The song of the robin can again be heard, proclaiming the near approach of spring.

The near approach of spring should fill every person with an ambition to do something. What are your plans?

After all, life is about what we make it. Our harvest is largely of our own sowing. Those who sow wild oats reap a worthless harvest.

This is an age which believes that laws are made to be enforced. The age is past when men think laws are to be winked at when the officer thinks it more convenient not to enforce them. Any law which is not intended to be enforced should not be passed. If it can not be enforced, it should be repealed.

Harry Orchard, the famous confessor, will soon be put on trial for the crimes charged against him. After confessing to the committing of so many crimes, it would seem that a trial would surely result in his conviction. However, the verdict of an Idaho jury, like many other juries, is difficult to foresee.

As the sensational newspapers have failed to stir up a war between Japan and the United States, they are now busy proclaiming the certainty of war between Japan and China. Without some sensation to spring upon their readers, some of our yellow journals would be hard pressed for material to fill their columns.

Col. Bryan knows no such thing as favorite sons of other states. Secretary Taft told his leaders to make no contest in New York against Governor Hughes. "It is his state and he is entitled to the delegation." Bryan's followers did not say, "Let Johnson have Minnesota. It is his own state." It is all Bryan or nothing.

The day of reactionaries in American politics is past. The American people have sounded the command to forward march. We are moving on to better things, and the signs are propitious for the general welfare. The judgment of the people is sound when they understand a question, and they get results when they seek to do so.

Richardson County is being showered with political honors just now. With Norman Muslemann as alternate to the Republican National Convention at Chicago, John H. Morehead selected as delegate to the Democratic Convention at Denver, and A. J. Weaver as chairman of the Congressional Convention at Lincoln, Richardson County is coming to the front.

Since the recent order of the War department at Washington that each soldier shall be entitled to "one house-wife," it would seem that we may hear of many new enlistments. It is explained, however, that the house-wife is to consist of a neat little case containing thread, needles, buttons, and patches. It seems from the explanation that the boys still have to do their own patching and sewing on of their buttons.

Representative Lillard of Kentucky, one of the four democrats who voted for the election of Bradley, a republican, for United States Senator from that state, in a speech made in explanation of his vote, declared that he had voted the democratic ticket for 40 years, but he believed that his vote for Bradley was the best democratic vote he had ever cast. There will be many others who will think that the vote they cast for the republican candidates this fall, and against Mr. Brvan's dictation, is the best vote they ever cast.

QUERY FOR THE 8th GRADE.

If it costs $10 to become a Bryan volunteer, and Johnson should be nominated, how long would it take the said volunteers to pay off the national debt with corn at 50c per bushel. Just imagine the roar of a $10 Bryan volunteer in case Johnson is nominated.

One Thousand Class for Omaha

Sunday, May 31st, 1908, will be the Red Letter Day of Perfected Woodcraft at Omaha, when a class of 1000 candidates will be introduced into the mysteries of the Forest. The territory from which this class will be drawn consists of Omaha, South Omaha, Council Bluffs, eastern Nebraska and western Iowa.

The ritualistic services will be exemplified by the best talent selected from the teams of the cities surrounding Sovereign Camp quarters, and with all beautiful electrical effects, making a grand "Adoption Ceremony."

Every W. O. W. is asked to "Boost in earnest" for this special occasion, because the W.O.W. deserves it, being the giant among fraternal. The W.O.W. in all its branches numbers over 600,000 members with an Emergency fund of almost $8,000,000, erects a monument at each deceased member's grave costing $100, having erected almost 20,000 such monuments. The W. O. W. is a western institution. By joining this order you can keep your money at home, for which you can get the best, safest, substantial and cheap insurance. Our motto is, "Millions for protection." "Six Hundred Thousand Homes Perpetuated."

Transportation will be paid to Omaha and return to all applicants joining this class, who live outside of Omaha, South Omaha, and Council Bluffs. For further information address Philip Miller, manager, 407 W. O. W. bldg., Omaha, Neb., or phone Douglas 1117, or inquire of any member of the local camp, or O. P. Heck, Clerk, Falls City, Neb.

Another Correction.

In the last issue of the Tribune I corrected an error in the published report of the county board. I stated that the report should have read that Mr. Glasser received $290.05 instead of $415 (as published) for his services during the year 1907. This was the amount received by him up to the time the old board settled with the county officers, and does not include a claim of about $60 for services rendered during the fiscal year of 1907, and allowed him at the first meeting of the new board. Some have taken my statement to mean that Mr. Glasser received $290.05 for the entire year, hence this statement.

J. H. HUTCHINGS,
County Clerk.
