All eyes are on the Chicago ball games this week

Coons is the right timber for superintendent.

Now on the square, do you think the reformer will put it back?

The Journal supporting McCray is about the most appropriate thing we know of.

Holt will make an admirable county clerk and will doubtless receive a large vote in the east end of the county.

Vint Arnold will be the next assessor, put that in your hat. The business element of the county is not going to lose such an opportunity to employ a mighty good man.

John Raper and L. M. Pemberton are to be the next district judges, a fact that should please every litigant in the district. No question can be raised as to the character or ability of either of these men.

Just by the way of comparison and not in a complaining spirit we would call attention to the fact that two Auburn papers carried 8½ times as much advertising last week as the three Falls City papers did.

Judge Scott has years of experience behind him and has an unusual knowledge of probate law. His services years ago as county judge have convinced the people that he is the right man to elect this year.

It is not surprising that McCray should lie about John Gilligan and that the Journal should slander John A. Crook. This community is growing so accustomed to the slander of the Journal that neither Gilligan nor Crook need feel any humiliation at the Journal's attitude.

By the way, have you seen anything from Jonny in the way of a denial that he has been systematically overcharging for his work? Has the old story of stop their been forgotten? Would it not be well for this young man to stop trying to distract attention from his wrong doing by shouting graft against other people, and pay a little attention to getting his own house in order?

Is the campaign of slander never to cease? Are those who know the Journal gang and who are manly enough to be their own masters to be submitted to such villanous slander as that reeking sheet gets out each week. When John Martin was in Beatrice trying to keep a Falls City institution from getting employment John Crook told him in very plain language what he thought of him, language that young Martin took like a cowardly cur. He has a safer defense. He publishes a slanderous statement over the signature of Bill McCray and considers himself justified. Mr. McCray and Martin are to be given the opportunity of proving the truth of their cowardly attack in the immediate future.

Ready for You

OUR FALL AND WINTER SHOES are now on the shelf; a most complete line. We can fit you in the proper styles. Why? Because we carry the size. We call special attention to our high tops and work shoes of all kinds. Rubber goods galore just received. We have the over-shoes you want.

The H. M. Jenne Shoe Store

Often overlooked

The public schools too often overlook the practical side of the boy's or the girl's education. It therefore becomes our pleasant duty to assist the boys and girls in getting a knowledge of those things which must shortly concern their financial welfare. Our great effort is to encourage them to save money. Send them to us and we will do our utmost to get them started right.

FALLS CITY STATE BANK

Falls City is becoming quite a live stock sale center. The Tribune has been busy night and day for the past three weeks printing sale catalogues.

Bill McCray won't you please stay home! The board could reduce the levy at least one mill if Bill would just draw his salary and not insist on his extravagant measures.

He isn't much of a newspaper man, and he doesn't stay in one party long enough to know what kind of a party man he would make, but Gee, ain't he a bird of an estimator.

Don't ring us off and tell us we are fourflusing when we say that the Mo. Pac. has ordered its bridge gangs to make Falls City their headquarters and that the boys who claim to know are looking wise and thinking wonderful things.

Wichita won over Omaha for the championship of the two leagues of which they are members. It might not be out of place to say that John Holland, the Falls City boy, is manager of the Wichita team and won the deciding game by making two home runs.

There ought to be room enough in Falls City for every legitimate enterprise. There should be a welcome for every institution that brings wealth to the town. There should be a Falls City spirit that would frown upon every effort to destroy or injure those enterprises that make for a better and more prosperous town. We haven't got it and every one knows why.

You say that you are tired of a newspaper war. Can you suggest a remedy? The Tribune dislikes and deplores it as much as you, but can a paper remain silent under constant attacks on itself and other worthy enterprises? Has this paper ever done more than defend Falls City institutions against the attacks of an irresponsible crowd that has foisted itself on the community. The plain truth of the matter is that the remedy for such an evil is to refuse to patronize any institution that spends its energies in opposition to this community.

CONVERTS TO MOSLEM FAITH

Philadelphia Has Coterie of Citizens Who Follow the Teachings of Mahomet.

"Probably the fact that there are a number of Buddhists in Philadelphia is not news," says a local observer, "but you may be surprised to learn that there is quite a gathering here of Americans who are Mohammedans—that is, who have become converts to the Moslem faith. Their number is about 20 and they meet in one another's houses from time to time for worship. How they came to join the Mohammedan faith is more than I know, but of the fact that they did there is no doubt. One of their number, who formerly lived in Turkey, has been the chief proselyter, and it has been his function to translate and comment upon the Koran, or Mohammedan Bible. The circle is very exclusive and seeks to avoid notice. At present its members are scattered among the summer resorts, as they are mostly persons of means."—Philadelphia Record.

WHEN NOT TO SEE.

The shabby spider met the prosperous mole.

"You are looking unusually well," said the spider. "What are you following now?"

"Why, I am a government inspector," replied the mole, with a sly wink.

"Government inspector? Why, I was a government inspector and couldn't make salt. I have eight eyes, too."

The mole smiled.
"That's just the trouble. You saw too much. Remember, I am blind. That's why I make a good government inspector."

WOMAN DOING GOOD WORK.

Dr. Mary Stone, who is the head of an American hospital in Kiuklang, central China, lately returned to this country to be operated upon for appendicitis. She has recovered, is now in New York and will return to China in the fall. She graduated from Ann Arbor ten years ago and is said to be the only educated physician in a province containing 5,000,000 people. Last year she personally treated more than 14,000 patients.

NO MORE DEADLOCKS.

Old Lawyer—Yes, sir, I'm in favor of woman jurors. If we had women to fix up the verdicts there would be no more disagreements or deadlocks.

Young attorney—How do you figure that out?

Old Lawyer—All that would be necessary to get a quick verdict would be to send a newspaper to the jury room containing a bargain advertisement good for that day only.—Chicago Daily News.

A CHANCE FOR HER.

"What I would like," said the eager young actress, "is a part with a death scene in it. I never fail to make a big hit when I die."

"I don't doubt it," replied the heartless manager, "and I may say that you would make the biggest hit of your life if you would go away somewhere and die right now."

MARK TWAIN, PHILOSOPHER.

Mark Twain is a philosopher who uses laughter as his medium; when he jests it would seem as though he did so out of kindness. He puts on the cap and bells instead of crown or mitre, but with the same purpose.—London New Age.

TO HARNESS OCEAN TIDES

Experiments Made in Maine Show Progress Toward Success That Will Mean Much.

Great progress toward successful harnessing of the tides by which it is hoped to save the vast amount of tidal energy now going to waste and devote it to the operation of mills, quarries, factories and other establishments needing a driving force is being made in South Thomaston, Me. Experiments on an extensive scale are being conducted, and it is hoped may solve the problem which has taxed the inventive minds of engineers all over the world. A basin with an area of a little more than one square mile is being used for the operations, and a 12-foot rise in the tide makes it well adapted for the work. Promoters of the experiment plan to store the tide power in compressed air apparatus and transmit it to lime quarries and factories along the coast by a pipe line.

RURAL FREE DELIVERY.

"The rural free-delivery system has caused us no end of extra work," said the publisher of a trade journal that has a large country circulation. "Probably not even the postal authorities realize so clearly as the man who has a heavy country correspondence how rapidly the rural free-delivery system has grown in the last two years. The books containing the address of our country correspondents and subscribers have had to be entirely overhauled. Scores of little post-offices have literally been wiped off the list, and John Smith and hundreds of other men who formerly had their mail addressed to their home village are now on route number two, three or four of the delivery system of a good-sized town."

HER BRILLIANT IDEA.

Professor—Some of the grandest inventions of the age have been the result of accidental discoveries.

Young Lady—I can readily believe it. Why I made an important discovery myself, and it was the purest accident, too.

"I should much like to hear it."

"Why, I found that, by keeping a bottle of ink handy, a fountain pen can be used just the same as any other pen—without any of the bother and mess of filling it."

PERFECTLY HARMLESS.

The old bachelor was dining at the home of a newly-married friend.

"Have a piece of this cake, Mr. Oldbach," said the fair hostess. "I made it myself."

"Thank you," rejoined Oldbach, "but I—er—seldom eat cake."

"Oh, you needn't be afraid of it, Oldbach," said the host. "I tried a piece of it on a tramp this morning."

WANTS NO YOUNG WOMEN.

The chief of the Ghent police, who is organizing a brigade of police-women, proposes to take on none except women of from 40 to 50. At that age he thinks the sex has reached years of discretion, and has sufficient experience of life and human nature.

A COMPLIMENT.

Mrs. Newliwed—Mr. Rakeleigh had the audacity to say I was "ugly as sin."

Mr. Newliwed—My dear, coming from Rakeleigh, that's a compliment. He proves by his general conduct that he considers sin anything but ugly.

HAD POOR IDEA OF FUN

Messenger Boy's "Joke" in This Case Was Connected with Working Recoil Attachment.

A boy who was until recently employed as a messenger at one of the local telegraph offices has an over-weening sense of humor, says the Duluth News-Tribune. It is of the penetrating type, which nearly always furnishes the laugh for him alone and regrets for the other fellow. In fact, he recently left the employ of the company rather unceremoniously because of it. Business was dull one day and, overcome by ennui, the boy in question went to the telephone. He called up the home of one of the other employes and asked for the latter's mother.

"I am awfully sorry to have to tell you, Mrs. Blank," he said, "but your son was just run over and had his leg cut off."

Then he hung up. Fortunately the conversation was overheard and the frantic woman quickly reassured.

"Why did you do it?" asked the manager.

"Just for fun."

"Well, I know something funnier than that," said the manager. "You get out of here just for fun and don't come back, just for fun or anything else."

DAYS OF WHALING GONE.

"Newfoundland's coastwise whale fishery, of which so much was expected, has utterly collapsed," writes Consul Cornelius at St. Johns. "Started about ten years ago, with modern steamers and equipment, the first operators did so well that from a single ship it grew to 17. The result was the speedy killing out of the herds of gigantic mammals, 1,500 of which were destroyed in a single year. Gradually, however, the catch fell off, and within the past year six or seven of the steamers have been sold for similar work on the British Columbia and Japanese coasts, while the companies owning them have gone into liquidation. During the season of 1907 it is not expected that there will be more than seven or eight whalers operating in all."

TOLD OF SECRETARY ROOT.

When Secretary Root was at Panama on his return from South America, Gov. Magoon gave him a dinner, at which were present various dignitaries. An invited banker who failed to appear called next day with explanations. A birth had occurred just at that time in his family, by which another girl had been added to six predecessors.

"Too bad it was not a boy," said Gov. Magoon, "you might have called him Elihu Root."

"Oh," said the father, "we had decided to call him that if the child had been a boy. But not being able to call the child exactly that, I shall call her Rootine."

ARCTIC PHENOMENA.

One of the peculiar phenomena of the Arctic regions is "sea smoke." Explorers tell of a steam as if from a boiling kettle which rises from the water when the temperature is 15 degrees below zero. At 40 degrees the snow and human bodies emit this vapor, which changes into tiny icy particles which fill the air and make a light noise like the rustle of silk. At 40 degrees tree trunks burst with a loud report, rocks break up and streams of smoking water flow from great cracks in the earth's surface, knives break in cutting butter and lighted cigars go out by contact with the ice upon the beard.
