

When To Plant Corn.

Men's opinions vary, some what, as to the proper time to plant corn. Some begin as early as the 20 of April, if the weather is at all permissible, while others may be found planting as late as June. Of course, either extreme is not good.

The season has a great deal to do with the proper time to plant. Whenever the days become warm and the nights are not too cool this kind of weather remains for a considerable time, then it is time to plant. The ground must be warm enough long enough to encourage immediate germination and speedy growth. We think that stunted corn is as bad as a stunted pig or calf or colt. Stunted corn is that which is planted before the ground is warm. It lies in a semi-comatose state, germinates slowly, and finally sends forth a weak stalk. To this spindling stalk the warmth of the day just about equalizes the cool of the night, and little growth is made. But the corn that is planted at the proper season germinates quickly and vigorously, sends forth a strong thrifty stalk which grows rapidly and gathers strength as the days go by.

We once knew one of the very best corn growers in our community who said that he would not plant before the 7th of May. And yet another who thought that when the hedge leaves begun to come forth was the proper time. Both of these men grew good corn, and it always seemed to us that according to nature and the season, the coming of the hedge ought to be a pretty good symbol of the proper time to plant, as out of this source might be indicated the development of the season.

Of course, the variety of corn has much to do with when it should be planted. There are varieties which are hardy and which may be planted early with impunity. There are some varieties of Yankee corn and squaw corn which may be planted with good results in the latter part of April. Men with a fore-sight to growing good hogs plant this kind of corn in order to have an early corn for late summer feeding. This corn ripens so early that it makes hog feed much earlier than the regular varieties of field corn. We think it is well for every man who keeps plenty of hogs to plant a few acres of this corn for early feeding from the stalk for forage and for the ear also.

Summarizing the proposition, we should rather recommend planting a little late than too early. Get the ground in the best condition, and this may not be done quickly. The later planting gives opportunity of thoroughly discing the ground before plowing it, and this is an important thing. This applies full as well to listing. Then when the corn comes up, it will grow rapidly, and will give you a better opportunity to handle the weeds with best results. The early planted corn that grows slowly is soon outclassed by the weeds which are not easily retarded in their growth because of bad weather. The time to get the weeds is the first time through the field with the cultivator, and if you can not get close to the corn because of its being too small, it will be difficult to get the weeds which grow close in the row, and are in truth the most injurious weeds of all.—Nebraska Farmer.

Market Letter.

Stock Yards, Kansas City, Mo., Monday, April 30, 1906. A decided upturn in the cattle market was the feature last week. Few cattle came in after Wednesday, but such as did come got an advance of 20 to 30 cents over Monday's prices. This strong market had the effect of drawing in a big supply today, 11,000 head here, and liberal elsewhere, but the market is holding up steady today. The scarcity of highly finished beef steers is more accentuated every week, the best here last week selling at $5.55, 20 cents less than the top the previous week, although the market was higher last week; Top prices today are $5.35 for steers, sorted heifers and yearlings $5.25, feeders $5.00. A train of Nevada bay fed steers, fed for San Francisco market, but turned this way account of the earthquake, sold to the packers here today at $4.20 to $4.65.

The month of April shows more cattle received here than ever before in April, 157,300, as compared with 125,000 last April, and 133,500 latest previous April, in 1903. The increase from Native territory is even greater than the figures indicate; last year we received 8000 cattle from Southern Texas in April, while this year in April only a few have come from that source. The supply has dwindled in the last two weeks, and big runs on Monday and Tuesday is followed by small supply and strong prices later in the week; it may be that way this week. Buck of steers sell at $4.65 to $5.50, heifers $4.35 to $5.00, cows $2.25 to $4.50, canners and stock cows and heifers $2.25 to $3.40, bulls $3.00 to $4.25, calves $3.00 to $6.00 stockers $3.35 to $4.60, feeders $4.00 to $4.90.

Hog run last week was 52,000 head, supply today 10,000, market 5 to 10 lower today, top $6.42, bulk of sales $6.25 to $6.40, light weights up to $6.32, pigs $5.25 to $6.00. The market was lower the middle of last week, but best hogs sold at $6.50 Saturday, and it looks like receipts of around 50,000 hogs per week can be handled at the high level now ruling. Supply for April shows a gain of 40,000 head over last April and prices has averaged $1.00 higher which indicates the strength of the demand.

Lambs gained 25 to 40 cents last week, as the end of the fed lamb season is in sight. Best lambs sold at $7.20 today, and more than fifty doubles of woolled lambs brought $7.00 or better since middle of last week. Sheep prices were not fully tested, but gained 15 to 25 cents last week, woolled yearlings quotable at $6.00 to $6.30, wethers up to $6.15, ewes $6.00, clipped wethers and yearlings $4.75 to $5.50, lambs $5.75 to $5.95, ewes $4.50 to $5.00. Run today 50,000, market strong to 10 higher.

Cheap Farm Land.

Southwest Offers Best Opportunities For Securing Homes.

Many farmers in the Northern and Eastern states are selling their high priced lands and locating in the Southwest. Many who have been unable to own their homes in the older country are buying lands in the new country.

Unusual opportunities exist along the lines of the Missouri Pacific-Iron Mountain Route. The rich, alluvial, delta lands and river bottom lands of Southeast Missouri, Eastern Arkansas, Louisiana and Texas, capable of producing 60 bushels of corn, a ton of cotton, 4 to 6 tons of alfalfa 150 bushels of potatoes, and other grains, vegetables and hay crops, can be bought for $7.50 to $15.00 per acre. When cleared and slightly improved will rent for $4.00 to $6.00 per acre cash.

Uplands more rolling, lighter soil, adapted to fruit growing—peaches, pears, plums grapes, berries—also melons, tomatoes and other vegetables, can be bought for $5.00 to $10.00 per acre in unimproved state. Many places with small clearings and some improvements can be bought very cheap.

This is a fine stock country. No long winter feeding. Free range, pure water, mild climate. A healthy, growing country with a great future.

Write for map and descriptive literature on Missouri, Arkansas, Louisiana Texas, Kansas or Indian Territory. Very cheap rates on first and third Tuesdays of each month.
