

Rev. T. A. Lindenmeyer.

The Pastor of our local First Christian Church has enjoyed an extremely useful and active career during his public service.

T. A. Lindenmeyer was born in Buckley, Illinois December 24, 1871. At the early age of 14 years he completed the course of studies in the public schools, and at 15 years of age he graduated from the northwestern business college. After completing that part of his education Mr. Lindenmeyer was engaged in the mercantile business at Buckley and Peotone, Illinois for a period ing tendered his resignation there he accepted a call to Harvey, where he worked unceasingly, and with excellent results. In July 1897 he resigned this pastorate in order to accept a position as professor of mathematics in the school of the Evangelists at Kimberlin Heights, Tennessee. This school contains scholars from over twenty states as well as from Canada, Denmark and Armenia, and fits young men for the ministry.

During his vacation in the summer of '98 he accepted a call to become pastor of the Christian Church at Cozack, Nebraska.

of two and a half years, after which he took up educational work, teaching in Iroquois county. He then in the year 1891 attended the Grand Prairie Seminary at Onarga, taking the normal course. One year later he began teaching at Clifton, Ill., being principal of the high school there for two years. In this school he attained unlimited success, bringing order and interest where formerly there had been disorder and negligence.

The students of this school presented him with a pretty gold watch chain, as a token of their appreciation of his effort, and this same gift he is wearing today. He took up the classical course at the University of Illinois in the fall of '94 and '95, acquiring himself with honor. The two summers of '95 and '96 he was employed by the Eagle Publishing Company of Springfield, Ohio and was a valued employee. This firm made him a Christmas gift of an elegant and valuable gold watch, showing their appreciation of his services. During this time he preached occasionally. In November 1896 he became pastor of the Christian Church at Ashland, Ill., and besides uniting opposing factions among the members, he obtained fifty additional members. Having which position was attended with much good work and fine results. It was here that he met Miss Daisy F. Ware, an estimable and popular young lady of that city. They were united in marriage in June 1899 to which union have come four children, Lucile, Anna, Blanche and Paul. Mrs. Lindenmeyer is also an excellent church worker, and makes many friends wherever she may be. Rev. Lindenmeyer later resumed his work as professor in the Kimberlin school, but was compelled to give it up on account of ill health. In April 1899 he became pastor of the first Christian Church at Lexington, Nebr., at Saybrook, Ill., Goldfield, Ia; and Pawnee City, Nebr., besides organizing a church at Eddyville, Nebr. He enjoyed over 200 converts success attending his efforts in these different fields, and Jan. 1st, he accepted a call from the Christian Church of this city.

A week ago last Lord's day evening he closed a very successful series of evangelistic meetings in the local church having 3 additional by letter, five by statement and 20 by confession and baptism. Falls City people should assist such an earnest and conscientious worker in his efforts, who is working not for self, but for the greater glory of God.

Wanted to See him Drink.

There was a select family gathering in the Back Bay district the other night, and the parlor was full. Charles Augustus was an invited guest, and he was doing his best to be agreeable. He had fallen in love with the oldest daughter, or rather with a possible dowry that would go with her if she married. Little sister Mabel was there, six years old, with eyes and ears wide open. She regarded Charles Augustus with curiosity, and finally asked him,—

"Mr. Charles, don't you want a glass of water?"

"No, thank you, my little girl," he said.

"But I wish you would take one," persisted the little disturber of the public peace.

"And why do you wish me to drink some water?" he asked.

"Cause," said the precocious tot, "mamma says you drink like a fish; and I want to see how you do it."

There was a dull thud of silence in that parlor, and there is one name less on Charles Augustus's visiting-list.—Boston Courier.

Not Yet.

Two men were traveling in one of the hill counties of Kentucky not long ago bound on an exploration for pitch pine. They had been driving for two hours without encountering a human being, when they came in sight of a cabin in a clearing. It was very still. The logs lay where they had fallen, the thin clay-bank mule grazed 'round and 'round in a neat circle, to save the trouble of walking, and one lean, lank man, whose garments were the color of the clay-bank mule, leaned against a tree and let time roll by. "Wonder if he can speak," said one traveler to the other. "Try him," said his companion. The two approached the man, whose yellowish eyes regarded them without apparent curiosity. "How do you do," said the Northerner. "Howdy," remarked the Southerner languidly. "Pleasant country?" "Far them that like it." Lived here all your life?" The Southerner spat pensively in the dust. "Not yet," he said.

Market Letter.

Stock Yards, Kansas City, Mo., Monday, April 16th, 1906.

—The cattle market was irregular last week, but beef steers closed without much net change, cows and heifers 10 to 15 cents lower, stockers and feeders shade higher. Today the run is 9,000 head, market steady to strong. The beef steers last week began to show signs of the winter feeding, more tail ends than usual, and less topky lots. A few droves sold at $5.60 to $5.85, but the number above $5.25 was much smaller than in recent weeks. Top today is $5.35 in the Native division, although some fancy Quarantines sold at $5.50. There was nothing to speak of here last week from Colorado or the west, as there has every week for a month or more before. One fancy lot of 907 pounds native feeders, raised in northeastern Kansas sold at $5.15, highest price for feeders this winter, and one lot of fancy bred stockers from New Mexico sold at $5.45, 456 pounds.

Cattle receipts so far in April continue the rate of increase over a year ago that has been maintained ever since Jan. 1st, nearly 30 per cent. Not as many cattle are going to the country, but packers are absorbing the surplus, which makes their operations on a scale of 40 per cent heavier than at this time last year. Of course, at this time last year there was a scarcity of beef steers, and the price was rapidly advancing, standing about $1 higher than at present. Top prices last week ranging on the various days from $5.30 to $5.80; against $6.15 to $6.75 same week last April. Bulk of steers sell at $4.65 to $5.25, good heifers $3.75 to $4.75, cows $3.25 to $4.50, canners and stock cows $2.25 to $3.25, bulls $3.15 to $4.25.

vealers lower, $5 to $6, feeders $4 to $4.75, stockers $3.75 to $4.60, exceptions on both sides of these figures.

Hogs steadily advanced last week, and predictions favor still further gains this week. The top today was $6.60, market steady, bulk of sales $6.40 and $6.50. Farm work is occupying all of the time of feeders now, and although the high prices lead some farmers to make sacrifices to market everything available, receipts will probably continue moderate. Packers are not able to get more than 50 per cent as many hogs as they want. Weights below 200 pounds held up strong as compared with butcher weights, which command the top, while heavies have sank back a notch.

Higher prices for mutton seem to be inevitable, account of the available supply in sight for the next several weeks. Run today 5000, market 10 higher. Clipped stock will preponderate from now on, clipped lambs selling at $5.25 to $5.50, clipped wethers $4.75 to $5.25, woolled lambs $6.15 to $6.60, ewes $5 to $5.75, a few yearlings $6 to $6.25, woolled feeding lambs 66 pounds sold at $5.90 last week, spring lambs $9 to $11.
