MADE IT MORE ATTRACTIVE

Same Offer of Bargains, Put in Different Form, Quickly Cleared Store of Stock.

A merchant in a western city was desirous of reducing his stock without delay, and was willing to make a liberal sacrifice of profits to do so. He announced a 20 to 25 per cent. reduction sale. It was bona-fide and the prices had been cut, but the public had seen such announcements before and was slow to come in. The merchant was discouraged. Then he had an idea. The newspapers next day carried big "ads" announcing that at this store every fourth yard or every fourth article of the same price would be sold for nine cents, no matter whether it was worth ten cents or $50. A woman came in to buy an article which cost five dollars. She bought two others which cost the same amount, and then a fourth, for which she paid only nine cents. The fourth, eighth and twelfth yards of every kind of cloth went for nine cents. The store was packed and jammed and the stock cleared up in a hurry. Yet it was practically the same 25 per cent. reduction sale which had been advertised so unsuccessfully. The proposition was merely put in a more convincing way.

THE LAW OF COMPENSATION.

Bridget had been going out a great deal, and her husband, Mike, was displeased. "Bridget, where do ye spend yer time nights? Ye're out iv'ry avenin' fur two weeks," he said.

"Shut up, Mike! I'm gettin' an education," she answered.

"An' phwat are ye learnin'?" said her indignant husband.

"Why, to-night we learned about the laws of compensation."

"Compensation," said Michael. "What's that?"

"Why, I can't explain; but fur instance, if the sense of smell is poor, the sense of taste is all the sharper, and if ye are blind, ye can hear all the better."

"Ah, yes," said Mike thoughtfully. "I see it's like this. Fur instance, if a man is born wid wid leg shorter than the other, the other is longer."—Sunday Magazine.

HURT HIS FEELINGS.

"I told that poor young widow" began Mrs. Nuritch. "that you'd give her boy work if—"

"Well, I won't" interrupted Nuritch. "She sent him to-day with a note that said: 'I must find employment for my son, even if he works for a mere pittance.' The nerve o' her callin' me 'a mere pittance!'"
