

Will Not Sell Packages

The National Biscuit company, greatest soda cracker company in the United States and a combination that is rated in importance with the largest and most aggressive in the country, will quit doing business in Nebraska, aside from the sale of its bulk product, principally because Attorney General Thompson and Food Commissioner Johnson asserted that the company had to comply with the law. The National Biscuit company refused to brand its packages in accordance with the Nebraska law, saying that it would cost thousands of dollars to mark the weight of each package.

The local agent of the company notified all retail grocers late Tuesday afternoon that the alleged trust would quit doing business in Nebraska. It is said that the National controlled seven-eighths of the business in the state and that its package business was about half of its entire trade.

This means a great opening for other cracker factories in Nebraska. From these companies, all of which have been complying with the Nebraska law, local grocers say that they can secure goods that are equally as good as those of the National Biscuit company and that they can secure these at a price about equal to what they have been paying. All of the package goods at the local store house will be shipped back to Chicago.

The National Biscuit company was one of the most thorough-going organizations that entered Nebraska. The company bought up all competitors, and moved the plants to central points. The Jones-Douglas cracker factory of Lincoln was one of the various factories absorbed. The machinery from this plant was moved to Omaha.

The dispute about branding packages which has led to the recent announcement followed from the law passed at the last legislature. This provided that packages were misbranded if their actual weight was not plainly marked. The 5c package put up by the National Biscuit company purported to be a half-pound package. It contained from 4 to 6 ounces, says the food commissioner. At this rate the company was holding up the retail price of soda crackers to more than 15c per pound, the bulk price of similar goods being 8 1/2 cents. The variation in the weight of the package meant that the company must weigh each package if it would conform to the law. From the opinion of Attorney General Thompson it was understood that variations in weight from the brand directly traceable to loss or gain by evaporation or liquefaction would not be regarded as infringements of the law.

Local dealers, in selling their stock of National Biscuit goods, have violated the law, and many of them exhibited fear of prosecution when the branding of packages was most discussed. From now on dealers will not be forced to sell other than goods put up in accordance with the requirements of the pure food law.

The boy who will wrap a wire about a poor dog's tail until it cuts into the flesh, and then attach a tin can to the wire, may not be a boy who is on the road to the penitentiary, but he is a cowardly boy just the same. That boy would strike his little sister in the face, if he were not afraid of father. It is always a coward who hurts a child, or a dumb animal which cannot defend itself. A brave boy always fights somebody able to fight back. Say, boys—even mother would be ashamed of us if she should see her boy fighting something or somebody not able to fight back. Let's not do anything to make mother ashamed of us.—Columbus Telegram.

Fast Train Will Be Put On In Near Future

As a direct result of the recent improvement in the Missouri Pacific it is said that when the road completes the rebuilding work now in progress on its lines in Nebraska, that a new schedule will be put into effect by which the time from Lincoln to Kansas City will be shortened to about five hours. This will be a great convenience to parties in this vicinity.

The improvement in the line will make it possible for the road to make better time on all of its lines in Nebraska. An idea of the amount of improvement being made on the system, is given here, with hence it may be seen how it is possible to reduce the time made by the former schedule.

Through the Missouri Pacific offices in Omaha comes the statement that George Gould, owner of the road, is now doing more work on improving his road and building another, the Western Pacific, to the coast, than is being done at present on the Panama canal, where 30,000 men are employed. Gould is spending $2,000,000 per month. One-fourth the amount goes for the betterment of the Missouri Pacific and its connections controlled by Gould, and the balance for the construction of the Western Pacific.

Because such a great amount of money is being expended by Gould in taking advantage of the present cheap labor market, the Missouri Pacific railroad was compelled Thursday to issue its semi-annual dividend of 2 1/2 per cent payable in stock rather than in cash.

The money is being held to pay laborers and to keep construction work going.

At the division offices in Omaha, it is said that $10,000 a week is now being spent in the improvement of the Nebraska division of the Missouri Pacific.—Auburn Herald.

THE DREAD RED DEATH

Fangs of the Blood Snake of Central America Fatal to All Who Are Stricken.

It will be remembered that Edgar Allan Poe, in his "Masque of the Red Death," described a plague, the main symptom of which was a bleeding from the pores of the body.

In Central America the Red Death is personified in the Blood Snake, or, as the Spaniards call it, Vivora Sangre. This snake is of a red-tinged black on the back, while underneath it is of a bright vermilion. Its deadly work is easily recognizable in the condition of the victim. An Indian cattleman, finding a cow bleeding at the nose, eyes and ears, and perspiring blood at every pore, does not hesitate to blame it on Vivora Sangre. Unfortunately, the effect upon the human being is the same, and our Indian friend quite realizes it when he lights a cheroot, gathers his blanket around him, and stoically sits down to await the meeting with his forefathers.

FOUND GREAT CAVE.

The gold prospectors recently discovered in the Santa Susanna mountains, about fifty miles from Los Angeles, Cal., the largest and most remarkable cave in western America. While looking for indications of gold they found an opening. The opening led to a great cavern consisting of many passages, some of them wide, but most of them narrow and lofty. The passages led into great halls, some containing an acre, studded with stalagmites and stalactites, in some cases so thickly that it is difficult to get through. The walls of one of these halls are covered with rude drawings, some almost obliterated, but others still clear. The drawings represent incidents of the chase, showing Indians on foot pursuing bear, deer and other animals. One wall painting shows the bear pursuing the hunter.

PEW RIGHTS IN ENGLAND.

The legality of a claim to a family pew was raised at Carlisle Consistory court yesterday.

Permission was granted for alterations to Heskett church, Cumberland, which will necessitate the removal from the chancel of a family pew, the occupants of which applied for a fresh pew in its place.

The applicant, Captain James, of Barrock Lodge, claimed that his family had used the pew for nearly a hundred years, and that they had ancestors buried beneath it.

Chancellor Prescott ruled that the family had no legal right to the pew. The privilege had been granted to a former owner of Barrock Lodge, and could not be transferred to subsequent owners of the estate.—London Daily Mail.

CURIOSITY IN BULGARIA.

Prof. De Launay says that there is in Bulgaria a group of natural columns much like the Giant's Causeway in Ireland. On the edge of a plateau in the open country rises this forest of natural columns, which gives the impression of an antique ruin. The columns, which are about fifteen to twenty feet high, are absolutely cylindrical, and they are often as much as three feet thick. The stratification of the rock resembles joints, and vertical erosion due to rain has formed Doric flutings.

MULES WERE REAL ONES

Simple Explanation of Order That for a Time Puzzled Guest of Hotel.

"I saw a funny thing in the register of a hostelry in the Grand Canyon of the Colorado," said a Chicago man who had just returned from a trip through the west. "I stepped up to the desk to register when I saw an entry just above the space I was destined to fill. The line read as follows:

"Mr. and Mrs. John Jones, Arkansas. 2 mules."

"The words '2 mules,' were not in the same handwriting as those giving the names of recent arrivals. A wild idea flashed through my mind that the hotel clerk must be in the habit of characterizing the guests. My natural curiosity prompted me to make inquiries.

"Oh, the mules?" replied the presiding genius of the hotel. "That means that Mr. Jones and his wife are going to ride down the Canyon to-morrow morning. Quite a party making the trip. Would you like to go?"

"Yes," I said.

"And I had the pleasure of seeing him write '1 mule' after my name."

A PROSPEROUS COLONY.

In the state of Victoria, Australia, the railway revenue for 1907 fiscal year was $20,050,000, the highest on record, while the working expenses were less than 52 per cent. of the revenue, the lowest for 28 years. The number of savings bank depositors increased by 25,000. Forty per cent. of the entire population has deposits. The amount at their credit on June 30 last was $64,000,000, an increase for the year of $5,140,000. Overseas exports, exclusive of gold, amounted to $62,000,000, an increase of 250 per cent. over 1903. The colony's overseas imports amounted to $75,000,000. The exports to other states were nearly $25,000,000. The government revenue for the year was $41,565,000, and the expenditure only $37,505,000, creating a surplus of $4,060,000.

WHY DICKENS LIVES.

Why is it that the sales of Dickens' works, in English alone, amount in a single year to more than those of any later novelist during his whole lifetime? The readers of his novels do not lack intelligence, and a good number of them are of a sufficiently advanced culture to detect his faults. But whatever the higher criticism may disclose against him, there still remains the fullness of his robust human sympathy and that mastery of genius which forever holds the mind even of children as that of Shakespeare's does.—Harper's Magazine.

DANGEROUS SENSE OF HUMOR.

Geo. C. Morton, a machinist residing on Russell street, has very sore ribs, and all because he laughed too heartily. He was thoroughly enjoying a joke played on a comrade with garden hose, and as he watched the sport from a window he laughed with great gusto, so much so that he was seized with pains and had to be helped to a seat. A medical man was called and found that he had fractured a rib and had torn away part of the lining about another rib.—Bermuda Royal Gazette.

THE RING ON THE STEM.

With the stem encircled with a gold ring, which must have been on all the while the fruit was growing from bloom to maturity, a bunch of grapes was discovered in Long Beach recently. Chas. Schwitzer, a peddler, was weighing some grapes for a customer when the glitter of an object in a cluster caught his attention. It was a gold bangle ring around the stem, midway in the bunch, and with grapes both above it and below it.

Bocker—Ability to ride Pegasus on a hard unequivocal trot for five miles.
