

HOT SPRINGS DOCTORS

Who They Are and What They Will Do. Here April 9, 10 and 11 At Union Hotel.

Since the announcement has been made in these columns that Dr. BEN W. KINSEY, chief of staff of the Hot Springs Doctors, who have their Nebraska State Institute permanently located at 14th and O streets, Lincoln, would pay a three days' visit to Falls City, the question has been many times asked, who are the Hot Springs Doctors and what do they do? The answer is, the Hot Springs Doctors are an association of medical specialists and diagnosticians who have made a close study of the human anatomy and who treat chronic diseases by the world famous Hot Springs system of home treatment. The Hot Springs Doctors have already established institutes in many of the larger cities of the United States, and these institutes are in charge of one or more of the Hot Springs Doctors. As stated above the Nebraska State Institute is located at 14th and O streets, Lincoln, and is in charge of Dr. Theo. Milton for thirty-two years, recognized by physicians and surgeons all over the country as a peer in the matter of medical diagnosis and treatment of chronic diseases. The object of establishing these institutes is to bring this wonderful Hot Springs system of treatment within the reach of all and especially those who cannot afford the time or money to go to Hot Springs, Arkansas, for treatment. This trip of Dr. Kinsey is merely for advertising purposes, that is, Dr. Kinsey is soliciting only difficult cases, cases that other doctors have failed to cure and have given up as hopeless, and in this way show what this wonderful Hot Springs system of home treatment will do. These few difficult cases that Dr. Kinsey secures and cures will be good advertisement and will give others who are suffering, confidence in the Hot Springs Doctors and these will not hesitate to go to Lincoln for treatment.

Of course, Dr. Kinsey does not claim he can cure all cases, but among the many supposedly incurable cases he will select many that he can cure. This Hot Springs system of home treatment is endorsed by the United States government, as is attested by the fact that the government owns Hot Springs, Ark., and has established its army and navy hospitals there, where soldiers and sailors are sent after all other methods have failed to cure.

The Hot Springs Doctors treat chronic diseases of the nerves, blood, skin, heart, lungs, kidneys, liver, bowels, stomach, including neuralgia, paralysis, rheumatism, catarrh, piles, rupture, goitre, gall stones, and diseases of women and diseases of men.

The Hot Springs system of home treatment is not only endorsed by the United States government but by the leading banks, business men, clergy and newspapers. The large daily newspapers of the country are continually publishing reports of the wonderful cures that have been made by the Hot Springs Doctors with their Hot Springs system of home treatment. A recent issue of the Lincoln Daily Star contained the following story of an almost miraculous cure made by these doctors at their Lincoln institute.

"After months of suffering with gall stones and many doctors had given her no relief, Mrs. E. W. Brinley started from her home in Arcadia, Nebr., to Kansas City to undergo an operation for her trouble. Stopping off in Lincoln for a few hours between trains, she was met by John Wall, a banker at Arcadia and ex-candidate for governor of Nebraska. Mr. Wall having been cured of an old chronic kidney trouble by the Hot Springs Doctors has more faith in Nature's never failing remedies as used by the Hot Springs Doctors than in the surgeon's knife. Mr. Wall was interested in saving Mrs. Brinley from the horrors of an operation, if it were possible to do so, and to this end persuaded her to consult the Hot Springs Doctors before continuing her trip to the hospital. The result of the consultation with the Hot Springs Doctors, she tells in the following letter:

Arcadia, Nebr., Jan. 18, '08. Hot Springs Doctors, Lincoln, Nebr.

Gentlemen:—I have taken your treatment for three months for the cure of gall stones and ask if you think it safe for me to quit taking medicine. I have gained six pounds and can do a day's hard work. My neighbors tell me that I look better and have better color than I have had for a long time. You have done me so much good that I know you will use your best judgment now. If you think I need more medicine do not let me stop too soon. What can you do for appendicitis as one of my neighbors has it? I thank you for what you have done for me and feel that you have saved my life after other surgical physicians said I would have to have an operation.

Mrs. W. E. Brinley. The Hot Springs Doctors are in receipt of thousands just such letters as Mrs. Brinley's and their honest dealing with their patients, and the fact that they absolutely refuse to accept an incurable case for treatment has won them a world-wide reputation. The following is an extract from an article published in the Nebraska State Journal of February 20th, 1908:

"For over six years I have been sick with liver trouble; I have had cramping spells over four years. The doctors called these cramps gall-stone colic and the only relief I could get was for the doctors to give me morphine to kill the pain and a big dose of physic. I have been treated by eight or ten different doctors, but I was gradually getting worse all the time.

"Last fall I was operated upon for appendicitis and for a time after the operation I felt better, and then I commenced to get worse and the doctors said I must have another operation to save my life. My skin was orange yellow and my kidneys passed blood, my bowels were in a terrible condition. I was afraid to have another operation, and on January 18, I went to the Hot Springs Doctors for treatment. They told me they could cure me without the knife and they have kept their word. In those three weeks time the Hot Springs Doctors had made a new man of me. I feel better than I have for years. My skin has cleared up, my cramps are all gone, my kidneys have cleared up and I am wonderfully improved in every way. I fully believe that I owe my life to the Hot Springs Doctors and cannot praise them too highly.

J. W. Lacey, Havelock, Nebr. You are cordially invited to investigate the above testimonials, and still if you are not satisfied you will be given hundreds of others, all of which you may investigate at your leisure. The Hot Springs Doctors do not claim to cure all cases, but their reputation for curing supposedly incurable cases is world-wide, as they refuse to accept an incurable case for treatment, their patients may be assured for a cure for their money. As stated above the Nebraska State Institute is located at 14th and O streets, Lincoln.

This wonderful Hot Springs system of home treatment is what Dr. Kinsey is bringing to Falls City. If you are sick and suffering and want to be made well and happy, do not fail to call on Dr. Kinsey when he arrives. Remember consultation and examination is free of charge and all curable cases will be treated free except for the cost of the medicines used. Remember the date and place, Union Hotel on April 9, 10 and 11, at Falls City, Nebr.

Man Fatally Burned. One of the saddest cases that has been reported to this office was that of Henry Ratliff, formerly of this county who was so severely burned in a prairie fire near his home in Logan county, Kansas, that the injuries proved fatal, he having died two days after the burns had rendered him unconscious some distance from his home. Mr. Ratliff had gone to the prairie fire to check its ravages and to keep it from burning on his land. As he was fighting the fire in some manner his clothing became ignited and soon he was enveloped in flames. There was no one near to whom he could call for aid, but he had to wrestle with the flames as best he could. His efforts to extinguish the blaze on his garments soon proved fruitless and he was rendered unconscious, having taken into his lungs the smoke and flames from his burning clothes. Thus he laid in an unconscious condition for five hours before he was discovered by some neighbors and taken to his home some distance away. It was seen that there was some sign of life left and gathering together every available aid the suffering was relieved as best it could be. Physicians and relatives watched over the suffering man for two days when a relapse came on and the injured man departed this life. Mr. Ratliff will be remembered in this county, having lived on the Muddy for several years, and later having resided in Auburn. He was interested in the German American Mill, which stood for so long in the south part of the city of Auburn. From Nemaha county Mr. Ratliff went to Diller, Neb., living there only a short time, after which he went to Emporia, Kansas, and thence to Logan county, where he has resided for the past few years. Seven children together with the estimable wife are left to mourn the loss of their beloved husband and father, besides several relatives in this county. Funeral services were held on Wednesday after which the body was interred in Logan county. The bereaved wife and children have the sympathy of a large circle of friends in this county. —Auburn Herald.

Intemperance cuts down youth in its vigor, manhood in its strength, and age in its weakness. It breaks the father's heart, bereaves the dotting mother, extinguishes natural affection, erases conjugal love, blots out filial attachment, blights parental hope, and brings down mourning age in sorrow to the grave. It produces weakness, not strength; sickness, not health; death, not life. It makes wives widows, children orphans, fathers fiends, and all of them paupers and beggars. It feeds rheumatism, nurses gout, welcomes epidemics, invites cholera, imparts pestilence and embraces consumption. It covers the land with poverty, idleness, disease and crime. It fills your jails, supplies almshouses and demands your asylums. It engenders controversies, fosters quarrels and cherishes riots. It crowds your penitentiaries and furnishes victims for your scaffolds. It is the life-blood of the gambler, the aliment of the burglar, the prop of the highwayman, and the support of the midnight incendiary. It countenances the liar, respects the thief, and esteems the blasphemer. It violates obligation, reverences fraud and honors infamy. It defames benevolence, hates love, scoras virtue, and slanders innocence. It lacerates the father to butcher his helpless offspring; helps the husband to massacre his wife, and aids the child to grind the parricidal axe. It burns up man and consumes woman, detests life, curses God and despises heaven.

It suborns witnesses, nurses perjury, defiles the jury box, and stains the judicial ermine. It bribes voters, disqualifies voters, corrupts elections, pollutes our institutions and endangers our government. It degrades the citizen, debases the legislature, dishonors the statesman, disarms the patriot. It brings shame, not honor; terror, not safety; despair, not hope; misery, not happiness; and with the malvolence of a fiend it calmly surveys its frightful desolation, and unsatiated with havoc, it poisons felicity, kills peace, ruins morals, blights confidence, slays reputation and wipes out national honor, then curses the world and laughs at its ruin. It does all that and more. It is the sum of all villainies, the father of all crime, the mother of all abominations, the devil's best friend and God's worst enemy.—Ex.

Cleanliness. I'd rather be clean than holy, because to be clean is to be holy and holiness never fellowships with filth. Intelligence! I know people who never take a bath in the winter time. Tommy, who comes home from school where he has been taught the use of the bath and toothbrush wants immediately to get into a tub of water, but is in horror warned that such a proceeding would mean his taking "his death 'o cold." In building a home the first rooms to be thought of is bath rooms, open air sleeping rooms and library. Children must be taught the truth regarding the use of food, pure air and cleanliness and by examples set by grown-ups, this truth must be put on and worn every day and night. This truth is a bedrock, the only one upon which we may build a permanent, safe and sane civilization. This truth is intelligence and intelligence embraces morality and pure religion as distinguished from dogma—and when men learn how to live and then live it, Eutopia will be here.—Nemaha County Teacher.

Unsettled Question. There is but one serious cause for doubt of the wisdom of the changes in the Sherman law recommended by the president and the national conference on trusts and combinations. The recommendations are made on the assumption that combinations are a natural result of modern industrial methods, and that they should not be opposed as such, but only in case they prove to be harmful in their intentions and results. Nobody should want to penalize progress. But how do we know for sure that under natural conditions there would be combinations great enough to cause any trouble or to require any other regulation than the regulations afforded by full and fair competition? None of the combinations that we now suffer from seem to have been natural growths, but rather the products of graft, or of some sort of monopoly advantage over competitors given by legislation. With most it was rebates, with some patents, with others monopoly of natural resources that should be held for the benefit of all the people, as in the case of some kinds of lumber, and the present practical monopoly of the iron and coal deposits by combinations. Until these special advantages granted by society have been withdrawn how can we prove that the trusts are natural growths, that they are here to stay, and that our task is to regulate them and not to oppose them.—Ex.
