Get a free sample of Dr. Shoop's "Health Coffee" at our store. If real coffee disturbs your stomach, your heart or kidneys, then try this clever coffee imitation. Dr. Shoop has closely matched old Java and Mocha coffee in flavor and taste, yet it has not a single grain of real coffee in it. Dr. Shoop's Health Coffee Imitation is made from pure toasted grains or cereals, with malt, nuts, etc. Made in a minute. No tedious wait. You will surely like it. Sold by Fred E. Schmitt.

There is a great deal of indignation because certain men make great amounts of money. "They cannot honestly earn it," the people say. W. J. Bryan receives from $300 to $500 for speaking an hour and a half. Can he honestly earn it? And he is a Reformer, and this great sum is paid him by the Oppressed People, Bryan has made a large fortune telling people of their wrongs, at the rate of $5 a minute. Can he honestly earn it?—Atchison Globe.

Rockefeller's Check.

When the negro messenger in the office of the treasurer of the United States opened one of the letters in the first mail this morning a check for $29,240,000 dropped out. "Lordee," he exclaimed as he looked into the envelope for some letter of transmittal. Finding nothing but the check, he carried it, in the absence of the treasurer of the United States from the city, to the office of the acting secretary of the treasury, Mr. Reynolds.

Mr. Reynolds glanced at the check, then at the envelope, and without appearing to note the perturbation of the messenger, smilingly laid a paper weight on it, and with apparent nonchalance, remarked:

"Ah, some kind friend of Mr. Rockefeller and the Standard Oil company has chosen to pay the fine assessed against that corporation by Judge Landis, of Chicago."

Then the acting secretary turned to his work as though the receipt of checks for $29,240,000 was an everyday occurrence.

Ten minutes later almost everybody in the treasury department had been informed that the great fine against the Standard Oil company had been paid. Twenty minutes later the reporters on the afternoon papers were hurrying towards the treasury building. One of them was accompanied by a photographer, who sought the privilege of photographing the check. Before these reporters had arrived the Associated Press heard the news and called up the acting secretary to inquire if it were true that the Standard Oil fine had been paid.

The envelope in which the check came bore the postmark of the Toledo, O., postoffice.

"Just somebody's idea of playing a practical joke on the government," was Mr. Reynolds' comment.

The blank on which the check was made was that of the Second National of Toledo, but it must have been several years old, for on its face was the imprint of the 2-cent internal revenue stamp required under the special war tax.

The check reads: $29,240,000 Toledo, O., Oct. 8, 1907 Second National Bank of Toledo.

Where Financial Power Rests.

Vast Importance of the Position of the Secretary of the Treasury.

The United States Treasury has upwards of 50 million dollars which it may use to relieve the fall stringency of money that seems as inevitable this year as in any preceding year.

Practically the money markets of the world are relying upon that 50 million dollars in the United States Treasury. It is about the largest sum of free money that there is now available anywhere. Practically everything else is more or less mortgaged, or attached, or tied up, or held back by fear.

Under such condition as these Secretary Cortelyou becomes the most important individual in the financial world during the remainder of this year. He has the situation in his hands. Fortunately he has given evidence in past years of ability to go up to a situation and meet it effectively.

The question is whether 50 million dollars will be found sufficient to supply the elasticity needed by the money markets. A way will be found to make it so.—Wall Street Journal.

State Fair News.

A great stride forward was taken when the State Fair managers decided on a new and modern fish building. You will find the fish in the new building on the opening day and every one of them on dress parade. There will be fish of all kinds, large fish and small fish, fish by the dozen, by the hundred and fish by the thousand. The new brick fish building has a broad porch around the entire building. The fish aquariums made of large plate glass fronts are brought to the openings and you view them as you pass around, not through the building, thus avoiding the crushing crowds of other years.

The races by the men at the State Fair will be interesting, exciting and amusing exhibitions. Geo. M. Pinneo will have charge of this part of the program. A splendid company of men are now in daily training for the event. These races by the men take place between the heats in the horse races, giving a continuous performance.

Wednesday there will be the 100 and the 440 yards dash. The 220 low hurdle. The one mile run. The preliminaries for the country relay race. Two great racing events in one day on the same track worth two admissions, but one admission pays for it all.

Thursday the men's races, or between the heats, there will be the 220 and 880 yards dash. The 120 yards high hurdles, the two mile run and the final in the country relay race.

The county relay race, seven counties have already entered: Custer, Douglas, Gage, Lancaster, Nance, Saline and York. Enough others are at work on the program to carry the entries up to twenty. It is a half mile relay race. Six men enter and four run. The first man runs 220 yards, touches the man who is to relay him; who, in turn, takes up the race for 220 yards and so around the track. Exciting, interesting event.

These races of the men keep the program full to overflowing between the heats of the trotting, pacing and running races.

The letter of Dean Pound of the state university law school published in the State Journal last week was very timely. Dean is in a position to speak of the merits of the scandalous charges some irresponsible newspapers have seen fit to make against Judge Sedgwick. Pound served on the supreme court commission for several years and retired only when the regents of the state university elected him to fill the place formerly held by Judge Reese when he was retired because of advancing years. This letter shows that the opinions of which these newspapers complain were handed down, not by Judge Sedgwick, but by the whole court consisting of Judges Barnes, Holcomb and Sedgwick in one instance and of Barnes, Sedgwick and Letton in the other. If there was anything wrong in the opinions all of these gentlemen were equally at fault. Very few men in this district will believe that Judge Letton would be guilty of dishonorable conduct. Again, Mr. Pound shows that in writing these opinions the court followed what has been the law of this and every other state in the union for many years, and if the court had decided otherwise it would have violated the law because some people were demanding a different decision. Courts should be above public clamor. The preservation of good government depends largely on the stability of law and honorable men to enforce it. If laws are to be violated because of public clamor there is no security for life, liberty or property. To charge Judge Sedgwick with dishonorable conduct because he was true to his oath of office and administered the law in spite of public clamor is a reflection upon the one preferring the charge but certainly not against the man who was true to his duty and who was strong enough to resist the temptation to do otherwise.

Indigestion

Stomach trouble is but a symptom of, and not in itself a true disease. We think of Dyspepsia, Heartburn, and Indigestion as real diseases, yet they are symptoms only of a certain specific nerve sickness—nothing else.

It was this fact that first correctly led Dr. Shoop in the creation of that now very popular Stomach Remedy—Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Going direct to the stomach nerves, alone brought that success and favor to Dr. Shoop and his Restorative. Without that original and highly vital principle, no such lasting accomplishments were ever to be had. For stomach distress, bloating, flatulency, bad breath and salivary complexion, try Dr. Shoop's Restorative—Tablets or Liquid—and see for yourself what it can and will do. We sell and cheerfully recommend.
