SWELL TIME.

We don't blame the Manager of the Brown County World for feeling slightly in the revengeful mood, after we read the following from that weekly edition:

Chas. Brown, of this office, would like to get hold of the person who gave him the mumps. It has not only laid him up 10 days, but now Earl Gardiner and Ralph McDonald, of The World force, are also confined at home with the affliction. Carl Bates and Ray Mead are the only boys left around this office. Gardiner's was his third trip with the mumps, and he was not sick long returning to work Tuesday.

ASSISTS IN OPERATION.

Dr. Fast, of Falls City, was called to Barada, Wednesday to assist Dr. Strong in performing an operation on Heine Kuper. The Dr. way accompanied by his wife who was a pleasant caller on Mrs. H. T. Speer.

CONCERNING GUS.

August Nietzel, manager of the Falls City marble weeks, was in Nebraska City, last week, where he went to erect a monument. Mr. Nietzel on his return, stopped in Auburn to see R. E. Harmon.

OUR FRIEND GEORGE.

G. E. Hall was badly shaken up on last Friday afternoon while out riding and has suffered considerably from the accident ever since. He and his brother John, were driving a newly broken colt to a small cart, when all at once the animal made a sudden start and threw him backward onto the ground. Mr. Hall was thrown with such force that he sustained the injuries above mentioned.

MEANEST OF ALL.

The Okmulgee (Kan.) Democrat strangely enough, has been having some trouble this winter collecting from subscribers which has inspired the editor to print the following rebuke:

"A man may use the mole on the back of his neck for a collar button; he may ride a freight to save 3 cents per mile; he may light the lamp with a splinter to save matches; he may stop his watch at night to save the wear; use a period for a semicolon to save ink; pasture his grandmother's grave to save hay, but a man of this kind is a scholar and a gentleman compared to the man who will take a newspaper, and when asked to pay for it, put it back in the postoffice, marked "refused."

Don't take yourself too seriously. The chances are that other people consider you largely a joke. —York Times

MUSING OF THE VILLAGE DEACON.

Mother may not cut much figure while the company is on the ground, but she is the whole works before it comes and for a while after it is gone. I know how all the old chumps of 40 feel. They think all the young girls are struck on them because they have been through the mill and know a thing or two. The girls call them old fools and laugh at them behind their backs.

The season of the year is close at hand when the young fellow who always buys ice cream sodas can get a game any evening.

WORTH WHILE.

A good word is an easy obligation but not to speak ill require our silences which costs us nothing. —Tillotson.

Fame has only the span of a day, they say. But to live in the hearts of the people—that is worth something. —Ouida.

The man deserving the name is one whose thoughts and exertions are for others rather than for himself. —Sir Walter Scott.

I go at what I am about as if there was nothing else in the world for the time being. That is the secret of all hard-working men. —Charles Kingsley.

Men imagine that they communicate their virtue or their vice only by overt actions and do not see that virtue or vice emits a breath every moment. —Emerson.

Carve the face within, not dress it from without; for whoever would be fairer illumination must begin in the soul. The face catches the glow only from that side. —W. G. Gannet.

He who would do some great thing in this short life must apply himself to the work with such a concentration of his energies as, to idle spectators who live only to amuse themselves, looks like insanity. —John Foster.

Our lives make a moral tradition for our individual selves, as the life of mankind at large make a moral tradition for the race and to have once acted greatly seems a reason why we should always be noble. —George Elliot.

Too many people mistake dignity for wisdom.

A prophet is a person who expects the unexpected.

Learn to labor while you wait if you would work wonders.

An honest man thinks that a pretty woman is also a noble work.

You can't convince a stubborn man that it is impossible to convince him.

Our idea of a society man is one who neglects to say anything when he speaks.

Some people try to hide their ignorance by saying that they are superstitious.

A diplomatic woman is one who is able to keep the same hired girl for three consecutive weeks.

Just because a man is all right today it isn't a safe bet that he will not be all wrong to-morrow.

A writer says: "Nothing is best achieved by indirection." The working of a corkscrew would seem to refute this otherwise plausible theory.

If you are hopeful you will be happy.

The fulfillment is seldom as good as the promise.

The more wisdom one has the less confidence he has in it.

If you look out for yourself you will be most apt to be looked out for.

If all the laws we have were rapidly enforced life would be almost intolerable.

It takes a long time for some people to find out how easy it is to be mistaken.

Keep cool. That's the way to keep right. If you get excited you will surely make a mess of it.

When you have done all you can you can't do any more and there is no use to fret about it.

Nothing is more disgusting to a thoughtful person than the asinine stupidity of unbounded conceit.

If the past generation of houses had been built on wheels it would facilitate present improvements considerably.

Do not waste time pitying those who are well dead and out of it. Rather feel for those who have it to go through with.

When you read about a man who smokes constantly do you pity him or do you envy him? It depends on how far you have got along in the habit.

Take what is due you and don't be a baby. If you have done things that merit censure and disapproval do not expect to escape and do not whine when you get "yourn."

Men clothed in a little brief authority can not be warned too often against swelling up like a poisoned pup and assuming airs that they will soon have to doff. Be decent and wise, and when you retire, from power, which you must soon do you will have the respect and good will of your neighbors which lasts forever and is worth much more than the trappings of present and passing power.

REMEMBRANCES.

Do not keep the alabaster boxes of your love and affection sealed up until your friends are dead. Fill their lives with sweetness.

Speak approving, cheering words while their ears can yet hear them and while their hearts can be thrilled and made happier by them: the kind things you mean to say when they are gone, say before they go. The flowers you intend to send for their coffin, send to brighten and sweeten their homes before they leave them. If my friends have alabaster boxes laid away, full of fragrant perfumes of sympathy and affection, which they mean to break over my dead body, I would rather they would bring them out in my weary and troubled hours, and open them that I may be refreshed and cheered by them. I would rather have a plain coffin without a flower, a funeral without a eulogy than a life without the sweetness of love and sympathy.

Let us learn to anoint our friends before hand for their burial. Post Mortem Kindness does not cheer the troubled spirit. Flowers on the coffin cast no fragrance backward over life's weary way.

Mark Twain on Advertising.

Mark Twain, in the midst of a panegyric on advertising, told a remarkable story.

"There was a man," he said, "back Iowa way, who was so pleased with an advertisement in the local paper that he wrote the following testimonial letter to the editor:

"Mr. Editor, Sir:—After selling all I could, giving barrels away, and stuffed my hogs till they would eat no more, I still had, last fall, about 200 tons of big, juicy, fine-flavored apples left on my hands. I inserted in your valuable paper an ad that I was willing to send free a barrel of picked fruit, freight paid in advance by me, to anyone who would apply, there being, of course, no charge for the barrel. You would hardly credit it, but that little 40c ad cleared out my whole stock of apples, and I could have disposed of five times the quantity on the same terms."

Cheap Farm Land.

Southwest Offers Best Opportunities For Securing Homes.

Many farmers in the Northern and Eastern states are selling their high priced lands and locating in the Southwest. Many who have been unable to own their homes in the older country are buying lands in the new country.

Unusual opportunities exist along the lines of the Missouri Pacific-Iron Mountain Route. The rich, alluvial, delta lands and river bottom lands of Southeast Missouri, Eastern Arkansas, Louisiana and Texas, capable of producing 60 bushels of corn, a bale of cotton, 4 to 6 tons of alfalfa 150 bushels of potatoes, and other grains, vegetables and hay crops, can be bought for $7.50 to $15.00 per acre. When cleared and slightly improved will rent for $4.00 to $6.00 per acre cash.

Uplands more rolling, lighter soil, adapted to fruit growing—peaches, pears, plums grapes, berries—also melons, tomatoes and other vegetables, can be bought for $5.00 to $10.00 per acre in unimproved state. Many places with small clearings and some improvements can be bought very cheap.

This is a fine stock country. No long winter feeding. Free range, pure water, mild climate. A healthy, growing country with a great future.

Write for map and descriptive literature on Missouri, Arkansas, Louisiana Texas, Kansas or Indian Territory. Very cheap rates on first and third Tuesdays of each month.
