Vol. III

FALLS CITY, NEBRASKA, FRIDAY, JULY 13, 1906.

Whole No. 131

Celebration at Rulo.

Another Fourth of July has followed other Fourth into the past, and the celebration at Rulo, is also past but it was a very nice celebration. The crowd was large and orderly. The programme was good and carried out with care.

The band boys furnished excellent music and the Glee club deserve great credit for the pleasure their music added to the occasion. Also several solos were rendered, which in the writers opinion can not be beat on the 4th of July or any other time. A recitation was also well rendered.

John Wiltse of Falls City spoke to some length, on Independence, which showed thought and care in the preparation. Following Mr. Wiltse, Superintendent Oliver delivered a very pleasing talk along educational lines and while all his talk was appreciated, one thought was particularly fine, and that was, that what we need more of is moral education. The last speaker was F. E. Stump of Lincoln, his theme was Fraternity, but his talk was cut short by the black clouds which were over casting the sky, the crowd scattered and for a while it looked like the celebration was ended, but after a nice shower which cooled the air and laid the dust, the people began to meet for the fireworks and other pleasures, which the evening promised.

Several balloons were sent up, music and fireworks continued until a late hour. Mr. Stump gave a public exhibition of the Screen work of the A. O. U. W. and a grand ball ended the program for the day.

The large crowd seemed to enjoy the day, and a nicer, more orderly crowd would be hard to find than was entertained in Rulo that day, and the strangers who visited us on that day, will be welcomed again, when they choose to come.

ONE WHO WAS THERE.

Radinsky-Hardin.

One of the principals in the following clipping, taken from the Tecumseh Chieftain is well known to Falls City people. Louise Radinsky enjoys a large circle of friends here, who extend to Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hardin sincere congratulations:

At the home of the bride, in Sterling, Sunday, July 1, 1906, at 1 o'clock p. m., occurred the marriage of Louise Radinsky of that town to Earl Hardin of Tecumseh. Rev. D. B. Lake, pastor of the Sterling M. E. church, pronounced the ceremony in the presence of but few relatives. At the close of the ceremony a dinner was served, and that afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Hardin departed for Hot Springs, S. D., where they are spending their honeymoon. They will return to Tecumseh next week and make their home in the groom's house, on East Broadway.

The groom was the eldest son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hardin of this city, and was born and raised in Johnson county. He is a young man of high ideas and pleasant disposition. At present he is serving Johnson county as deputy treasurer, and is possessed of that business sagacity which makes his services valuable. The bride is the daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Oswald Radinsky of Sterling. She is a lovely young lady. For a time she was engaged in teaching in this county, but later was engaged in the profession in the western part of the state. The Chieftain desires to join the many friends of the young couple in best wishes for a happy and prosperous wedded life.

Old Timer Gone.

Fred Beaulieu, one of our oldest business men, has severed his interests in Falls City business circles and is now located in Welsh, I. T. Mr. Beaulieu has been in our midst for a quarter of a century and we shall greatly miss him. In his departure, this city will lose one of its most wide-awake and enterprising citizens. Mr. Beaulieu has purchased a first class stock of merchandise in Welsh and we bespeak for him there, a prosperous business. He is an old timer at this trade and will merit success.

Mr. John Bruhn of Omaha has purchased Mr. Beaulieu's news stand here, and will conduct the same in an up-to-date manner.

George Hinton is dead.

Scarcely a week passes that The Tribune does not record the sad news of someone's passing. This week, however, must be recorded the death of one who by reason of the long years lived among us and the cheerful, kindly nature that made him known to the entire community, leaves a feeling of personal loss to us all. For George Hinton is dead.

The old mill by the side of which he lived as a boy, the murky river where he swam and fished long ago with the generation now reaching middle life, his many friends and companions who never received anything but unvarying kindness from him will miss him now that he has gone, and even though the end has been anticipated for months, will feel a sense of irreparable loss in the announcement that George Hinton is dead.

George never seemed able to accumulate much of the world's goods, some way or other it never seemed to him that wealth was one of life's essentials. But he never failed in doing a kindly act, nor in thoughtfulness of the feelings of others, nor in making and holding friends, and I guess that after all is over and the story told and the book closed, that it is fully as important to say he never made anyone unhappy and was always true to his friends, as to say he left a large estate.

George was the only child of John and Marilla Hinton. His mother died some years ago and with the death of George the grief stricken father, to whom the sympathy of the entire community goes out, is left alone.

George Hinton was born in Kingston, Pa., on March 2, 1867, and was 39 years of age at the time of his death. While quite young his parents moved to Falls City where he has since lived, with a short interruption. For a few years he lived in Denver but to him there was an irresistible force recalling him to his old home, so he returned to this city and lived here until his death last Monday. He was married to Lydia Minnick some few years ago to which union a daughter was born. His early life was spent at the Exchange mill south of town which, with his father, he operated for many years. He was one of the promoters and owners of the beautiful Hinton's park. The latter part of his life has been lived in Falls City. About a year ago his health began to fail and his decline was rapid. The dread disease, tuberculosis, had fastened itself upon him with a tenacity that would not be denied. For months he has been hesitating at the brink of the river, but his courage never failed him neither did he complain. During those days when he was able to be about town he was the same cheerful light hearted George. When asked how he felt he always answered with the courage of one who makes a good fight, "I am better." But his friends saw the change that was being wrought and knew that the time was short. And last Monday at his home on Harlan street the grim visitor called for him and George Hinton was no more.

The funeral was held Wednesday afternoon, the interment being in Steele's cemetery, an immense throng following the remains to the grave.

To the wife and little daughter, to the father who has been left bereft and alone, the sympathy of the entire community goes out, trusting that He who is the author of all things good will be with them and comfort them in this the hour of their sadness.

The Circus.

In the language of the statesman from Skunk Ridge "the circus has come and went." The crowd came early from the country round about and all towns within a radius of thirty miles. Because of the long run from Kansas City the circus arrived late and the small boy waiting at the depot from two in the morning until after nine before he heard the welcome shout of "here she comes." The parade did not take place until after dinner and was witnessed by a large crowd. The show was good, one of the best in fact that has ever visited Falls City. Some of the acts were unusual and many were of the highest class. The tent at the afternoon performance was well filled and everybody seemed satisfied.

NOTES.

The show is owned by Ringling Brothers, they having purchased it at the beginning of the season.

Some people drove thirty miles to the show, leaving their homes about midnight in order to be here on time.

One of the trapeze performers is an old friend of Mrs. Bert Reavis. His home is in St. Louis and he belongs to a very fine family. His parents are greatly opposed to his employment.

The girl with the white shoes and dress, accompanied by the boy with gloves on his hands and medals on his coat was very much in evidence.

The clean streets looked well enough to induce the administration to keep them clean all the time. The water tanks provided by the city were a great convenience.

What a duce of a time the Giraffe must have when he gets a sore throat.

New Wheat.

New wheat was being taken in at the Heacock & Son mill on Monday morning of this week. This is the first they have received and it is of excellent quality.

Another Change.

One of our popular meat market proprietors, J. B. Ramel has sold his shop to A. E. Schmidt of Red Cloud.

Mr. Ramel has been in our business circle for some time and we are sorry to see him retire from our midst.

His successor Mr. Schmidt, is an old hand at the butcher business and we can assure his patrons of the best of service.

Installation Services.

On Wednesday evening an impressive installation service was held at the Presbyterian church when Rev. Griffin was formally installed as pastor for another year, of the church for which he has labored so faithfully.

Prof. Smith, of Pawnee City, formerly professor of the business college in this city, delivered the sermon, while Rev. Smith of Humboldt and Rev. Des Jardien of Pawnee City assisted by delivering charges. It was a splendid service and one which was a pleasure to all attending.

A Pleasant Pound.

On Monday evening of this week the members of the First Christian church visited the home of their minister and gave him and his family quite a "pounding," leaving many tokens of their love and esteem to replenish the larder and gladden their hearts. Quite a number who were unable to be present sent their tokens with others. All went home feeling the better, for "It is more blessed to give than to receive."

Making Good.

Miss Florence Hawkins, a colored lady formerly of Falls City, is making good in the game of life. Miss Hawkins attended school in Falls City for a number of years working around to assist in paying for her education. She eventually removed to Humboldt and graduated from the Humboldt high school. From there she went to Lincoln and attended the state university from which institution she recently graduated. She is now employed as a member of the faculty in the great Booker T. Washington university in Georgia. What this estimable young lady has accomplished has been done by sheer nerve and ambition. She is entitled to the congratulations of not only her own people but of every man and woman who believes in right living who admires one who can win, with the game against him.

Resolutions.

Falls City lodge A. F. & A. M., July 11th, A. L. 5906, A. D. 1906.

Whereas it has pleased the Almighty Architect of the Universe to call from our lodge our well beloved brother, George S. Hinton; it is most proper that this lodge in session assembled bear testimony to the high masonic worth, and the noble and generous character of our deceased brother, who died at his residence in this place on the 9th day of July, A. D. 1906. Therefore be it

Resolved, by this lodge, That in the death of our beloved brother George S. Hinton, this lodge has lost a most valuable member, and our community a most respectable, kind and charitable citizen. Be it further

Resolved, That our brother, George S. Hinton, was a good man and a good mason. He was earnest and ardent in his best impulses; and an energetic, patient and brave man. He had great hope, love of life and a most strong and vigorous manhood. He was ever a free and frank nature, with a heart as open as the day to deeds of kindness and charity; and to that Charity that he so much loved, and that extends beyond the grave throughout the boundless realms of God's eternity, we as masons confidently and implicitly entrust the soul of our departed brother. We as masons should now feel, that in the eternal lodge above, in that temple not made with hands, amid the inexhaustible mercies of the Great Creator of the universe our brother is safe upon the other side. Be it further

Resolved, That this lodge shall ever honor the masonic memory of our brother, and that a copy of these resolutions shall be entered upon the records of this lodge, a copy furnished the family of our deceased brother, and a copy furnished each of the newspapers of this city for publication. M. J. BOHRER, G. B. FALLSTEAD, S. L. DAVIES, Committee.

Among the Officials.

Carpenters are busy at the court house tearing down and rebuilding, breaking the quiet which generally reigns in that building.

A room is being made ready for the county superintendent on the second floor, while his former quarters will be added to the county treasurer's office. The stairway entrance to the cupola is being changed, and an office is under construction for the county attorney.

However, court met Wednesday with Judge Kelligar on the bench.

The case of H. B. Andrews, the book agent, was called and in default, over his non-appearance, his bond was declared forfeited.

Babbott and Wilson, who assaulted the C. B. & Q. conductor, were arraigned before the court and plead not guilty. They were bound over.

In the case of Herman Tichen vs. Geo. Timmerman, for foreclosure, judgment was rendered to the amount of $756.39.

A judgment for $207.48 was given in the Peter Frederick vs. Peter Murphy case.

The Bode case went over on a motion for continuance by Lawyers Martin and Edgar Ferneau of Auburn, attorneys for defendant. It will be heard July 20th.

Jury was then discharged for the rest of the term. Court will meet again on the 13th, to transact their legal business.

The case of the state against the board of trustees of Barada which is an action to have the corporation of Barada declared illegal was argued and submitted, the court taking it under advisement. Court adjourned until tonight at which time both Judges Kelligar and Raper will be present to hear the arguments for a new trial in the case of the State vs. Sim Burk.

A large number of transfers elsewhere given, were recorded by L. C. Edwards, the past week.

County Clerk Hutchins had his busy day the Fourth and is enjoying a slight lull in official duties.

Two new cases have been filed by Clerk Chas. Loree: Joseph H. Miles vs. C. B. & Q. railroad; Joseph A. Shaw vs. Dora Shaw et al replevin.

County Treasurer Lord is having heavy work this week and is also keeping an eye on the building improvements.

A New Manager.

C. H. Rickards last week resigned his position as manager of the Chicago Lumber & Coal Co. in this city and will leave soon for Utah, in order to personally superintend his extensive mining interests there.

Mr. Rickards has long been connected with the leading business affairs of this city and we regret his departure. He is one of the most capable managers we know of, and has done much towards extending the large trade the above company has enjoyed.

He is succeeded by Jule Ruegge, a young man perfectly capable of handling the interests of the company he is representing, having had many years experience in the lumber business. He was employed at the Graham yard up to his resignation, Jan. 1, '06, and will make an excellent manager.

Two horses simultaneously leaping the bars in the hurdle races was one of the excellent features at the 4 Paw-Sells Bros. circus.

Society News.

Minnie Jussen entertained a few friends at 12 o'clock luncheon Saturday, in honor of her guests the Misses Julia Hunt and Florence Umstead of Omaha. Sowl's best added to the elaborate menu.

Anita Wilson entertained a number of friends on Wednesday evening. The evening's pleasures were many.

Mrs. Wm. Moss was pleasantly surprised by a number of her friends, on Monday evening. The occasion was her birthday and the visitors presented her with a handsome parasol.

Council 1212, K. & L. of S. enjoyed a rag-tag dance and supper at the Bode hall on Wednesday evening. The hall was crowded to its utmost capacity and a royal time enjoyed.

Norman Musselman entertained a number of friends at a fireworks party Thursday evening, July 5th. Their lawn made an excellent place for such an event, being so spacious.

Mrs. Harry Jenne very pleasantly entertained the Kaffee Klatch club on Friday evening.

Florence Wylie entertained the members of the H. S. M. C. club on Monday evening, complimentary to Georgia Beaulieu who left Thursday for Welsh, I. T. It was in the form of a lawn party. Hammocks settees and easy chairs together with the many colored lights formed an inviting scene. Punch was served.

Reba Eversole was hostess to the H. S. M. C. members last Thursday evening, making the affair one of pleasure to her guests.

Elks Meet.

The local order of Elks held their regular meeting last Friday evening and had quite a time. Initiation and installation were the special features of the evening's work. Messers Dean and Taylor of Auburn both railroad men, were initiated into the order. Owing to the moving away of Rev. Smith and Will Hershey their offices were to be filled. R. C. James was installed as Esteemed Leading Knight and A. Yoder as Tiler.

Lunch and a general good time followed the business session. A number of brother Elks were present from Auburn.

Smashed His Foot.

James Henderson, freight clerk at the C. B. & Q. station, had the misfortune to let a heavy iron casting fall on his right foot Sunday morning. It laid him up for several days, from his duties at the station.

Mrs. Benj. Slagel is on the sick list.

Cass Jones of Rulo was in town circus day.

James Nausler went up to Auburn Wednesday.

Joe Varner was a Wednesday visitor at Auburn.

Stephen Story was among the Wednesday visitors here.

Dr. Miner and family were Auburn visitors Wednesday.

Norma Gentry returned Wednesday to Nebraska City.

Dr. Kellar and Ed King go to Denver this coming Sunday.

Mrs. E. B. Ellis of Waurika, Oklahoma is a guest at the home of Dr. C. T. Burchard and wife.

Mrs. James McDowell of Tecumseh is visiting her sister Mrs. Harry Custer.
