We Are with You

We agree with the News in all it said in last week's issue in regard to hard driving of horses by certain delivery boys in this city, and think a halt should be called even if compelled to make an example of some of them. We go a step further, however, and say the same dose should be administered to drivers who overload their horses. We have in our mind a driver for one of our coal firms who certainly goes the limit when it comes to overloading his team. One day recently we saw his poor horses fall three times in their effort to pull a load of coal over a crossing, the driver using his lash in trying to make them do what was almost impossible. A few strokes from this same lash would be too good for such an inhuman act.

Called to Her Home Above.

It was indeed a shock and a great sorrow to her friends in Beaver City, when it was announced, last Friday, that Allie Shafer had broken "the tie that binds" to things terrestrial and her spirit had winged its way to the celestial realm. The sadness of her death is enhanced by the fact that she was in the prime of young womanhood and was the joy of her family, and the general favorite of a large acquaintance.

Allie L. Shafer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Shafer, was born in Falls City, Neb., March 20, 1876. Later the family moved to Furnas county, and three years ago to Beaver City. On last Friday Allie died from typhoid fever and left the home full of sadness for the loss of a faithful sister and loving daughter. From childhood her life was marked with the spirit of self sacrifice for the sake to others. She was a real helper to parents, and younger brother and sisters.

Faithful in the home the same spirit has characterized her work at the Mercantile store where, for a number of months she has been clerking.

About ten years ago she united with the church. In her relation to the church fidelity has marked her every day life even until the end. Her family and friends have in their sorrow a real consolation in the hope that she is now safe with her Lord.

Two brothers and two sisters passed away in infancy. Four sisters and two brothers remain to share with father and mother the loneliness over the departure of the deceased. A large circle of friends and relatives, attended the funeral at the Christian church, on Tuesday at 2 p. m. In the absence of her pastor, Rev. J. G. Russel preached the sermon.

The Royal Neighbors, of which she was an honored member, attended the services in a body and six from their number acted as pall bearers.

The floral offerings were many and beautiful.

The remains were laid to rest in the Beaver City cemetery.

To the family we wish to express our real sympathy in the hour of their severe affliction.

"Allie thou wast mild and lovely, Gentle as the summer breeze, Lovely as the evening zephyr When it floats among the trees"—Beaver City Tribune.

Often overlooked

The public schools too often overlook the practical side of the boy's or the girl's education. It therefore becomes our pleasant duty to assist the boys and girls in getting a knowledge of those things which must shortly concern their financial welfare. Our great effort is to encourage them to save money. Send them to us and we will do our utmost to get them started right.

REAL ECONOMY.

"How is it that you manage to smoke such expensive cigars?"
"Oh, you see, my wife is studying economy."

BABY NEEDS "LETTING ALONE."

Most of the earlier months of an infant's life should be spent in sleep, and for the first six months of its life it should be kept very quiet.

Too much talking to and fussing a tiny infant is very bad, and though a child of a year or so old that has been made much of may appear unusually bright and intelligent, it is not good for the little brain to be over-excited and developed, and a reaction may come sooner or later, and the brilliant baby turn out the dunce of the class.

Many great men were to all appearances "stupid" children, their brains developing more slowly and maturing at a later date than those of their more averagely endowed brothers and sisters.—Chicago Journal.

WOMAN AND HER WATCH.

Watchmakers say it's amazing women have timepieces that go at all, in view of the fact that about five women in a hundred wind their watches at the proper time. The average woman looks on the winding of a watch either as a ceremony to be performed only on gala days or as a pastime that will do well enough as a stop-gap for idle moments, but must not be permitted to interfere with the serious things of life. The explanation probably is that she doesn't wear it every day. A man looks on his watch as a constant companion, and if he is fortunate enough to possess a good one, also as a faithful servant.

PAJAMAS UNKNOWN.

A Philadelphia man who has been traveling in the west says that pajamas are not popular articles of wearing apparel out there, and cites an incident to prove his statement. While staying at a hotel in a medium-sized town he sent a pair of rather gray colored pajamas (his wife's choice) to a laundry. When they came back they were starched so stiff they would stand alone, and each trousers leg was carefully pressed into the most approved crease. Attached to the coat was pinned a small slip of paper bearing the words: "To one lawn tennis suit fifty cents."

APPROPRIATELY NAMED.

The boy in the paint store dashed hurriedly up the cellar steps and sought the proprietor.

"There's a barrel leaking in the basement!" he cried, "and the automobile stuff is just pouring out."
"Why do you call it automobile stuff?" asked the proprietor.
"It's running over everything in sight."—Judge.

The Youth's Companion Calendar For 1908.

The publishers of The Youth's Companion will as always at this season, present to every subscriber whose subscription ($1.75) is paid for 1908 a beautiful Calendar for the new year. Four paintings by artists of distinction are reproduced in the four panels of the Calendar by a process of color-printing which has been recently brought to remarkable excellence. The first of the panels is an inspiring sea scene, full of the beauty of the wide ocean and sky, and the joyous rush of the homeward-bound ship. The second is a fine cattle piece. The third pictures an old mill at Zaandam—typically Dutch in treatment. The fourth panel depicts a "Girl with Roses"—a charming face, exquisite in color and expression. All the pictures are worthy of preservation long after 1908 has passed into the good old times.

Dates Changed.

The dates for the Women's Diocesan Auxiliary to be held in the Episcopal church in this city, have been changed from December 5th and 6th to one week later, thus making it possible for more delegates to be present.

This promises to be one of the most interesting meetings of the kind ever held in our city and it is earnestly hoped that our people will unite in making it a success. Bishop Williams will deliver the address on Wednesday evening, and there will be other noted speakers present, including a returned missionary from Alaska. About thirty lady delegates are expected, and also many of the clergy of the state. Remember the change in dates.

Henry E. Jones of Tampa, Fla., writes: "I can thank God for my present health, due to Foley's Kidney Cure. I tried doctors and all kinds of kidney cures, but nothing done me much good until I took Foley's Kidney Cure. Four bottles cured me, and I have no more pain in my back and shoulders. I am 62 years old, and suffered long, but thanks to Foley's Kidney Cure. I am well and can walk and enjoy myself. It is a pleasure to recommend it to those needing a kidney medicine." The Universal Grouch.

If every day were sunny, you'd always yell for rain, if mud were only money, of wealth you'd soon complain. If girls were always beauties, you'd hunt an ugly dame; if joys were ever duties, delight would be a shame. If motor cars were given, and not put out for sale, you'd think it would be heaven to ride upon a rail. If dog days came at New Years, and blizzards came in June, this world would have so few tears that life would be a tune. We may be cranks and fogies, and yet we ever wish, that cabbages were stogies, and folderols were fish. We all may be demented, because we find no bliss; but who could be contented in such a world as this?—Walt Mason.

The finest Coffee Substitute ever made, has recently been produced by Dr. Shoop of Racine, Wis. You don't have to boil it twenty or thirty minutes. "Made in a minute" says the doctor. "Health Coffee" is really the closest coffee imitation ever yet produced. Not a grain of real coffee in it either. Health Coffee Imitation is made from pure toasted cereals or grains, with malt, nuts, etc. Really it would fool an expert—were he to unknowingly drink it for coffee. Fred E. Schmitt.

Prof. J. W. Searson Innocent.

James W. Searson, professor of literature at the Peru State Normal school, was exonerated from the charge of attempted assault brought against him by Miss Catherine Hudson. The jury before which he was tried brought in a verdict of not guilty Monday morning. Professor Searson left immediately with his wife to resume his position as instructor, which he has held for a number of years.
