Elks' Minstrels.

Falls City theatre goers have often seen local talent productions, but the Minstrel show to be produced by the B. P. O. Elks of this city under the direction of the minstrel king, C. Geo. Nunn, will eclipse every thing of the past a hundred fold.

The scenery for the Minstrel scene is a $5,000 reproduction of Wm. K. Vanderbilt's corridors at "The Breakers." The costumes, beautiful variegated silks and satins, make a dazzling effect amid the Multi-Colored electrically lighted, first part setting.

The Circle will contain Falls City's picked male singers in Semi-Colonial costumes of magnificent hue. On two raised platforms one above the other, will sit 10 Madrigal Boy Sopranos in similar costumes, just visible through the rows of electric lights.

On the ends 6 satin bedecked black-faced Comedians will disport Crazyismus to the delight of their many friends.

Every song will be new, catchy and brilliant. Every joke absolutely new and from the time the curtain rises upon the corner's first call, to its drop 2 hours and 20 minutes later, you will not see one act or hear one song or joke that you have ever heard before.

New York, Boston and Philadelphia papers praise Mr. Nunn's acts in the highest terms and the Elks congratulate themselves on securing his services for this show.
