Hughes and the Vice-Presidency.

Governor Hughes of New York has declared that he can not and will not accept the nomination for vice-president upon the republican ticket. The governor has a faculty of saying what he means and he usually means what he says.

A timely question is: who will we have for vice-president?

May corn sells at 79c. per bushel at Chicago. It is not yet reported whether Mr. Bryan sees any tendency between corn and silver to go up and down together in the markets of the world as he said of wheat and silver in 1896.

With Dahlman, Berge, and Shellenbarger as aspirants for the democratic nomination for governor this fall, it would indicate that they consider it an honor to be beaten by Governor Sheldon.

A number of our doctors have recently declared it to be their opinion that Harry K. Thaw is insane; and that it would be dangerous to public safety to have him go at large.

Some man in Nemaha county is reported as having said that there will not be one bushel of apples to the acre in his orchard, which consists of many acres.

The report comes from the state of Washington that the democrats of that state have split on the liquor question. This is surprising, as it is well known that the democrats of Nebraska are in clover when it comes to the liquor question.

Bert Taylor, the Minden murderer, is reported to be in Oklahoma. Unless he can be captured by the authorities and brought back to the scene of his crime to pay the penalty of the law, Nebraska will have no objection to his adopting Oklahoma as his future home.

The State Journal is beginning to show signs of taking a side in the discussion of the great party questions. The complaint had become quite common that the paper which at one time had been considered the best and truest party organ of the state was trying to humor both sides.

Common View of the Secretary.

"Mr. Taft seems to have a way of attending to big affairs without brass band accompaniment. He has visited Panama, settled troubles, inspected the work, placed a few charges of dynamite under it where it will do the most good—and now he is homeward bound, loaded with campaign speeches and a report for the president."—St. Louis Times (dem).

These are the views of a democratic paper and quite similar to the view of the public generally regarding the next republican candidate for president. The Secretary has been too busy a man to waste much of his time making public speeches or criticizing the party in power.

There may be nothing in a name, but Mrs. Guinness was a very proficient hand with a gun, or with some death-dealing instrument. Her record of crime is so astounding that it seems too cruel to be human.
