A large barn on the farm occupied by Henry Frank, northwest of town, burned to the ground last Thursday evening about seven o'clock. The stock was taken from the burning building, but a large amount of hay, wheat and ground feed was consumed by the flames. The loss is estimated at $3,000 with but slight insurance. The structure was a new one and was owned by C. F. Frank, but his son Henry has been in charge of the place for a number of years. The origin of the fire is unknown.

THAT'S WHAT WE HAVE OFTEN READ

House Cleaning

with its many doubtful pleasures has a season which is now on. It is not always a pleasant time, but can be made more or less so if the matter was given more thought or preparation. We have just received a fine line of Carpets and Rugs, Oil Cloths, Stove Rugs, Drapery Portieres and Lace Curtains that will please you in price and quality, and if generally bought will make many a home pleasanter and many a house cleaner, happier than if the same old faded things were put back on your floor. Think this over. We have spent many an hour on the subject and want to interest you in what we have purchased just to sell to you.

We also expect to place a luxurious Stearns & Foster Elastic Felt Mattress in many homes for this winter. You know they are the very best to be had. We carry a full line.

We also have a few new Pianos in transit. We are going to SMASH the high prices paid for Pianos and Organs in this town. We carry the best grades and don't want a fortune for them either.

New Furniture arriving daily. In the meantime come in and see

H. & H. NEWS

Standard Yale and Longworth Suits and Overcoats for Young Men.

The Yale
Ederheimer, Stein & Co.
MAKERS

Keep up Appearances

THIS store is run on the theory that the majority of young men want stylish clothes—that they're as jealous of their appearance as any young man, anywhere.

Average clothing, the kind we don't sell, is made in a rush and in large quantities; like they turn out castings in an iron foundry or cut boards from a log in a saw mill. One garment is like another; no individuality; nothing distinctive, inside or out.

Select a Standard, Yale or Longworth suit and overcoat when you next purchase. You'll get style—just as much as you like. You can buy a better garment for $20 than for $10 or $12, of course, but whatever you pay, we guarantee full value in tailoring and wear.

Hargrave & Hargrave

Opposite Post Office

Falls City, Nebraska

Between such clothing and that we sell there is all the difference of ordinary and superior tailoring; and this is the same in clothing as the difference between hot air and live steam in a locomotive.

Each garment we sell is separately made with special care. The tailoring of each part is an operation by itself. This is the foundation of good clothes. Style depends upon it; so does shape and wearing quality. So does appearance.
