

In the character of the Young Men's Clothing offered, this store fulfills the highest possible mission of a modern retail establishment.

In fact our ambition is not so much to have the biggest business as it is to have the best business in the city. If bigness comes, as it often does, from a policy of creating a new standard of quality, of thorough, progressive merchandising, then we accept bigness as the result of our efforts rather than the object of them.

We succeed in giving young men something decidedly different and better in style and appearance than is to be found elsewhere.

Our goods don't run to the absurd or eccentric; but they are chock full of originality, of new features here and there that are effective because of good taste.

If you want distinction in your clothes, a style and pattern that will separate you from ordinary dressers, appearance that gives an air of refinement without stiffness, there's just one store to visit. It's this one.

Market Letter.

Kansas City Stock Yards, Oct. 21, 1907. Cattle run last week was 90,800 head, including 14,600 calves, and the market ruled steady to a shade lower on nearly everything. Some fancy show steers sold at $7.75 to $8.25, but the top on the general market was $6.90. Supply today is 20,000 head, including 2000 calves, market barely steady, account of the adverse influence of the excessive supply of 38,000 head centered at Chicago today. The best steers here today are not top notchers, fair to good fed steers, selling at $6.00 to $6.50, short fed steers $5.50 up, and grass steers $3.75 to $5.25. Grass cows bring $2.75 to $3.75, several big strings of Southwestern Kansas cows, around 900 pounds, at $3.25 and $3.35, grass heifers $3.00 to $4.25, a few fed heifers above $5.00, veal calves up to $6.50, heavy calves $3.25 to $4.50. Trade in stockers and feeders slackened up after Thursday last week, yet the total outgo was more than 1000 car loads for the week. Some stockers exhibited in the range cattle division of the Show sold at $4.75 to $5.00, but range stockers sold on the general market at $3.25 to $4.40, feeders $3.74 to $4.50. The market on country kinds today is stronger than the close of last week, although there have been prediction of a let up in the buying because of the high price of corn and other fed supplies from the range country will continue liberal as long as the weather is pleasant, but will drop off with the advent of the first bad storm over the range country.

The hog situation is not as good as last week. Prices declined 10 cents last week, after various fluctuations, and the market is 10 to 15 lower today. Receipts last week were 49,000 head, somewhat larger than recent weeks, and an increase over a year ago, run today 6500 head. A small lot of hogs sold today to $6.35, but top on loads to packers was $6.25, bulk of sales $6.10 to $6.20. Heavy hogs are selling within 5 to 10 cents of the top, medium weights and lights selling close together, at the top, although a good many inferior light hogs and pigs sell farther down the line. A good shipping demand continues, which keeps light weights up with the others. Sheep and lambs come in smaller numbers last week, and the market made slight gains during the week. Supply today is 10,000 head, market steady. A good share of the supply is suitable for the country, and demand for this class continues good, with prices 25 to 50 cents below the high time a month ago. Feeding lambs bring $6.00 to $6.60, wethers and yearlings up to $5.50, breeding ewes $4.25 to $5.75. Fat lambs are worth $7.00 to $7.25, wethers and yearlings $5.00 to $5.50, ewes $4.75 to $5.26.

The merchant who believes "that advertising is just throwing away money," can hardly hold out well when there is any competition to meet. He might succeed in running a cross road store in some pioneer country, but he has little place in the business world where it is essential that up-to-date methods be employed.

The Republican State Platform

Points with pride to the achievements of the Republican party under the splendid leadership of Theodore Roosevelt, and insists that his successor shall be a man who will continue the Roosevelt policies, and suggests Secretary Taft as such a man.

Commends the present State officials, for their care of the State institutions, maintaining the credit of the State, and reducing the State debt.

Commends the Nebraska delegation in Congress.

Calls attention to the magnificent record of the last Legislature which carried out the pledges of the Republican party, as follows:

"1. A statewide direct primary.
"2. Abolition of the free pass evil.
"3. Comprehensive powers for the state railway commission.

"4. More equitable rates for transportation of passengers and freight.

"5. Equal taxation of railroad property for city purposes.

"6. Abolition of fellow servant law and full employer's liability.

"7. A pure food and daily law.

"8. Rigid economy in appropriations.

Endorses the direct primary, and pledges such amendments as shall improve its workings.

Commends the good work of the state railway commission, in its efforts to secure better freight rates for the people of the state. Calls for the rigid enforcement of the anti-pass law.

Declares that in suits at law corporations should be deemed citizens of every state where they have filed articles of incorporation or exercised the rights of eminent domain.

Favors an enactment of the federal law forbidding the federal courts from issuing writs of injunction against state officers charged with the enforcement of state statutes.

Regards with high favor the nominees on the state ticket and invites voters who believe in official probity and efficiency to join in electing them.

The Real Meaning of Thanksgiving

Thanksgiving is of little value if our expressions of gratitude have no effect upon our own conduct. Appreciation of blessings is shown by acts rather than by words. If we regard citizenship as a priceless inheritance, we should resolve to transmit it, not only unimpaired but improved, to the next generation; if our educational system has been a boon to us, it should be extended and amplified for the benefit of posterity, if the resources of our country have a value beyond computation, it behooves us to see to it that these resources are not squandered, and that the bounties which the Creator intended for all shall not be monopolized by the cunning, the craft, and the avarice of a few; if our government gives to life, liberty, and prosperity greater protection than other any government grants, we can not excuse ourselves if we fail to preserve it, in all its purity, for our children and our children's children; if in our religion we find a consolation, a life-plan, and a moral uplift, we can not but earnestly desire—and embody the desire in deeds—that these shall be shared by those about us and by those also who, tho separated from us by seas, are bound to us by that primal tie that links each human being to every other.—Circle.
