but it is forced upon the people by a glaring combination of certain elements known as "machine politics."

Any one having nice specimens of farm products, either grain, vegetables or fruit, who desires to place them on exhibit in the car may do so, by conferring with Mr. Young and proper credit will be given.
It would be the biggest April fool joke of the season of the dry ticket and this Anti-saloon agitation that was worked up for Leyda's benefit should be the means of his defeat at the polls.
Judge a man by his record not by his promises. Why Leyda promised, if only elected once more not to run again this year. There must be something in it for Bill and Jim.
How much better off our home telephone company would be today in every way if it had not "mixed up" with Leyda's crowd to fight its battle,

The Hiawatha World claims that all the additional mail that comes to that town by reason of the stub trains could be put in a peanut shell. If the mail brought to that city by the other trains is correspondingly small, the post-office at that village might as well be discontinued. The trains need not stop any longer and a weekly hack service from Falls City to Hiawatha should be established without further delay.—Verdon Vedette.

A newspaper makes enemies. A single unfortune line may wipe out the already faint recollection of a hundred nice things it may have said about a man; a single failure to be guided by the judgment of a politician instead of his own conscience may make that politician the editor's enemy, regardless of the years contributed to the advancement of that politician, and even though a paper may have for years been a leading factor in booming up this town this service may instantly be forgotten if it offends once as to disregarding the ideas of some as to public policy. The wonder, therefore, must not be as to the number of enemies a newspaper has, but as to its friends being so many. That a newspaper of character has many friends, surely is a tribute to the intelligence of its readers, who are broad enough to realize that one may occasionally err and yet be worthy of confidence. Realizing this, the sensible newspaper man goes ahead.—Benicia, Cal., Herald.

Falls City and Its Government.

I first saw Falls City in June, 1861. It consisted of a few houses made of sawed cottonwood lumber, and a few houses made of unhewn logs standing on the open prairie. No dooryards were fenced, and no shade trees were set. From that year to this, I have done more or less business here, and witnessed its growth and prosperity.
Last summer I determined to move here to live, and set about preparing a suitable home. Water had washed the soil away near where a sidewalk should be, and it needed filling up. Application was made to a man to put in curbing at the right place, and of suitable height to hold this soil where it was to be put. He went to the Mayor and requested that the street level, and the line for the curbing be established. He was informed that it would not be done, that the city officers were not around doing such business.

The most sensible business man on the council then told me to go on and fix things as I pleased, and I did so. Soon after this the Chief of Police, Mr. Aldrich, ordered me not to make an improvement that I had in contemplation, not because it was against a city ordinance, but because it was supposed to be under contemplation to pass such an ordinance. That improvement was made, and other improvement will be continued as soon as the weather is suitable. All I have written I can prove and I offer it as a gauge with which to take the measure of the business caliber of these officers, and hope the voters will calculate their bearings fully before voting.

A FARMER RESIDENT.
Talk of a partisan ticket. Can you name a more partisan crowd than the one working for the present administration?
Hurrah for Barrett harmony and business.
Judge Cleaver is a terror to the law breakers.
Down the "boss," vote for real reform.
Read Barrett's platform and look at his record.
Jim and Bill went up the hill Upon their yearly ticket, When Bill got there the cupboard was bare, And no bone for Jim to lick at.
Do the good citizens remember that the slot machines had to be ordered out by the County Attorney at the advise of a sincere reformer?
What will the Journal do if Leyda is elected and carries out his compact with the News?
"Down with bossism" says Roosevelt yet our city machine is trying to force another term on the city, and for what purpose?
Vote for Barrett, better streets lower taxes and an open record.
Bert Baker is running like a Jack rabbit before Pet Mausts new daschund pup.
Barrett will not be afraid to show a quarterly statement of the financial condition of the city.
How about the rotten stand pipe, impure water, and the helpless condition against fire that Leyda's friend The Journal cried so copiously about?
Where Oh! where! are all our taxes going and how much is applied on our bonded indebtedness?
Did Leyda put the slot machines back for the good of the city or for his own graft?
Barrett means harmony, Leyda strife and ill will.
The Ideal Quilting Co. is doing some nice work. Bring in your quilts and tell us just how you want your work done and we will quilt your quilts as close as you say. Price will be $1.00 the rest of March.
