H. A. PENCE.

I desire to say to the readers of the Tribune that I am a candidate for renomination to the office of county treasurer, subject to the will of the Democratic voters at the primary election which will occur Sept. 3rd, 1907.

I wish also to state that if I am renominated, I solicit the support at the November election of all who feel that the service of this office for the past two years merits a re-election.
Very Respectfully
J. S. LORD.

DIRTY POLITICS.

The Falls City Journal has seen fit to attack Judge Sedgwick and characterizes him as a railroad hireling. Abating all questions of bad taste which a charge of railroad control from the Journal may suggest, we are impelled to resent its accusation against Judge Sedgwick.

A man with the independence of thought, the pure life, the eminent ability of our Chief Justice should be immune even from the slanderous tongue of the Journal. There should be decency, even in politics, though this precept seems never to have permeated the sensibilities of the remarkable family in control of the Journal. Nebraska has never been blessed with a more honorable, able judge than Sedgwick and to subject him to the attacks of confirmed slanderers savors of dirty politics. Practically all the republicans of Falls City have signed petitions favorable to Judge Sedgwick's candidacy, many taking the trouble to hunt up the petitions and requesting the privilege of signing the same. The warm regard our people have for him will be shown in the primary election, a regard that the tongue of malice cannot destroy.

Why not have a home coming day as suggested on another page of this paper?

The Falls City chautauqua grounds will be the home of all the candidates next week. Everybody and their relatives will be there.

The candidates should bear in mind that the best and only way to get before the people is to put your announcement in the paper. The Tribune offers its services at a nominal price as the best medium to acquaint the voters with your political aspirations.

The Salem Sentinel not content with knocking Falls City's chautauqua and encouraging people to stay away, goes after our 4th of July celebration as a fake and a frost. It's lots more fun to be just and neighborly, Allen, as you would learn if you would but try.

Miss Kate Heacock went to Omaha Wednesday afternoon where she will visit several weeks with her sister, Mrs. Ray Gould.

The program of the Salem chautauqua is out and presents many attractive features. Among the distinguished gentlemen who are on the program we notice Senator Dolliver of Iowa and Representative Adam Bede of Minnesota. Doubtless many of our people will attend the session as it does not occur until several weeks after the local chautauqua is over.

Gov. A. B. Cummins of Iowa will deliver a lecture at the chautauqua next Tuesday afternoon. Gov. Cummins of Iowa must not be confused with the average lecturer who goes about the country telling people what to do for so much per. Rather is he a man who has been doing things all his life. It is not alone what he says that makes him interesting, but what he has done and is doing as well. Gov. Cummins is now serving his third term as Governor of the great state of Iowa. He has enemies, no man of his kind but what has enemies. Sec. Shaw is one of them, so is Perkins of Sioux City and the rest of Iowa's railroad crowd. But the people have no better friend than Cummins. He it was that first started the agitation for tariff revision and he it was that advocated it throughout the nation with such eloquence and force that it has become universally known as the "Iowa idea." He will be here next Tuesday and if you want to hear a real statesman one who will yet be one of the natives greatest and most trusted men you would better make your arrangements to hear Gov. Cummins.

The train service for chautauqua is ideal. The west end people can come down in the morning and return in the evening for 41 will stop at Salem, Dawson and Humboldt during the entire session. Hiawatha, Padonia, Reserve, Stella and Verdon can attend the afternoon and evening sessions and get home on the night Mo. Pac. or they can come on the stubs and hear the evening program.
