Have you had your gasoline can painted red? Fifty dollars fine if you don't.

Cut your weeds to the curb, mow your grass, clean up; let's look our best for chautauqua.

The pianist at the tabernacle is an accomplished musician. Some of his accompanists are a delight to hear.

If the good Lord would call some of these knockers to their just deserts Falls City would grow as well as the cemetery.

That Humboldt ball team is a dandy just the same, and is about as gentlemanly a crowd of young athletes as you will find anywhere.

Falls City cannot afford to lose the Falls City business college, but that is just what is going to happen if our knockers are not muzzled.

It may be that people do not judge by appearances, but if you will watch the effect an angry looking cloud has on the average person you will conclude that appearance sometimes count.

Mayor Barrett has made a good official. He has earnestly labored to improve Falls City and is entitled to words of commendation from our people. A town that won't stand by its own is no town at all.

Jim Dahlman, mayor of Omaha, had started out to tour the country supporting Bryan for president. William J. has survived many things but it remains to be seen whether he can stand Dahlman's support.

As soon as the meetings are over a large force of workmen will begin work immediately tearing down the tabernacle and using the lumber in building the auditorium at the park. To finish this by chautauqua time the work will be carried on night and day.

No man in the county who believes in a revision of the tariff should fail to hear Gov. Cummins at the chautauqua this month. The writer has heard him twice and considers him not only the pioneer for tariff revision but the ablest advocate on this subject before the American people.

Some years ago Falls City was given the opportunity to buy Evergreen heights for a park but the knocker said no. Today the property is worth five times what it could have been bought for. The city park is worth every cent it will take to buy it and in five years from now will be worth a great deal more than its present value. If the park bonds are beaten we might as well give up the park idea for good.

To vote for bonds means improved water works and electric lights; it means a city park that will be a great pleasure to our people and an inducement to conventions, church societies and similar organizations to meet with us; it means employment for our laboring men; it means encouragement to every live citizen who labors and hopes for a better town. To vote against bonds means idleness, discouragement, poor water service, a continuation of the trouble we have experienced with the lights. Their are not two sides to the question. The bonds should, and we believe will, carry practically unanimously.

Henry Ruegge is having as much trouble with his squirrels as a hen that has hatched out ducks. They persist in gadding all over town and in giving Henry the laugh when he finds them. At present they are building a nest in Fred Farrington's yard, and all of Mr. Ruegge's persuasive English and explosive Dutch doesn't cut any ice with them. The little lady squirrel begins to chatter and quarrel as soon as she sees him coming and climbs to the highest limb of the tree to keep out of his reach.

We would have to change our opinion of our Salem friends before we could believe the Sentinel correctly reflects their feeling toward Falls City. For many years our people loyally supported the Salem chautauqua and rejoiced in its prosperity. We always thought the Salem people appreciated our good will and patronage. We hope and believe that our friends up the river are going to meet with us in large numbers during the local chautauqua and that they will be very glad to know that everything points to a successful and profitable session. Of course, there may be a few narrow individuals who hope we will fail in this our first venture, but as we have said we must change our opinion of Salem people before we can believe it.

Notice.

Parties having wigs, costumes and other property of mine will please return same at once.

ALL ABOARD FOR THE PANHANDLE!

Tuesday Afternoon, July 16, 1907

On this day our excursion train will leave the depot at Falls City, Nebr. Have me arrange for your ticket in advance, and be on hand and get aboard the train that will take you to the land of golden opportunities. Remember, that time, trains and prices of land wait on no man. Time is swiftly passing by and so is your opportunity for getting cheap land and a home for yourself and family. Prices are not waiting on you, but steadily going higher and you will soon be saying just what I heard an old man say yesterday 'If I had only known fifty years ago what I know today I could have made a million dollars in the advance of land in Richardson county, Neb., and Brown county, Kansas. Now my friend this same opportunity exists today, but will not last long, are you going to take advantage of it?

Why go and buy raw prairie land and pay $16.00 to $20.00 per acre and in some instances more than that, when you can buy improved land for the same money? Your answer, I know, will be a man is foolish, to do so. I say too, a man is just throwing his money away when he does it, he is not treating himself or those dependent on him right when he does it.

Now I can sell you the Panhandle land, all fenced, with good posts, and three and four wires, house and out-buildings, well and windmill and a never failing supply of the purest softest water you ever saw, all this for the same money and in many cases for less than you pay other land firms for, land without a furrow ploughed, a fence post, wire or building within five miles of you, and they have no better soil and in many cases not as good as I have.

Don't Delay, Do it Now. Get you that home you have long been dreaming of. Now is the accepted time. Delays cost you money.
