Market Letter.

Kansas City Stock Yards, Nov. 25, 1907. Cattle receipts were checked after Tuesday of last week, and the general market closed the week 15 to 25c higher than the first days. There is an over supply today at Chicago, and the feeling is weak, although here is only 12,000 head, several thousand less than on last Monday. Conditions are still nervous in the live stock markets, but more settled than a week ago and everything was cleaned up better last week than any time since the financial troubles began. Country buyers were numerous last week, and prices on stockers and feeders ranged from steady to a quarter higher by the end of the week, and this class is strong today. Top price for fed steers last week was $5.80 on Thursday, but the best up to noon today sold at $5.30, and good steers sell around $5, short fed steers $4.25 to $5, grass westerns $3.40 to $4.25, cows $2.25 to $4, heifers $3 to $5, bulls $2.15 to $3.75, top veals $6.75, heavy calves $3.50 to $4.25. Killing calves advanced 15c last week, packers sorting out suitable stuff from heavy grades more freely than usual. There is a tendency to market stuff on feed at once, because of the unfavorable turn of the market in the last month and its discouragement to feeders. On the other hand a good many cattle are being bought for the country, 375 car loads out last week, on the ground that present prices, $2.75 to $3.75 for stockers and $3.35 to $3.90 for bulk of feeders, are on a basis that mean a profit to the buyer.

The most sensational break of the year in hog prices occurred last week, the market making a net less of $1.07 per cwt, and closing Saturday $2.50 per cwt lower than 45 days ago. Buyers were not satisfied yet, however, and took off 10 to 20c today on a run of 9000 head, leaving the top at $4, bulk of sales $3.75 to $3.95. Pigs dropped 35 to 50c today, with the disappearance of the Thanksgiving demand, and heavy weights took an impressive lead today, which they will likely hold for some time.

The character of the sheep and lamb supply is changing, fed stock not more prominent in the supply than a week ago. Range stuff is scarce, and will rapidly disappear from now on. Markets advanced a little last week, barely steady today, run 9000 head, fed lambs at $6.25, fair to good lambs $5.80 to $6.10, feeding lambs $4.90 to $5.20, fed weathers $4.80, ewes $4.35, yearlings $5.20, feeding sheep $3.25 to $4.25.

The Villian

How easy it is to be a brave man in a play! The villian is always a coward who cringes when the hero denounces him. The hero is always the largest and the best looking, and everything always happens in a manner to show off his generosity, magnanimity and bravery. But it is not always that way in real life. Scoundrels are often imprudent, good looking, popular, and unsuccessful, and, while the right usually triumphs, it is at the end of a long life, and after a great deal of trouble. Dishonesty and meanness of every kind will out, but the process is slow, in real life. On the stage, men and women are either too good or too bad.

AT OLD SWEET SPRINGS

Beautiful Spot in Mountains of West Virginia That Has Many Attractions.

In the mountains of West Virginia, which are not as well known to the country at large as they deserve to be, are many lovely spots, that are summer resorts as well as beautiful resting places in spring and fall. Old Sweet Springs is such a place. It is far above the sea level, and there has been a hotel there ever since 1792. George and Martha Washington spent the summer of 1797 there, and there Jerome Bonaparte met Elizabeth Patterson. There, too, is still standing the "Lewis Cottage," said to have been the first house erected west of the Alleghenies. There is a golf course at Old Sweet Springs which is said to be very fine; anyway, there is a mint patch by the brook. The springs themselves are believed to cure nearly everything, including dandruff! Without vouching for this latter fact, doubtless if you play golf every day without a hat, they will help.—Travel Magazine.

REPORTER WAS PERSISTENT.

Cardinal Gibbons, the venerable head of the Catholic church in America, is one of the most democratic men in the country. He also enjoys a good joke, even when told at his own expense. He once related how a Baltimore newspaper man who may have been more zealous in journalism than learned in religion called at the cardinal's house one day to ask his eminence for information concerning some church matter.

"The cardinal is out of the city," said Father Fletcher, who received the caller.

"Then may I see Mrs. Gibbons?" was the startling request that followed.

NEW KIND OF TRAMP JOKE.

Mrs. Tompkins—What makes a strong looking fellow like you go to begging?

George Washington Smith—Madam, I cannot tell a lie. It's because I don't like work.

VOICE AND MANNER.

External gifts of voice and manner, apart from more solid acquirements, may deceive and dazzle the unwary and make a slender stock of ideas go a long way with an uneducated or half-educated auditory. But such superficial qualities in the long run lose their effect, even on uncritical ears, and to the better instructed may even become offensive as a kind of tacit insult to their judgment.—John Caird.

LONG LIFE.

Dr. Wiley, the pure food man, says that in the last half century the average length of human life has advanced from thirty-three to nearly forty years, and he predicts that within 200 years it will have risen to fifty. The record is gratifying; the prospect is most cheering, but Dr. Wiley with the customary conservatism has minimized the expectations of improvement that he must naturally entertain.

SANE DRIVERS DESPISE MANIACS

There is no criticism of the sane automobilist—the majority, in fact, of those who make delightful use of this fine modern luxury. The wild recklessness of the dangerous automobilist is equally despised by other automobilists and by the rest of the public. The fact is shown by the formation and activity of such organizations as the Safe Roads Automobile association and the Automobile Owners' association.

BETTER THAN ENOUGH.

Mrs. McCall—So you like to go to dinner at your grandmother's, eh?

Willie—Yes'm.

Mrs. McCall—Because you're always sure to get enough to eat there, eh?

Willie—Oh, my! It's because I'm always sure to get too much.

Hundred Million in Twenty Years.

Washington, Nov. 25.—Director of Census S. N. D. North says that the population of continental United States, June 1, 1907, was 85,244,581. He prophesies that the population of the United States, June 1, 1927, twenty years hence, will be 112,306,000.

"These figures," he says, "are the result of a simple calculation, based upon the growth of the population of the United States from census to census, the arbitrary rule by which this calculation is made assuming that the annual percentage of growth which these censuses reveal will continue in the future. The rule works well enough when applied to the whole country and to a single decade, or even to two decades. I entertain little doubt that the estimate of a population of 111,306,000 in 1927 will prove to be within 5,000,000 of the actual fact."

THE MAJESTIC Oven Rack is non-breakable, made of Malleable Iron, and is so constructed that it easily slides out of oven, holding any weight it may contain.
