Fell in Cistern.

While attending a Halloween party at the home of her father-in-law, Christian Wamsley, on Wednesday evening of last week, Mrs. Maud Heck-Wamsley fell into a deep cistern. One of the boards covering the cistern had been taken up for some of the games, and Mrs. Wamsley, in going in quest of some paper with which to wrap up some dishes, and not being aware of the absence of the usual covering of the cistern, stepped in the hole and plunged into the cavity.

She called for help and Christian Wamsley slid down the tubing and picked her up, when a ladder was lowered and he brought her up. Dr. Fast reported the injuries very severe, but at this writing she is a trifle better.

Severed Little Finger.

While chopping some kindling Monday morning, preparatory to making a fire at his smithing shop, Samuel Prater sustained a badly cut finger. The hatchet missed the end of the piece of kindling and struck the little finger on his left hand, leaving it hanging on by a piece of the skin about a quarter of an inch in length. Dr. Miner stitched the finger back on and it is thought at this writing that it can be saved.

Obituary.

George Bliss was born on the twenty-second day of October, 1859, at Burlington, Iowa and died at his home in this city on the first day of November, 1906, aged 47 years, and 9 days. Funeral services were conducted at the residence, by Samuel Lichty at 11 o'clock last Friday morning, interment being in the Stelle cemetery.

Mr. Bliss came to this city about thirty-five years ago and was well known to Falls City people, and his death was a great surprise as he had the appearance of enjoying fair health. For many years he was engaged in the horse trading business and was quite successful in this trade. Two weeks ago he was taken ill, and although an operation was performed, he grew steadily worse and finally passed away.

He is survived by his wife, mother, two sisters and three brothers.

Here's listening for more.

Upset Carriage.

The team attached to a carriage occupied by Mrs. Chris Horn and daughter and Mrs. Gus Bucholtz became frightened last Saturday afternoon while standing in front of the V. G. Lyford store, and started to turn around in a circle. A severe bit on one of the horses chafed it and made it all the more unmanageable in their effort to check it. The carriage was upset but scarcely any damage sustained. Miss Horn received several bruises but the others escaped without injury.

Married.

On the evening of Nov. 6th, 1906 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Flickinger occurred a most beautiful wedding ceremony, the occasion being the marriage of their daughter Verna Maud to Mr. Charley Peck.

The parlor was decorated with smilax and white chrysanthemums, an arch being constructed of choice ferns, under which the ceremony was performed.

The dining room was decorated with evergreens and carnations. The table presented a most attractive appearance being festooned with carnations.

Precisely as the clock struck half past six, the bride and groom appeared, at the beautiful strains of Lohengrin's wedding march which was played by Miss Lila Kinney. The Rev. Eisenbise performed the ceremony, which made the happy couple one, after which congratulations were showered upon them. The assembled guests were then invited to the dining room where they partook of a most sumptuous feast, which was served in four courses.

A most pleasant evening was spent, the guests leaving at a late hour.

The out of town guests were the parents of the groom Mr. and Mrs. Noah Peck and daughter Ethel from Falls City, Miss Lila Kinney of Sabetha, Clint Kreitzer from Sabetha, C. C. Stull, wife and daughter, Pearl of Hiawatha, Elsie Higgins of Robinson, J. F. Dague and wife of Hiawatha.

During the evening a party of young ladies, friends of the bride, serenaded the happy couple with most beautiful songs, and they were rewarded with cake passed by the bride, also cigars passed by the groom.

The bride and groom will be at home to their many friends after January 1st on the farm of John Master three miles south west of Morrill, Kansas.

New Glass Arrived.

The two new plate glasses for the Jenne Shoe store arrived on Tuesday of this week and were immediately put in place. Three of the large plate glasses have been broken in the remodeling of this building. A piece of scaffolding fell against the first one and the other two were broken in attempting to change them. Mr. W. W. Jenne had a narrow escape from having his foot cut off by the falling broken glass last week. Extensive changes and repairs have been in progress on this building for the past two or three months, and when completed it will be one of the most modern and up-to-date store buildings in this part of the state. As soon as completed the building will be occupied by the H. M. Jenne shoe establishment.
