

American Head as Big as Ever.

British medical authorities are responsible for the statement that the average size of hats worn by Englishmen has diminished a full size in the last fifty years. This led to an investigation of conditions on this side of the Atlantic. It is gratifying to state, in the words of one of the largest manufacturers, that the American head is as big as ever.

The average American wears what is known in the trade as a No. 7, and has for many years. It has been noticed that heads in the south do not average as large in the east, while there is more call for larger sizes in the west than in any other section of the country. Mr. Bryan lives in the west, but that may not explain the difference.

One manufacturer advanced the novel theory that the shrinkage in the size of the Englishman's head might not be due to any excess of modesty, but to the decline of the drink habit. It is said to be no mere figure of speech to say that drinking swells a man's head; Intemperance is decreasing in England, as well as in other countries, and it is possible that this ingenious explanation covers the case.

It is more than fair to state that the size of the hat does not govern the brain power of the wearer, as any man who wears a small-sized hat knows. Wm. M. Evarts wore a 6 1/2 hat and he was never accused of any lack of brains. On the other hand Daniel Webster had a very large head. Even if it is true, therefore, that the average Englishman wears a smaller hat today than he did half a century ago, it does not indicate that his mental capacity is decreasing. Some of the young men who have just left college are probably wearing a larger hat now than they will ten years hence, but the shrinking process will not affect their brain power.—Rochester Democrat and Chronicle.

Live Stock War Over.

The trouble between the cattle men and the packers has finally been settled and the proposed million dollar packing house to be erected by the packers has been given up. Only dairy and native canners will be subject to post-mortem examination, a 11 range cattle passing under the same inspection as was imposed before the ruling of the packers a few weeks ago. This is a great victory for the cattle men. The agreement was reached at a conference between packers and commission men in Chicago recently. It demonstrates the fact that the packers are far from having things all their own way and that the cattle men are somewhat stronger than the packers. The ruling has already gone into effect and the conditions are now practically the same as before the packers decided to buy subject to post-mortem only.

Kind Words.

The Nebraska City Tribune has these kind words and notes the ability of our towns man, C. F. Reavis in the following:

C. F. Reavis of Falls City was a pleasant caller at the Tribune office Monday afternoon. Mr. Reavis was in town on business and took the opportunity to cross palms with his host of friends in this city. Frank Reavis is one of the ablest of Nebraska's younger generation of attorneys and in his personal characteristics a prince among men. Were it not for his superior ability and accomplishments, which have, through unreasoning jealousy ranged against him in his home county the anvil chorus of small fry lawyers and disgruntled politicians, Frank Reavis long before this date would have received high honors from the people of Nebraska and would have discharged them with signal fidelity and success. Unfortunately he is located within the territory of a political feud, where the knockers would rather see mediocrity thrive or would rather see all their principles (?) fail of success than to see a man of Frank Reavis' ability and manhood take a well deserved prominence in the affairs of men. No living person ever heard Frank Reavis give voice to such a statement but it is the opinion of unprejudiced observers who look on from the outside and judge a situation on its merits.

Lady Somerset's Work.

It was mainly due to Lady Henry Somerset, who has earned world-wide fame as a temperance advocate, and who has announced her intention of retiring into private life, that the homes for inebriates were established to which magistrates now send habitual drunkards, instead of sentencing them to a town of imprisonment. Lady Henry Somerset has always looked upon drunkenness as a disease, and not a crime. Hence the reason why she founded her farm for women inebriates at Duxhurst, where habitual female drunkards live amid charming surroundings in delightful cottages and occupy their time and thought with interesting occupations. Something like 80 per cent of the women who have undergone Lady Henry Somerset's treatment for intemperance afterward led sober and respectable lives—a splendid tribute, to the efficacy of her ladyship's methods.—Ex.

Entitled to a Pension.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Methner have had twenty-four children, seventeen of whom are alive. Mr. Methner by a former wife was the father of six, two of whom are alive. The present family of twenty-one live on a farm six miles from Coleman, Midland county, Mich., happy and prosperous. Methner is a German, 63 years old, his wife is 45. Only three of these children have been girls, and the ages of the survivors range from 1 to 33 years. The father buys stock, the eldest son runs a meat market in Coleman, a second son does the slaughtering, and another son runs a milk wagon. The eldest daughter attends to the housework and cooking, with the assistance of some of the younger boys, while the mother works out of doors all the time and makes all the sausages and pressed meat for the market. The family consumes more than a bucketful of potatoes a day, and all other edibles of course in proportion.

LOWE BROTHERS

High Standard Liquid Paint.

THIS GIVES BEST RESULTS BECAUSE

1. There is nothing put into it because it is cheap.
2. There is nothing put into it to make it poor.
3. There is only material in it to make it the best.
4. It, therefore, spreads best, wears best, looks best, and consequently costs the least.
5. Its guaranty is broad and good.

With "High Standard" use Interior Enamel for finishing the woodwork of the inside of the house. It is beautiful, durable and healthful—far more satisfactory than plain varnish.

Market Letter.

Kansas City Stock Yards, July 8, 1907.—The liberal supply of 15,000 cattle today is partly due to the opening of the season for grass cattle, large numbers of which are included today and partly to the good market last week. The best cattle are steady today, but medium grades, which includes about all the grassers, are weak to 10 lower. Top beef steers today reached $6.80, but relatively a small proportion of the receipts are dry lot steers, prices on which run from $6.25 upwards.

Steers fed corn on the grass sell up to $6, and straight grass steers from Kansas pastures bring as high as $5.20. The settlement between salesmen and packers regarding the sale of she stuff will probably be ratified by the various exchanges today, and trade practically on the basis of before the recent controversy will be resumed tomorrow. Market on she stuff is a shade lower today, cows selling at $2.50 to $4.65, heifers $3.50 to $5.25, bulls $2.75 to $4.85, calves $4 to $6.25. Stockers and feeders sold higher last week, but there is a good supply of that class included today, and prices are 10 lower, stockers selling at $3.25 to $4.65, feeders $4.50 to $5.10. Some choice feeders brought $5.40 last week, favorable corn weather and the good market on beef steers acting as incentives to the purchase of country grades of cattle. Half the cattle supply today is in the Quarantine division, as usual on Monday. Balance of the week will likely see moderate supplies of Southern, but a good run of Natives is expected. Shippers are urged to go slow on cows for awhile, as packers will surely break the market if they can, and heavy receipts of she stuff will give them a chance.

Hog supplies have been moderate for a week or more, but prices do make any material advance. Today, with a run of 6,000 head, stronger prices looked logical, but Chicago had a big run and proved to be too much to overcome, prices here weak to 5 lower, top $6, bulk $5.90 to $5.95. Local buyers anticipate liberal supplies tomorrow, and should they be disappointed the market may advance. Indications point to a good many hogs in the country, and lower prices seem inevitable balance of July.

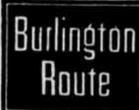

Mutton markets held up last week on moderate receipts, and prices are steady today, run 8,000 held. Native lambs sold at $7.65 today, wethers and yearlings worth $5.50 to $6, ewes $5 to $5.15, goats $3.25 to $3.65. Arizonas make up bulk of receipts, as Texas offering are falling off, and Utah had only one shipment here last week, and that was goats.

Rheumatism

I have found a tried and tested cure for Rheumatism! Not a remedy that will straighten the distorted limbs of chronic cripples, nor turn long months back to flesh again. That is impossible. But I can now surely kill the pains and pang of this deplorable disease. In Germany—a Chemist in the City of Darmstadt—found the last ingredient with which Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy was made a perfected, dependable prescription. Without a trace of opium, I successfully treated many, many cases of Rheumatism; but now, at last, I uniformly cure all curable cases of this heretofore much dreaded disease. These man-like granular wastes, found in Rheumatic Blood, seem to dissolve and pass away under the action of this remedy as freely as does sugar when added to pure water. And then, when dissolved, these poisonous wastes freely pass from the system, and the cause of Rheumatism is gone forever. There is now no real need—no actual excuse to suffer longer without help. Nervous Worn-Out

If you are in this condition, your nerve force is weak—the power is giving out, the organs of your body have "slowed up," and do their work imperfectly. This failure to do the work required, clogs the system and brings distress and disease. When the nerves are weak the heart is unable to force the life-giving blood through your veins; the stomach fails to digest food; the kidneys lack power to filter impurities from the blood, and the poisonous waste remains in the system to breed disease. Nerve energy must be restored. Dr. Miles' Nerveine will do it, because it strengthens the nerves; it is a nerve medicine and tonic, that rebuilds the entire nervous system.

"Several years ago I was all broken down. I was nervous, worn-out, could not sleep, and was in constant pain. I doctored for months, and finally the doctor said he could do nothing for me. I began taking Dr. Miles' Nerveine, and used altogether eight bottles, and I became strong and healthy, and now weigh 170 pounds."
