Can You Answer.

A Chicago professor recently presented to his class in College the following list of questions that he declared ought to be answered satisfactorily by every man before he receives his degree of Bachelor of Arts:

Do you see anything to love in a little child?

Have you sympathy with all good causes?

Can you look straight into the eye of an honest man or a pure woman?

Will a lonely dog follow you?

Do you believe in lending a helping hand to weaker men?

Do you believe in taking advantage of the law when you can do so?

Can you be high minded and happy in drudgery?

Can you see as much beauty in washing dishes and hoeing corn as in playing golf and the piano?

Do you know the value of time and money?

Are you good friends with yourself?

Do you see anything in life besides dollars and cents?

Can you see sunshine in a mud-puddle?

Can you see beyond the stars?

The Granger will add a few more questions which ought to be satisfactorily answered by every man before he receives his degree of bachelor of arts, or benedict of nature:

Should you make good use of God-given reason?

Have you over-come a desire, if you ever had one to return an injury for an injury?

Do you cling to the idea that you must be with the majority in all cases?

In your opinion are dishonest gains lasting cures?

Do you believe the truth should be discarded for policies sake?

Do you realize that you are custodian of your own being, and as such are now sowing what you shall reap at a later day?

Watch the Night-hawks

"Where is my wandering boy to-night." Many a mother wonders where her boy is, and why he prowls around. Our observation has been that the man, young or old, who is out late at night is on mischief bent.

The trusted bank teller in Kansas City who skipped with a lot of money stolen from the bank, it now transpires, was in the habit of prowling around late at night. It is pretty near a certainty that the man or woman who is out late at night will bear watching.

In nearly every city there are loafing places that are the "hang-outs" for a lot of young men and boys. We have seen boys sitting around pool halls smoking cigarettes and blowing the smoke out of their ears, whose mothers took in washing to support them in idleness. When the poor old mother wanted some wood carried in, they didn't have time, they were too busy looking for a job.

Speaking of jobs, when My. Lamme wants to employ some one in his bank he does not go around a pool room looking for him. Neither does any one else who wants a good reliable, honest trustworthy young man. And the young woman who marries a pool room bum, might just as well invest in a wash tub and board first as last.

The mothers and fathers of boys should keep a close tab upon them and see that they do not frequent loafing places and are in bed at a reasonable hour. The good woman who secured the enactment of the curfew did a grand work, but the men and boys who do not pay attention to 9 o'clock are the ones who really need some such method of chasing them home.

When you see a boy or a man prowling around late at night, you can rest assured that he is up to some devilment. Keep an eye upon the night hawks.—Hiawatha Democrat.

A Woman's Experience.

Some real sleeping car experiences: A woman at one time was taking a trip with her mother and the women had a lower berth together. The woman went to the toilet room to prepare to go to bed and upon coming out, went to a berth and climbed in over a sleeping form. The curtain was part way pushed back, letting some light into the berth, and after the woman was settled, imagine her horror upon seeing the face of a man next to her own. She climbed quickly out of the berth, found the one where the mother was, and after settling down again, remembered she had left her shoes in the berth with the man. She got out of her berth, went back to the man's berth, got her shoes, and took them back to her own berth. To this day the man doesn't know that a strange woman piled into his berth that night. He had slept through the whole experience. Lately a woman went to bed in a sleeper, and by mistake took the wrong berth. Just as she was dozing off, a nice looking old gentleman opened the curtains and prepared to get in. The most proper woman could not have been more indignant than the man was, when he found a strange woman in his berth, and the woman had a terrible time explaining matters to the insulted old gentleman.—Atchison Globe.

Could You Guess Them?

The following contests of Kansas towns originated by the Sabetha high school class has been used at several parties in Sabetha. Could you guess them: Very bow legged, Great Bend; a thin Monastery, Abilene; the price of yeast, Leavenworth; colored swiftness, Blue Rapids; why Mrs. Smith went, Smith Center; expounders of the gospel, Parsons; pleasing to the sight, Fairview; descendant of a sneeze, Atchison; a sire, a circle and a term in singing, Paola; what the blue stocking women are seeking, Independence; what we get when the coal is out, Newton; what the coal merchant should do, Ottawa, what we secure if he does it right, Holton; an extremity, a height and a sigh, Topeka; a masculine, a girl's name and a circle, Manhattan; what the American girl needs to secure a duke, Price; I went to my first to secure my second, Lawrence; what some folks have to do for a living, Russell; what happens when a certain tree is cut down, Cottonwood Falls; my first, not wearing the second, got the third, Manhattan.

Registered Short Horn Cattle Sale

TO BE HELD AT
Hiawatha, Kansas, Saturday, March 16, 1907
30 Females--24 Bulls

On the above date I will close out my entire herd of Short Horns, consisting of 17 head of bulls, 24 cows besides calves by side of dams. This sale will include the "Cream of my herd" my herd bull, Imported Royal Pride No. 149651, together with a fine lot of young bulls from ten to twenty-two months old, mostly sired by Royal Pride, a choice lot. "Dark Reds," low down, good individuals. The females are a thoroughly useful, healthy lot, most of them will be in calf by Imp-Royal Pride, a number of very good milkers. Everett Hays of Hiawatha, Kans., will consign a choice selection of 6 females and 7 bulls, among the bulls are two very choicely bred Pure Scotch bulls. His number of cows includes some elegantly bred individuals, their pedigrees will appear later. These cattle will be sold to the highest bidder. It will be a rare chance for the Farmer and Breeder. Write for catalogue, and come to the sale.
