

Worth While.

A man's actions after marriage are nothing like the samples submitted during courtship.

We must no more be discouraged if success be slow in coming, than to be puffed up if it come quickly.

If we are never in doubt what to do, it is a good rule to ask ourselves what we shall wish on the morrow we had done.

Whenever poor folks marry some one says: "Well, they can't live on love. They can't live without it."

Everybody could have a silver lining, but the trouble is that the majority of us are on the other side of the cloud.

To control the passions, we must govern our habits, and keep watch over ourselves in the small details of every-day life.

There is precious instruction to be got by finding we are wrong.—Carlyle.

If you hate a man do not bore your friends by telling them about it. It does not harm your enemy, your neighbors dread to see you coming with your tale of woe, and every time you repeat it you add a white hair to your head. Nothing makes a man age more quickly than to live at cross-purposes with others.

No one likes to hear pretty nothings in home life more than the masculine creature. Much as he likes to say pretty things, he likes better to hear them.

Three hundred thousand newspapers, with the aid of hydraulic pressure, have been converted into a graceful and strong yacht, sixteen feet long, by an artisan in Vienna. Every part, including masts and sails, is of paper.

When giving advice to others, here is a small slice to serve yourself: Keep still more.

Girls of six or seven have girls of sixteen or seventeen bested. But we will admit that girls of sixteen or seventeen have the best of everybody else.

There is nothing perfect under the sun. When we look for perfection anywhere we are sure to be disappointed. To select the best there is in the world is difficult enough.

When You Talk about your ill health. It will make you less healthy.

Worry about your work. It will make you less capable.

Imagine you are disliked. It will make you less likable.

Find fault with others. It will make them faultier.

Anticipate evils. You will be sure to bring them upon you.

Talk much of what you are going to do. You will never do it.

Sit bemoaning the past. You will never get into the future.

Complain of lack of opportunities. You'll miss what you have.

Wail bitterly that it is an unjust world. You'll find it come true for sure, in your own case, at least.—Borrowed.

Men strive for many things in this world—wealth, fame, power, position and influence; but after all the one thing worth struggling for, is a home. This should be the first object in the life of every young man when he starts out to make his own way in the world. This "home idea" should be more generally installed into the children, and every boy should be taught that his first aim in life should be to own a home of his own, and every girl should be taught how to make a home what it should be in every sense of the word. So far as earthly possessions are concerned, a real home, with its comforts and joys, is the best thing that man can acquire.—Maxwell's Homemaker Magazine.

He did not notice that the saw was in motion, and moved his left hand so that it came in contact with the sharp teeth. A deep gash was cut severing several of the large tendons and badly tearing the flesh. The wound was given surgical attention at once and several stitches were necessary. For a man of Mr. Allen's age, the shock was very severe but he recovered rapidly from the effects and the injury is healing nicely.—Salem Sentinel.

Celebration at Rulo.

A very patriotic demonstration was the feature throughout the entire celebration at Rulo the Fourth. The street parade was followed by an appropriate program, consisting of patriotic recitations and songs. An oration was delivered by John Wiltse in which he held aloft the government of the people by the people for the people instead of a government of the corporations by the corporations for the corporations.

After his speech came T. J. Oliver, an educator of note, who is at present county superintendent of Richardson county. He spoke in glowing terms of education and its fruits; of the great advantages the present generation enjoy besides the prime use of education. His speech was highly enjoyed by an appreciative audience.

Mr. Stump of Lincoln followed with a talk on the primary usefulness and aims of fraternal orders.

The pleasures of the day were closed by a grand display of fireworks. A peaceful day was also appreciated as well as enjoyed.

Scip Dundy's Big Show.

Scip Dundy who lived his boyhood life in Falls City in much the same way that other Falls City youngsters are living theirs, is, or was, joint owner in the New York Hippodrome the greatest show on earth. Associated with him was a young man named Thompson who has the reputation of inventing some of the most spectacular entertainments since the time of Nero. Everybody knows that Scip had no money, but he has energy courage and judgment and with these he has built Luna Park at Coney Island. The Hippodrome and is now building another amusement resort in New York that will out class either of his former enterprises. In speaking of these gigantic amusement concerns The Success magazine says this month, "When Thompson needs ten thousand dollars, or twenty thousand, or a hundred thousand, he simply goes to Dundy and gets it. Which seems to be a pleasant arrangement for everybody concerned, except, perhaps, for Dundy."

- One United States Senator. One Governor. One Lieutenant Governor. Three Railway Commissioners. One Secretary of State. One Auditor of Public Accounts. One Treasurer. One Superintendent of Public Instruction. One Attorney General. One Commissioner of Public Lands and Buildings.

It Costs Nothing

To find out for a certainty whether or not your heart is affected. One person in four has a weak heart; it may be you. If so, you should know it now, and save serious consequences. If you have short breath, fluttering, palpitation, hungry spells, hot flushes; if you cannot lie on left side; if you have fainting or smothering spells, pain around heart, in side and arms, your heart is weak, and perhaps diseased. Dr. Miles' Heart Cure will relieve you. Try a bottle, and see how quickly your condition will improve.

"About a year ago I wrote to the Miles Medical Co. asking advice, as I was suffering with heart trouble, and had been for two years. I had pain in my heart, back and left side, and had not been able to draw a deep breath for two years. Any little exertion would cause palpitation, and I could not lie on my left side without suffering. They advised me to try Dr. Miles Heart Cure and Nerfine, which I did with the result that I am in better health than I ever was before, having gained 14 pounds since I commenced taking it. I took about thirteen bottles of the two medicines, and haven't been bothered with my heart since." MRS. LILLIE THOMAS, Upper Sandusky, Ohio.

Dr. Miles' Heart Cure is sold by your druggist, who will guarantee that the first bottle will benefit. If it fails he will refund your money.
