TWO LITTLE BOYS.

This is a really true recital of two of Falls City's little boys. If it has moral you must find it. The first part is of a very little boy, so little in fact, that it isn't very long since he would cuddle in mother's lap and be sung to sleep. It may be, mind you, I don't say it is, but it may be true that even now, when the night comes and the merry eyes grow heavy, he likes to feel her arms about him and hear her voice low and sweet in his ears. But he isn't too little to coast "likety split" and "belly buster." Not a bit of it. You should have seen him last Thursday afternoon, with cheeks rosy and eyes sparkling as he flew down the glassy hill. I was watching him when something happened. It was over quicker than one could write it, and the little boy lay very still on the frozen ground. We carried him to a neighboring house and laid him on a couch. A great gaping, ugly tear was in his leg and the blood was gushing fearfully. His little playmates clustered about him frightened and staring. But the little boy didn't cry. Not he, with all his playmates about him. Hurt! of course it hurt, and he was frightened as well, but he acted like a man, bearing his burdens mutely and alone. True, when father came, the chin trembled and the tears rolled down his white face, but the playmates never knew. It was an example of courage that made one sit up and take notice. It is out of such stuff as this that men are made.

The other little boy, not quite so little, but always frail and wan. He had suffered with a pain in his side a few weeks ago and had heard the surgeon say, "If this ever recurs we must operate." He came home from school Friday with a very hopeless look on his white face. "The pain again," he answered when asked if he was sick. There was much of tragedy in the answer. He knew what it meant and was afraid. The surgeons were called to examine him and told the parents the necessity of an immediate operation.

Up stairs the little sufferer waited the result of the consultation. "I ain't very strong," he said. "I never was very strong, but I want to get well." The parents could not, at first, bring themselves to consent, but there was a suffering hero in the bed. "I may never get well, but I want them to cut it out if you—if you will jes hold my hand," he said to his father and mother. And so the surgeons put on their white gowns and the nurses rolled up their sleeves and the little boy "who ain't very strong" went down into the valley of the shadow alone and unafraid.

This wouldn't be a story worth telling unless I add that he came to the hillside again where no shadows are, and that he is going to be strong now, bless him, strong and well.

You and I have our little troubles and we whine. Therefore have I told the true stories of two little boys, one who wouldn't cry and one who "ain't very strong."

Well, the legals in The Tribune seem to have made somebody sore enough to howl.

The News man says he hopes the library contest will be friendly and successful. It will brother, if those not concerned will refrain from "butting in."

HOW TO SUCCEED

The secret of success is not so much in knowing how to make money as in the ability to hang onto it. This is the formula: Lay aside a fixed portion of your income every week or month, as the case may be, and deposit it in this bank, no matter how small the amount. We pay interest on Time Deposits and Children's Accounts.

The News complains that the drainage district is playing favorites in its printing contracts. The Tribune is not given a pleasant look as yet, and we are not hopeful.

The Tribune is no more the "official printer" of the Elks than it is of the W. O. W., the A. O. U. W., the Masons or any other organization that appreciates good printing at reasonable prices.

Throw out a few crumbs or a little grain for the birds. These are days of hard picking for the little fellows and many of them will starve before the snow goes if they are not cared for. They work for you in all seasons, can you not do a little?

The state wide direct primary bill has been reported for passage. It is gratifying to state that Dr. Wilson was a member of the committee and voted favorably to the legislation. The republicans of this district made no mistake in their choice for senator.

The merchant who advertises is a public benefactor as well as a successful business man. He attracts people from far and near and puts many a team about the hitching rack that would otherwise be hitched in another town. Falls City has a few of such merchants and it has a few sponges as well.

We want your job work, subscription and advertising. We wouldn't be in the business otherwise. But when we become narrow enough to "knock" you and your business merely because you prefer a competitor we will cease our struggles to reach the sublime and delectable heights of "professional journalism."

The unwarranted and silly inference drawn by the News from a Tribune clipping is worthy of and will receive slight attention. The clipping is sufficient to make it unnecessary for us to disclaim any disrespect either to the Odd Fellows or the Elks. We resent, however, the attempt to distort our meaning or to draw inferences that a child of average intelligence would recognize as wholly false. We would appreciate it if in the future the News would knock the Elks, if knock it must, on its own responsibility and not over our shoulders.

We have always thought it complimentary to say that a lodge had made many improvements and seemed to be struggling for supremacy. It did really occur to us that to say of a lodge that it was determined to be the best was to say a great deal more for it than it would should we say it was indifferent, didn't care and was dead. It is a great good thing for Falls City that we have not only two, but a great many more than two lodges that seem to be in a friendly rivalry. To say this may be "disturbing" to a "professional journalist," but you will have to let us think it any way.

Does coffee disagree with you? Probably it does! Then try Dr. Shoop's Health Coffee. "Health Coffee" is a clever combination of parched cereals and nuts. Not a grain of real coffee remember in Dr. Shoop's Health Coffee, yet its flavor and taste matches closely old Java and Mocha Coffee. If your stomach, heart or kidneys can't stand coffee drinking, try Health Coffee. It is wholesome, nourishing and satisfying. It is safe even for the youngest child. Sold by Fred E. Schmitt.

The Journal wanted a lawsuit. Charley Zoellers did not, neither was he in favor of repudiating a contract. For this reason he is subjected to slander and abuse. When good citizens like Mr. Zoeller are vilified by this irresponsible family it seems time to call a halt. Ever since the Journal has been run by this gang it has been devoted to abusing and traducing good men because they choose to be their own masters. The sorriest thing that ever happened to Falls City is the Journal under its present management.

THE GREATEST THING GEORGE WASHINGTON EVER DID WAS TO TELL HIS FATHER THAT HE CUT DOWN THE CHERRY TREE. HE SET A GOOD EXAMPLE. IT IS EASY TO TELL THE TRUTH WHEN TELLING THE TRUTH WILL DO YOU NO HARM. BUT ARE THERE NOT MANY WHO TELL FALSEHOODS FOR IMMEDIATE BENEFIT RATHER THAN THE TRUTH? WE CHALLENGE ANYONE TO SHOW WHERE THIS STORE EVER MAKES A WRONG STATEMENT ABOUT THE QUALITY OF OUR GOODS OR TO SHOW THAT THE REDUCTIONS WE MAKE IN PRICES AT TIMES ARE NOT GENUINE REDUCTIONS. It's a pleasure to tell our readers about a Cough Cure like Dr. Shoop's. For years Dr. Shoop has fought against the use of Opium, Chloroform, or other unsafe ingredients commonly found in cough remedies. Dr. Shoop, it seems, has welcomed the Pure Food and Drug Law recently enacted, for he has worked along similar lines many years. For nearly 20 years Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure containers have had a warning printed on them against Opium and other narcotic poisons. He has thus made it possible for mothers to protect their children by simply insisting on having Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. Sold by all dealers.
