Don't let the chautauqua be abandoned. It is too good a thing for our people to let die after such an auspicious opening.

We may now expect J. W. Dewees of Lincoln to come out against Sedgwick because he is too favorably inclined to the railroads.

It may be worth while to advise the Journal that every bridge constructed by its man McCray and on which such a saying was made has been swept away in the recent flood, and new bridges will have to be constructed.

Now are you not proud of our band? The concert it has been giving at the chautauqua have been splendid musical treats. The Verdon people may expect a treat when Mr. Harnack takes this excellent crowd of musicians up to the Pioneer picnic.

To look at the political announcements appearing in last week's issue of The Tribune one would think we were running a democratic paper. The republican candidates will probably overcome their modesty before the campaign is over.

The Burlington railway attacked the constitutionality of the law creating the railway commission just as soon as the commission served notice that the freight rates in this state were too high. The Supreme court decided against the railroad and in favor of the commission. The judge who wrote the opinion was Sedgwick. Will the Journal with its pockets full of B. & M. passes tell the voters of this county who pay exorbitant freight rates why it is fighting Sedgwick?

The Supreme court settled the law of flood waters in this state in a case that went from this county. The law as settled is that a railroad cannot build an embankment across the valley and flood the adjoining land proprietor without paying the damage thereby created. The legal end of the Journal was one of the lawyers for the Burlington in this case. The judge who signed the opinion bears the name of Sedgwick. Will the Journal tell the farmers on the bottom whose crops have been destroyed by the B. & M. embankment why it is fighting Sedgwick?

How foolish it sounds for anyone to complain of the town he lives in. One or two men of Hiawatha have been heard to even curse the town, while the edge of it is only a block or two away, no fence around it and nobody holding them from getting out of it. Hiawatha is a mile square only and there are 3,603.88 square miles of the United States, not counting the Philippine Islands. Plenty of room, you see, for all grumblers to move on.—Hiawatha World.

One of the best features of the chautauqua program was the entertainment by Marvin Williams Wednesday. Those in attendance feel grateful at the privilege of hearing this talented gentleman. Those who did not attend regret not doing so. We hear on all sides nothing but praises. It is considered by all to have been one of the finest features offered by a chautauqua bureau anywhere.

The series of meetings at the Christian church closed on Friday evening with a number of short addresses of welcome to the new members, scripture reading and comments on same by Rev. Allison, words of welcome in behalf of the Bible school by Supt. Oliver, to the young people by Mrs. Bert Nicholson, in behalf of the C. E. society, and a very helpful talk by Uncle Geo. Grinstead on the "New Testament Church." The Christian people were rejoiced during these meetings to see a number confess their Savior and proved by their actions that they in the future intend to serve him. Rev. C. V. Allison of mound City, Mo., who conducted the services, is a young man of ability and power; he won the hearts of the people here and proved an inspiration to all. It is impossible to come in contact with a beautiful life, one who lives close to the master, without becoming better.

The Journal is fighting Sedgwick because he is a railroad candidate. Ye Gods! So was the Journal fighting D. E. Thompson when a member of the gang was a candidate for the state senate. The member, however, voted for Thompson after election.

A few self serving individuals are seeking to stem the tide in favor of Judge Sedgwick by sending out printed matter favorable to Judge Reese. The writer supported Judge Reese in two state conventions and worked for his election. I have known him for many years and would not stultify myself by saying anything derogatory to his character or his ability. He is an excellent man, too good to lend himself to the gang now behind him. Judge Sedgwick is in every essential the logical candidate. He has served his first term. His opinions are models as legal documents, his fairness to every business interest is notorious, his ripe scholarship is universally acknowledged and his integrity is questioned only by those vandals who are so unfamiliar with character as to be unable to recognize it when it is present.

Gov. Cummins speech last Tuesday was pretty radical but it was pretty good stuff just the same. To understand just how true Gov. Cummins is and to understand why it is that he was elected to a third term, the only time such an event ever happened in Iowa, it might be well to state that when he first went into the governor's office he resigned the position of general attorney for the Rock Island railroad. The railroads felt that they had a friend in the new governor, and they had so far as legitimate railroading was concerned. The governor served notice on them that he was now in the employ of the people of Iowa and from that day to this he has never permitted them to forget that fact. The railroads have tried to destroy him and last year spent $250,000 to defeat him for re-nomination but failed. Gov. Cummins expects to be elected to the United States senate to succeed Senator Allison.

Primary Ruling.

The county clerk is in receipt of a communication from the attorney general which seems to settle the matter as to how township officers are to be nominated.

This does not agree with the opinion published in the papers some weeks ago but the county clerk will act on this advise and will not print the names of candidates for township officers on the primary ballot. They will be nominated by caucuses as in former times. The letter from the attorney general reads as follows:

Lincoln, Neb., July 15, '07,
J. Hutchings, Esq.,
County Clerk,
Falls City, Nebr.

Dear Sir:—I have your favor of recent date, in which you ask some questions concerning the primary law.

This law does not apply to township organization. However, under the commission system precinct officers are nominated under the provisions of the primary law.

Yours very truly,
GRANT G. MARTIN,
Assistant Attorney General.

NO JOBS FOR PLAIN

St. Petersburg Postoffice Service Attractive, But Not Efficient.

The Slovo of St. Petersburg recently asked its readers: "Have you ever noticed that the lady assistants in the general post office at St. Petersburg are almost without exception good looking?" Most people might consider this a mere coincidence, but that this is not the case is shown by Miss Petrova, who writes to the newspaper to tell how two friends of hers recently applied for clerkships in the general post office. After a time, the application papers were returned with a formal note to the effect that at present there were no vacancies. The returned documents, however, revealed marginal notes which had been imperfectly obliterated with rubber. One read: "She looks to be over 30, is small, plain and flabby." On the other paper in microscopical characters were the words: "Old maid, tall, bony." The Slovo asks what might have been the marginal notes on the papers of successful candidates and who are responsible for them. It adds that the selection of youth and beauty for this branch of the public service has by no means improved the unsatisfactory condition of the general post office.

KNEW BETTER THAN THAT.

City Youth Could Believe Much but There Was a Limit.

The younger son of a well-known politician of Chicago has spent pretty much all of his life in the big city by the lake, and, consequently, knows little of country ways and things. Not long ago he visited a man he had met in Chicago, and who maintains a big farm near Cairo, whither he had insisted the youngster come for a lengthy stay. One day the Chicago youth was wandering about the farm, closely examining the top, ends and sides of a certain trim, well-made object fenced round in the paddock. "What are you searching for, Jimmy?" asked the owner of the place, with a quizzical smile. "Where are the doors and windows?" asked Jimmy. "Doors and windows! Why, Jimmy, that's a haystack. Look here, old man," exclaimed Jimmy; "I may be only a green person from the city, but you can't bluff me that way. Hay doesn't grow in lumps like that!"—Harper's Weekly.

Real Forbidden Fruit.

In some countries there grows a kind of fruit belonging to the shaddock family and which is commonly called "forbidden fruit." It is similar to grape fruit, but is larger and the inside is somewhat coarser than the delicious acid delicacy of which we are so fond. The name forbidden fruit was given on account of three dark brown stains, like finger marks, which invariably show on this variety of the shaddock. The stains are close together on one side and are believed to be the marks of Eve's fingers left as a brand on the apple whose eating caused so much trouble in the world. Forbidden fruit is much liked by people who are able to get it fresh, but so far it has not been shipped abroad as extensively as its cousin, the grape fruit and shaddock.

Great Land Owner.

The Duke of Northumberland is the largest land owner in England. His estates stretch almost from sea to sea, and he can ride 100 miles and not once leave his own domain. In appearance he is tall and thin, with reddish hair and flowing whiskers. He is old-fashioned in manner, and shows many of the attributes of a grand seigneur. And he has all the pride of the Percys and keeps up to the full their Olympian traditions. He was once heard to say: "You will have to go a long way back in our record to find a Percy who was either idle or a spendthrift." In religion he is an Irvingite, like his father, and he has converted the duchess to his own belief.

Fritz on the Dachshund.

Little Fritz was told to write an essay on his favorite dog and he wrote the following on the dachshund: "Der dachshund was a German dog dot looks like a bologna sausage mit legs. Vonce fader had a dachshund dot vos so long ven ut ran around der block ut had to hold up its head to keep from running over uts hind legs. Der dachshund was an obedient dog, but ven you call him to come quiek he is always long. He can't help ut—he was born dot vay. Above all, der dachshund ves der only member ut der dog's family whose breath comes in long bants. All der rest comes in short bants. Hurrah for der dachshund!"

They Moved Down to Boston.

Mrs. H. G. Wells and other grown-ups have had their merry gibes at Boston, but here is a little miss whose unconscious irony puts their best efforts to shame. "Why," asked Dorothy the other night on going to bed; "why can't we see fairies?" "Because they do not live in the fields and woods here any more," replied her nurse. "Where are they, then—in heaven?" "Perhaps so." "Oh, I know," said Dorothy after a moment of silent thought. "The angels got tired of their old mansions in the skies, so they let the fairies have them and moved to Boston."—Judge.

Not a Botanist.

"When we were out automobiling on the boulevard yesterday I stopped to look at the rhododendrons." "What part of the car is that?"
