Mrs. A. Shubert, while on her way to lodge Wednesday evening met with an accident which might have proved fatal. She had reached the crossing by Riggs & Lewis' store, when a Stella livery team which had been tied to the hitching rack, broke loose and ran over her, breaking one of her ankles and cutting quite a gash in her forehead above her left eye besides many other bruises, but it is now thought that she will fully recover.

Tired nerves with that "no ambition" feeling that is commonly felt in spring or early summer can be easily and quickly altered by taking what is known to druggists everywhere as Dr. Shoop's Restorative. One will absolutely note a changed feeling within 48 hours after beginning to take the Restorative. The bowels get sluggish in the winter, the circulation often slows up, the kidneys are inactive and even the heart in many cases grows decidedly weaker. Dr. Shoop's Restorative is recognized everywhere as a genuine tonic to these vital organs, it builds up and strengthens the worn-out weakened nerves; it sharpens the falling appetite and universally aids digestion; it always quickly brings renewed strength, life, vigor and ambition. Try it and be convinced. Sold by all dealers.

Hurst Re-elected.

Prof. E. K. Hurst, who was formerly principal of the Athens school in this city, and is well and favorably known throughout this section of the state, was recently elected principal of the Falls City High school, where he has been teaching for the past year, at a very substantial raise in salary. Mr. Hurst has "made good" in our neighboring city as he did while here and deserves the honor which is his in being re-elected to this responsible position. He has not definitely accepted the offer as yet.—Auburn Herald.

Campbell's varnish stains are the original and only real varnish stains ever offered to housekeepers, they work like colored varnish producing beautiful effects without obscuring the grain of natural woods. Morsman Drug Company sells this line.

To Study Cherry Pest.

Washington, April 27.—For years past orchardists in Nebraska have suffered heavy losses annually from what is known as "shot-hole" disease of the cherry. Thousands of trees have been denuded of their foliage in a season and killed by this pest. For some time past Congressman Pollard has been working to get the department of agriculture to co-operate with the Nebraska state experiment station in finding ways and means for relief in the way of experiments toward eradicating the disease. With the understanding that the state experiment station will not be able to take up an extensive work along this line during the coming summer the bureau of plant industry of the agricultural department has decided to investigate the subject independently. Mr. Scott, an expert will be sent out during the coming season and make a study of diseased cherry trees in various parts of the state. The particular localities to be visited will, in probability, be designated by the officials of the experiment station. If it is possible the expert will also carry on a series of spraying tests.

Horse Traders Create Disturbance

On Monday afternoon the village of DuBois was the scene of quite a shooting scrape, which luckily did not result seriously.

A couple of horse traders created a disturbance by racing in the streets, and when warned by Marshal Joe Goslen one of them became abusive and the marshal took him in tow. Then the other whipped out a revolver of large caliber, and after beating the marshal over the head with it several times, he shot off the weapon at close range, narrowly missing Mr. Goslen, who was taking his prisoner to the city jail.

The man who did the shooting then jumped into a rig and drove rapidly out of town, going in a northerly direction. A posse was soon in pursuit and coming within range of the fleeing man opened fire, whereupon he threw up his hands and gave himself up.

The pair were given hearings before Judge Lore and were found guilty, being assessed fines of $10 and $50 respectively, they paid and were released.

Mr. Goslen's injuries were simply scalp wounds and he suffered little inconvenience from them, and it is thought the pistol shot fired by the ruffian was for the purpose of searing the marshal into releasing his prisoners.—Pawnee Chief.

To Meet Ship Growth.
New York, April 27.—Entire rearrangement of the four hundred and fifty miles of improved water front in this harbor is to follow the building of the superstructure and concourse on the new Chelsea piers which today has been begun by the city. Into the most dense mile of trans-Atlantic wharfage in the world, between Christopher and West 23rd streets, more of the big liners than dock in the whole of any other port have already arranged to warp. Plans to fill the old berths of the ocean grey-bounds further down the island are this week being made by a host of coast and gulf lines that now lie scattered off other points. Every foot of other available dock room in this port is engaged for years after the opening of the new piers, shipping authorities declared today, and soon steps are to be taken to eventually improve the entire eight hundred miles of harbor shore which is available for wharfage here.

Although London possesses less than half, and Liverpool, Hamburg, Rotterdam and Havre each less than a quarter of New York's present docking frontage, this Chelsea district is to be the most congested shipping mile in the world, according to figures obtained by the American Seamen's Friend Society today. Within sight of the large home for seamen which the society is now putting up in the center of this stretch, 7,500 sailors will be constantly arriving when the building is completed. Fully 500,000 merchant seamen have entered the port within the past year, the records show, and many thousands of them swarm about this section every day.

Like a great modern hotel the new headquarters for Jack-shore is today rising in the midst of this shore that bristles with the tallest masts in the world. Private bedrooms for some two hundred sailors, club rooms for hundreds more, separate quarters for officers, stewards and engineers, billiards, bowling, showers and swimming pools are some of the things which will be set before the sailor host that presses about the quarter. An honest "shop-shop"—the seaman's department store—a shipping bureau, a bank and a modern restaurant are to be other features of this sailors' caravanserai, which will cost $325,000. Thousands of crimps, steersmen, and boarding house runners lie in wait at just this vantage point of the Chelsea district for the paid-off sailors who swarm ashore, and it is the idea of the American Seamen's Friend Society to make their big building a timely point of refuge.

"New York is the third largest port in the world with the largest vessels and the most sailors in the world coming into this section," said George McPherson Hunter, secretary of the society today. "Now it is, I hope, going to have the best facilities for looking out for the men who move this tremendous merchant fleet direct to and from 225 other ports. Our home and institute is to be a means of practical good to the greatest host of idle sailors that set foot on any one bit of shore. We have some $250,000 toward its erection already and hope soon to complete it with the $75,000 more which is needed. As a headquarters for good to the sailor, our new institute in the Chelsea section will reach to every shore on the globe."

Captured Eight Wolves.

While plowing for corn one day last week Jerry Morris, who lives south of this city in the vicinity of Stella, found a den of eight young wolves in a hedge near where he was at work. He captured the young wild canines and killed them, the mother not being around to protect her young. Mr. Morris took the wolves to Falls City, where he expected to get the bounty of $3 per head.—Auburn Herald.
